Traffic Deaths Are 30,800 for First 10 Months

CHICAGO (AP)— The nation's traffic deaths in the first 10 months of this year—30,800—were 2 per cent lower than for a comparable period in 1960, the National Safety Council said today.

The NSC said this year's toll, with an estimated 2 per cent rise in travel, compared with 31,270 for the corresponding period in 1960. The October toll of 3,690 was the same recorded for the month a year ago, the council said.

The mileage death rate for the 10-month period was 5.1—per 100 million vehicle miles—compared with 5.2 for the same period in both 1959 and 1960, the NSC said.

Red Spread Blamed on State Dept.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. J. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., says communism is advancing throughout the world because of what he terms "policies of paralysis" of the U.S. State Department.

Speaking to the First Congregation Church's Freedom Club, the senator Thursday night characterized the State Department as espousing the view, as he put it, "that we should not have won in Korea."

"We should have won in Korea," Thurmond told an estimated 1,000 persons at the Hollywood Palladium. "If we had, we would not be facing the big Communist menace today."

Points to Moscow

Thurmond, 1948 presidential candidate of the States' Rights party, told an anti-Communist rally Wednesday that the U.S. military now is a primary target in the Communist propaganda offensive. He declared it was determined at Moscow meeting nearly a year ago that something had to be done to stop anti-Communist talks by American military leaders.

The senator was quoted earlier as saying that muzzling of the American military took place on orders "direct from Moscow." But a tape recording of the senator's remarks showed this to be a misquotation.

The senator said a 1958 Defense Department directive — since countermanded — asked military leaders to conduct seminars on the dangers of communism.

He said the reason for this request was that "the military people are supposed to know the enemy. . .and they do know the enemy better than any other segment of our population.

Explains What Happened

"But what happened?

"There was a meeting in Moscow last December at which it was determined something had to be done to stop it.

"Who was doing the most devilment to the Communists? Who was doing the most harm to the Communists?

"It must have been the military. For Mr. Gus Hall, an official of the Communist party and a writer for the 'Worker,' an organ of the Communist party, came out and made this statement: He said a primary target was the military and its anti-Communist statements and seminars.

Survey Is Begun on Shelters

Firms Will Check Available Sites

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon civil defense chief, announcing the start of a nationwide fallout shelter survey, said today he is "a little appalled" at charges of confusion and lack of leadership.

Steuart L. Pittman, assistant secretary of defense for civil defense, told a news conference that after President Kennedy "led the country into a concern" about civil defense last spring, it took months to get the money, the planning and the organization.

Disputes Scientists

At the same time, Pittman disputed contentions by some scientists that fallout shelters would only delay death from radiation.

"We don't agree with this finding," Pittman said. He added that "the best evidence we have" is that delayed fallout coming to earth long after an atomic attack would not begin to compare with the immediate hazard from effects of a nuclear blast.

The news conference was called to announce the awarding of contracts to architect-engineer firms in all 50 states to mark and identify above ground and below ground space to provide protection for 50 million persons.

$93 Million Provided

The civil defense agency has conducted several pilot surveys in White Plains, N.Y., Baltimore, Washington, D.C., and Houston, Tex. It also has trained some 1,200 specialists in the technique of surveying for this special purpose.

With $93 million provided by Congress for this, the firms will check all buildings, mines, tunnels and other structures that may provide shelter against fallout for at least 50 persons each.

July Date Target

With the help of electronic computer equipment, the civil defense agency said it hopes to have the survey program finished by next July, about six months ahead of schedule.

Pittman said that by the end of this month about 700 survey contracts will have been awarded and teams started on the first phase of the program.

The civil defense planners are looking to the use of schools as key refugee centers in the event of a nuclear attack at night. They say schools are often the only suitable structures for this purpose in residential areas.

Red China Seat Is Discussed

Soviets to Appeal For Chiang Ouster

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The question of seating Communist China in the United Nations comes up for decisive debate in the General Assembly today. The United States has scrapped a plan to delay a showdown vote for another year but believes it can still keep the Peiping regime out of the world body.

The exilosive debate, which the United States managed to postpone for 10 years, opens with an appeal by the Soviet Union to seat Peiping in place of Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalists and a call by the United States to keep the Communists out.

To Meet Demand Headon

The United States and other supporters of the Nationalists decided to meet the Soviet demand headon after getting a cool reception from most other members for their proposal to dump the question back to the next assembly.

A U.S. spokesman said instead a resolution was being placed before the 100-nation assembly to declare the China question an issue of "substance" which will haveto be settled by a two-thirds majority.

U.S. delegates believe the Communists will be unable to muster such a vote behind the Red Chinese, even with heavy support from the 49-nation Asian-African group.

The U.S. spokesman said he had a "fairly reasonable expectation" that the Nationalist Chinese would still have their seats at the end of the assembly debate.

INSTEAD OF A WALL — The West Berlin Senate is installing the usual Christmas trees along the East-West Berlin border. Here, West Berlin workers raise a tree near checkpoint "Charlie."

Vehicles' Inspection Tightened

No Attempt Made To Halt Convoys

BERLI N(AP)—More American military units rolled over Berlin's autobahn lifeline to the West today in defiance of a Soviet warning that such troop movements could lead to "dangerous consequences."

The Soviets, who control the 110-line superhighway through Communist East Germany, tightened their inspection of U.S. convoys but made no attempt to stop them.

Six Vehicles Halted

Six vehicles forming the last section of a U.S. convoy which set out for West Germany this morning were halted at the Soviet checkpoint outside West Berlin when the Soviets found an error in their travel documents.

The U. S. autobahn operations officer, Capt. Harry Daniels, was called to straighten out their papers and the three jeeps and three trucks were allowed to go on after an hour and 14 minutes.

The documentation error was believed to be technical and apparently it was cleared up without a dispute.

The first two sections of the 150-may convoy passed through the checkpoint without incident.

Usually Routine Checks

Normally the Soviet guards make only a routine count of the men and vehicles described in the travel papers handed them, taking only 20 to 25 minutes.

The U.S. Army has been shuttling 150-man units from West Germany to West Berlin, and from West Berlin to West Germany, for brief training periods since soon after the crisis created by the Communist wall dividing Berlin.

The U.S. Army says the rotation is necessary because West Berlin is too cramped for extensive training maneuvers and troops in West Germany need experience under Berlin conditions. But the traffic is generally considered a demonstration of U.S. determination to maintain its rights on the autobahn.

More Movements Due

In the first Soviet protest against the traffic, the Soviet news agency Tass spoke of the "provocative character of this action." It charged that since U.S. troops in West Germany serve the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, their maneuvering in West Berlin "means the inclusion of West Berlin in the aggressive military bloc of NATO."

Meanwhile, U.S. Army headquarters for Europe announced more movements will be made. It said the 1,500-man 1st Battle Group, 19th Infantry, 24th Division will soon move into Berlin from West Germany to replace the 1st Battle Group, 18th Infantry 8th Division.

Dominican Crisis Deepens

Foes Defying Balaguer Order to Halt Strike

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The government crisis deepened in this strife-torn country today with the major political opposition group openly defying a military summons to end a four-day general strike.

Headquarters of the National Civic Union said sentiment throughout the country was for continuing the strike.

Some Shops Open

A few shops did reopen in Santo Domingo. Traffic was half normal.

The party decided to continue the strike after rejecting a military proposal to keep President Joaquin Balaguer in office as head of a seven-man ruling junta. The armed forces would have virtually complete power under the proposal.

Troops, Mob Clash

Heavily armed troops and screaming mobs clashed in Santo Domingo Thursday—the third and worst day so far of the general strike — and machine-gun fire killed one youth. A report from Santiago said noise bombs burned 20 women about the legs.

The antigovernment demonstrations included a march on the National Palace in response to false reports that Balaguer had resigned. Troops forced back the angry crowd with tear gas and detonation bombs.

Quiet returned to the capital at dusk as troop patrols enforced the nightly curfew.

The Civic Union, in what it called its final proposal, demanded Thursday that Balaguer step aside for a provisional governing council of five or seven members —excluding Balaguer—who would elect a chairman by simple majority.

Power for Junta

The military plan proposed that all legislative powers be vested in the ruling junta until general elections within two years, that Congress (largely made up of mem-

Communists Fail To Sign, Party To Be 1st Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officers of the Communist party in the United States have failed to meet the deadline for registering under the Internal Security Act.

This left to the Justice Department the next move in the drawn-out war of nerves between the party and the government.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said earlier this week that the department "will enforce the law."

Individuals Due 20th

Last Nov. 20, when the party itself defied a deadline for registering, a department spokesman said officials planned to wait at least until after the time had expired for officers to register before taking action.

That deadline passed at midnight Thursday night. Individual

New Trials for 3 Newburgh Men

Search, Seizure Rule May Upset Convictions

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A unanimous ruling by the state's highest court could lead to the reversal of many criminal convictions in which the state presented evidence obtained in violation of the U.S. Constitution.

The Court of Appeals also reversed Thursday the first-degree murder convictions of threee Newburgh men and upheld a lower court decision that the widow of orchestra leader Glenn Miller had no property rights in a style of music called "the Glenn Miller sound."

Other Decisions

In other decisions, the court held, 6-1, that a 5-year-old child born out of wedlock to a 14-year-old girl should not be returned to its natural mother, and suggested the reopening of a 1943 case in which a 13-year-old boy was sentenced to 30 years to life in prison for murder.

A U.S. Supreme Court decision of last June 19, that ruled inadmissable in state courts evidence obtained by search and seizure in violation of the 14th amendment of the U.S. Constitution, was cited by the Court of Appeals.

The state court said the precedent would apply in all trials since June 19 and in pending appeals of convictions handed down before that date. It will not apply to convictions prior to June 19 in which appeals are not now pending before the state's highest court.

May Reverse Many

The court cited the new rule in reversing the conviction of Anthony Loria of New York City on a charge of unlawful possession of heroin with the intent to sell it. A new trial was ordered for Loria.

Police had no search warrant, the court said, when they threatened to kick in the door of an apartment and later seized three pounds of heroin that was used as evidence against Loria.

New Trials Ordered

Geneva Plant Is Staying, Union Votes Pay Slice

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) —This Finger Lakes city stood assured today that its biggest plant would remain open, because union machinists voted to accept a 25-cent-an-hour cut in pay instead of a scheduled 12-cent increase.

Plant Employs 500

Without instructions from union officials, the production and maintenance workers at the Geneva Machine Shop of the American Can Co. approved the wage decrease Thursday. The plant employs 500 in this city of 18,000.

The tally of votes was not revealed. The workers are members of Lodge 1838, International Association of Machinists.

The pay cut will be in two steps next year, the final year of a three-year contract, in which the 12-cent increase was scheduled.

An announcement by the company Tuesday that the plant would close if the pay cut were refused was a grim Christmas season note. One plant already has closed this year, and another may do so shortly.

18 Tons of Stone Spill in Mishap, Abeel St. Blocked

A tractor-trailer mishap resulting of a front-tire blowout on Abeel Street Thursday afternoon resulted in a traffic tieup but no injury.

A report this morning said a parked car was damaged by a hit-and-run driver on Washington Avenue.

Police said a tractor, owned and operated by Anthony Salvatore, 53, of Route 3, Box 401-A, Saugerties, hauling several tons of stone, in a trailer, blew a left front tire.

The driver could not hold to the road, police said, and the trailer truck, headed east on Abeel Street, swerved into an embankment and overturned near the city-Eddyville boundary line dumping some of its 18 tons of stone. The trailer was damaged on its right side.

Public works department trucks and men were dispatched to the scene to assist in clearing the road. Traffic was reported blocked for more than two hours.

Officers Robert Bonesteel, Raymond Wells, George Deyo, Louis Sapp and Thomas Coffey were dispatched to handle traffic in the area.

Police headquarters was notified this morning that the car of Moe Solomon, of 167 Washington Avenue, was struck and damaged as it was parked near that address, and its driver failed to stop. It was hit on the left side and a fender, bumper and tail light were damaged, the report said.

Liberty Accident Injures Three, Two Face Charges

Three persons, including a state trooper, were injured, a truck driver was charged with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving and the owner of an illegally parked vehicle was summoned into court as the aftermath of a late afternoon accident in Liberty on Thursday.

According to Trooper Richard Rauch of Accord, assigned to the Ferndale Barracks in Liberty, the accident occurred about 4:55 p. m. on hilly Buckley Street, near the intersection of Lincoln Place, in the village. The primary cause, he said, was an illegally parked car. Rauch said he pulled up near the curb by a vehicle parked the wrong way on Buckley Street to let traffic

$60,000 Verdict Won by Woman Of Ulster Park

Mrs. Rose Tsitsera, 69-year-old Ulster Park widow, was awarded a $60,000 verdict against the Erie Railroad Company in Orange County Supreme Court Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Tsitsera, a passenger in a Short Line bus in March 1958, suffered a broken leg when the bus skidded on a snowy roadway on Route 17 south of Tuxedo Park. A parked truck of the Erie Railroad was allegedly parked on the wrong side of the highway.

The verdict, which was reached after one mis-trial, was against the Railroad and William D. Snider the driver of the railroad truck. Justice John P. Donahue presided. Schick and Klein of Kingston appeared for plaintiff Tsitsera.

The case was started November 6 and after three days a mistrial was directed because of remarks made during opening of the case. The trial was resumed on November 13 and the verdict was returned Wednesday.

Plaintiff alleged that the truck of the railroad was parked on the wrong side of the highway close to a curve in the road while workmen were engaged nearby.

Testimony at the trial indicated the roadway was slippery from snow and that prior to the accident involving the bus, the railroad truck and another vehicle had been in an accident near the scene of the bus accident. The truck had been moved from the area for a time and then returned to the site and parked along the highway, close to a curve.

It was alleged the driver of the bus came around the curve, observed the scene of the former accident and in an attempt to pass pulled to the left. His bus skidded and ran head-on into a

The Zeus' main propulsion system—solid fuel booster and sustainer rocket motors—has been successfully fired many times.

ExchangeTeacher To Visit School

Miss Florence Sterling of Rangoon, Burma will be a visitor in Saugerties High School for two weeks in late January and early February.

Miss Sterling is a teacher of English in the State High School, Yegaw, Burma, and is in the United States as an exchange teacher under the International Teacher Development Program sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education.

While in Saugerties, Miss Sterling will live in the home of Mrs. Elsie Ketelaar. Mrs. Ketelaar is a member of the high school English staff.

A committee of teachers composed of Miss Frances Larned, Mrs. Lynnette Flewelling, Miss Agnes Sheff, and Mrs. Ketelaar will help Miss Sterling arrange her stay so that she may observe classes, address student groups, and participate in community activities.

Miss Sterling is a graduate of the University of Rangoon and is an experienced teacher. She is at present senior assistant teacher in the State High School in Yegyaw and teaches English 15 hours a week.

Physical Fitness Is Stressed by School

The faculty and administration of the Saugerties Central Schools are making an extra effort this year to encourage every boy and girl in school to take note of his physical condition and strive to make himself as good a physical specimen as possible.

Several studies made in the United States have made the claim that American youth is physically soft. The President's Council on Youth Fitness has recommended the administering of physical fitness tests to the young people in the schools. Such tests have been administered with particular emphasis on pupils in the 4th through the 12th grades.

Letters are being sent home to parents urging them to cooperate in encouraging their boys and girls to edvote approximately 15 minutes per day to physical exercise. Specific recommendations have been made to the boys and girls by the members of the physical education staff as to the nature of the exercise. Tests will be administered to all pupils again in the spring to give pupils the satisfaction of knowing whether they have improved their physical fitness.

The length of time spent in physical education classes within the school hours is not great enough to enable the pupil to do the whole job within the school day. Parents are encouraged by the local school staff to talk with their boys and girls about what they are doing in this important area, and, if the parents are not certain about what should be done, they may confer with members of the physical education staff.

The group was accompanied by the teachers of the classes, Grace Snyder, Annie Anderson, John Vicoli and Mrs. Richard Wasserbach and Mrs. Donald Leard of the Main Street Parents' Group.

Pupils making the trip were Leo Boice, George Brough, Mark Carney, Keith Helsmoortel, Charles Personeus, Albert Scott, Wayne Snyder, John Walsh, Eileen Clement, Danielle Markle, Betty Personeus, Carol Personeus, Carolyn Storms, Betsy Van Valkenburgh, Edward Brough, Herbert Carr, Robert Carr, William Cooper, Robert Hildenbrand, Tomas Kelly, Robert Stine, Thomas Storms, Christine Carr, Karen Cooper, Milagros Irizarry, Rose Oakley, Debra Rose, Margaret Story, Susan Venett, John Musan, Donald Newkirk, Preston Tonnesen, David Valk, Joseph Valk, Sharon Holland, Barbara Lane, Patricia Oakley, Agnes Schaffer, Diane Wood.

Girls Club Activities

The Girls Community Club of Saugerties through its annual sale of household items has raised funds to cover the cost of outfitting six needy girls of the community, and they extend their appreciation to all who contributed to their recent telephone campaign.

The girls will be honored guests at the club's Christmas party to be held at the Katsbaan Inn Sunday, Dec. 10, at 7 p. m. All honorary members and active members may attend. Reservations may be made immediately by calling Mrs. John Carnright.

School Lunch Program

Following are some facts about the hot lunch program in the Saugerties Central Schools: Four cafeterias are maintained —one in each of the three major elementary buildings and one in the high school. Seventeen full-time and seven part-time workers are employed in the cafeterias.

The dinner Tuesday, Nov. 21, was served to 1,652 people. Forty-four turkeys were consumed; also, 162 dozen rolls, 37 pounds of butter, 2,167 ½-pints of milk, 550 pounds of potatoes.

Half-time sessions in the fifth and sixth grades and the ungraded classes have materially reduced the participation this year in the school lunch program.

Practical Nurses Assn. Advises on Checking License

A warning to the public to guard against employment of women who call themselves "practical nurses" but are not licensed by the State Education Department has been sounded by Licensed Practical Nurses of New York State and it is a misdemeanor for anyone to practice nursing who is not legally permitted to do so," is was pointed out by Mrs. Rhoda E. Beswick of Niagara Falls, president of the state association, in a statement issued from its headquarters in New York City.

"An increasing number of cases have been called to our attention," said Mrs. Beswick, "where the families of patients had employed socalled practical nurses who were not licensed and had not passed the examination required by the State Board of Examiners of Nurses.

"There are more than 32,000 licensed practical nurses in New York State, and each of them proudly carries a license from the State Education Department. Employers should ask to see his document."

Licensed Practical Nurses of New York, Inc., which has 39 County Divisions throughout the state, strives to improve the standards of practice in its field; provides an opportunity for group insurance and other benefits to its members; offers refresher courses at nominal fees; and serves as a clearing house of information.

Inquire concerning activities of the organization or the qualifications for membership should be addressed to Mrs. Christine B. Quell, executive secretary, Licensed Practical Nurses of New York, Inc., 250 West 57th Street, New York 19, N. Y.

Area Postmaster Lists Retirement After 25 Years

Miss Sarah C. Lounsbery, who has served as postmaster at Stone Ridge for over a quarter of a century, retired from that position Thursday. Mrs. Anna A. Hoffman, who has served under Miss Lounsbery as clerk, today became acting postmaster of the village.

The appointment of Miss Lounsbery on May 24, 1935, under the administration of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, came about indirectly through a friendship which had existed between Miss Lounsbery and Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of President Roosevelt. Prior to being named postmaster at Stone Ridge, Miss Lounsbery owned and conducted the Sally Tock Inn. Mrs. Roosevelt was a frequent visitor at the inn where she was served at tea by Miss Lounsberry.

That friendship was recalled by Mrs. James Roosevelt when Postmaster Frank Davis retired and it is reported it was this friendship which caused Mrs. James Roosevelt to request her son, President Roosevelt to have Miss Lounsbery named to fill the position of postmaster at Stone Ridge.

Miss Lounsbery Thursday afternoon stated that she had no particular plans for the future, other than to enjoy her retirement at her home in Stone Ridge.

The former Sally Tock Inn, which Miss Lounsbery conducted, was later bought by Mrs. E. C. Chadbourne as a residence.

Faster Yule Mail

WASHINGTON (AP)—The postman may ring only once a day during the Christmas rush, but the Post Office Department says delivery should be at least as fast as in the past and less costly.

The key to the new mail scheme, a department spokesman said Thursday, is using the regular carrier to break up a route, to help assign temporary extra carriers to the fragments and to "case" or sort the mail.

Kiwanis Is Given Talk by Yallum On City Planning

A history of the city Planning Board, a synopsis of the Comprehensive Master Plan for Kingston, and an endeavor towards "planting a seed of awareness of necessity of planning," were presented to the Kingston Kiwanis Club members Thursday by Elmore Yallum, chairman of the city Planning Board.

The idea of city planning goes back 3,000 years, according to Chairman Yallum—to the time of the prophet Ezekial who suggested a plan for the city of Jerusalem. "The City of Kingston, 300 years old, has outgrown its original stakeout," said Yallum, who pointed out "that seven square miles of dwellings and industry gives a picture of permanence."

Slower Since 1900

According to the planning board chairman the growth of Kingston's population has been slower since 1900, that a survey shows the 20 to 34 age group leaving Kingston for better jobs and better living, that in the past 10 years employment has decreased 8 per cent, that business in the area has declined 6 per cent, that local businesses are getting only a 50 per cent share of the market instead of the potential 70 to 80 per cent, that dwellings are deteriorating, and that the city is "actually regressing." By these revelations, Yallum stated he intended "planting a seed of awareness of the necessity of planning."

Hundreds of citizens have contributed effort to the compilation of a comprehensive master plan over the past 13 years, said Yallum. The idea of the plan was to present an "orderly growth and development of the city." This plan contains an analysis of the land use, population, housing in the city, economic base of Kingston in labor, trade, and manufacturing — "a sound collection of facts for a basis of comprehensive planning," said Yallum.

Three essential factors in a comprehensive plan were next projected by the speaker. These were land development controls, supported thus far by zoning ordinances and housing codes, urban renewal program, designed to eliminate slums and which is now in its initial stage, and city financial structure, which involves a capital improvement program of long range consideration.

"The point of departure for a city master plan is here," said Yallum. "This will allow us to step into the future soundly, and we will need citizens working on several committees to take sections of this plan for study and suggestions," he concluded.

Defends 'Griping'

DETROIT (AP) — "Soldiers have an inherent right to gripe," Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, said Thursday night.

Hershey said at a press conference that "if any Army unit ever did anything without griping they'd either be lying or mutes."

Hershey, in commenting on complaints by National Guardsmen and reservists about conditions at Ft. Lewis, Wash., said "but you can make too much noise. These men have been getting one day's pay for two hour's work each week and the federal government has a right to expect them to show up when it needs them."

But Have a Happy Anyway

Pennsylvania Gives List of 'Hints' for Yuletide Revelers

HARRISBURG (AP) —The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania issued these happy holiday hints Thursday.

Any merchandiser who neglects to collect the state's 4 per cent sales tax on Christmas trees is in trouble.

Bars and clubs must remain closed on Christmas and New Year's Eves.

Revenue Secretary Charles M. Dougherty warned that state investigators will be among the yuletide throngs, watching for sales tax violations.

The Liquor Board said there is no way of getting around the law to allow pubs to stay open on the two festive eves because both come on Sunday. State law is explicit that institutions dispensing alcoholic beverages remain closed on the Sabbath. The only exceptions are Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, where hotel bars may stay open until 10 p.m.

Jobless Is Off To '61 Lowest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of industrial centers with substantial joblessness dipped to the lowest level of the year last month, the Labor Department announced today.

The number of cities and metropolitan areas having substantial unemployment—upward of 6 per cent of the labor force—declined to 60 in November, the department's monthly survey showed.

This was eight fewer than in October, and 41 below the all-time high of 101 reported in March and April when the recession had its heaviest impact on employment.

Nine of the 150 major areas were reclassified in November, all to ratings indicating less unemployment and improved job opportunities.

The department noted that this contrasted sharply with November 1960, when there were 19 major area changes in classification, all of them indicating greater unemployment.

Tokyo Data Gave No Evidence of Amelia's Landing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An official report from the Japanese government gave no evidence that famed flier Amelia Earhart ever landed on the Pacific island of Saipan, Rep. John F. Shelley, D-Calif., said in a television interview here Thursday night.

Japan showed no reluctance to make the report, Shelley said, after it had been requested by the U.S. State Department on his insistence.

An anthropologist at the University of California is currently examining teeth and bones found on a shallow grave in Saipan. A newsman who found the remains, Fred Georner of CBS News, said they possibly are those of Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, who disappeared in 1937 on an attempted around-the-world flight.

Mystery Deepens With Years

No Trace Ever Found of Coed Who Walked Off Campus in '46

BENNINGTON, Vt. (AP) — On a Sunday afternoon 15 years ago today, pretty, blue-eyed, blonde Paula Welden, 18, walked from the campus of Bennington College — Seemingly into thin air.

Despite lengthy searches of mountain trials and the countryside, reports that she had been seen in various parts of the country, a $5,000 reward offered by her parents —then living in Stamford, Conn. —and a private investigator's search, she was never found.

No Known Worries

Paula was a quiet girl, deeply interested in botany—with a good record in her studies and no known worries.

On that afternoon, she donned sneakers, dungarees and a red parka and went for a walk. She headed up the Long Trail toward rugged Glastenbury Mountain. The room she left behind showed no evidence that she intended to run away.

Searching parties combed the mountain area. Paula's father, W. Archibald Welden, actively led searchers in which hundreds of volunteers, townsfolk and students from nearby colleges joined.

There was no known romance in Paula's background, although she knew several boys.

Auto His Best Hope

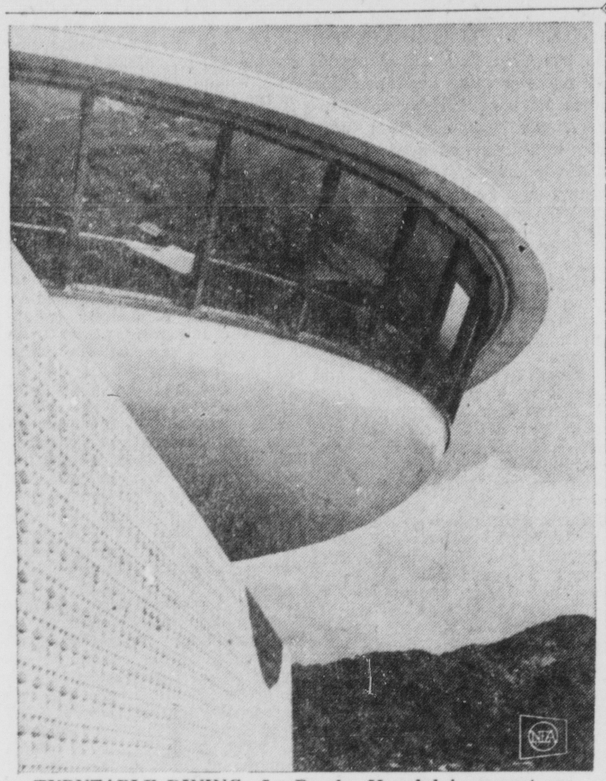

One by one, they reported every faint clue washed out. "'I don't think we ever had a good clue," Franzoni said. But he continued to hope he could ultimately find an automobile reported to have passed down the road from the long trail in the gathering December dusk — just about the time Paula might have been returning from her hike.

Franzoni leaned to the opinion that the girl perished somewhere on the bleak mountain, or that she was carried away and killed.

Reuben Levin, when acting as temporary state's attorney in Bennington County six years ago, reopened inquiries into her disappearance. He maintains his interest in the mystery and says that, if there was foul play, the case will be solved.

All to Dead End

The mystery of Paula Welden, deepening with the years, was recalled as investigators followed clues to dead ends and continued to check out records of telephone calls in the strange disappearance of a Lincoln, Mass., housewife, Oct. 24. Mrs. Joan Risch, 32, has never been reported since she left her attractive home in the Boston suburb, leaving behind her two small children — and a kitchen flecked with blood.

TURNTABLE DINING—La Ronde, Honolulu's newest restaurant, perches atop the 23rd floor of the Ala Moana building, the city's newest and tallest office building. The dining room, seating 162 persons, makes one complete revolution every hour, providing diners with a panoramic vista.

These monies represent the federal and state share—80 per cent—of the anticipated welfare expenditures by the localities. The federal share of these advances amounts to $13,526,000.

November quotas for neighboring counties include Columbia $41,000; Delaware $33,700; Dutchess, excluding Poughkeepsie $39,500; Greene $24,950; Orange, excluding Newburgh $95,050, and Sullivan $46,600.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, DECEMBER 1, 1961

CAP'S 20TH ANNIVERSARY

Today starts the celebration of the Civil Air Patrol's 20th anniversary which ends December 7. The two decades mark that many years of service to the nation and community.

Twenty years ago the volunteers of the CAP in small single-engine aircraft droned up and down the coasts, searching out enemy submarines.

There were heroes and casualties among the fliers as they did their job well.

With the coming of age of the U. S. Air Force as a separate air arm, changes came to the CAP, which shifted from anti-submarine patrol to aerial search and ground rescue in emergencies.

Pilots of every category looked to the CAP for aid in spotting downed planes and lives were saved.

The service spread as the volunteers helped in hurricanes, floods, tornadoes, and other natural and manmade disasters.

Surplus military radio equipment was salvaged and re-built into one of the most extensive radio nets this country has today. Some 14,000 CAP radio stations tie the 50 state wings, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia into an invisible network of almost instant communication.

There is a CAP Cadet program offering hundreds of special scholarships and honors programs at Air Force bases, and an International Air Cadet Exchange. This year, 135 American cadets exchanged places with their counterparts from 19 foreign countries.

Kingston has a CAP unit of which it can be proud, one of more than 2,000 such units which goes to work in emergencies and has a good record of service. Its band of cadets are among the 35,000 youngsters taking part in the program throughout the nation.

We salute the Civil Air Patrol on its 20th Birthday, and pay special tribute to the Kingston Composite Squadron whose volunteers are among 70,000 standing ready to lend a helping hand in emergencies.

UNEASY LIES THE HEAD

"Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown." Thus wrote Shakespeare, the greatest literary genius of all time, centuries ago.

The Bard's words certainly must trouble the dictators of the present-day world, if they've ever read them.

In our time there have been three absolute dictators of great and warlike nations—Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin. Hitler died by his own hand in a Berlin bunker, and with him died the mistress he married a few hours before his end. Mussolini, with his mistress, was assasinated, and the two were strung up by their heels in front of a shabby service station in an Italian town. Stalin, so far as we know, died a natural death. But now his successor has ordered that his embalmed body be removed from the revered Lenin Tomb in Red Square in Moscow where it was enshrined. This is certainly the ultimate in posthumous disgrace and degradation

Yes, the still-living dictators must have their uneasy moments. For history has a habit of repeating itself.

DIETERS' LAZY SUSAN

A government labor specialist says the changing nature of farming is making farmers into biochemists, machinists, electronic experts.

As an example of the refinement of farming techniques, there is now in use a circular device for feeding hens. As the thing revolves slowly, the hens have time for just a few quick stabs at the feed.

The theory of this eating-in-the-round: Shorten the feeding time, lengthen the egg-laying time.

Should millions of dieting Americans get wind of this, we could have a big call for revolving tables that do a gentle but steady turn. It's always hard to hit a moving target.

THE CABINET

Theoretically, the American Cabinet does not consist of ministers of state. Rather, its members are secretaries to the President. The difference is that a minister is a political personality in his own right; a secretary is an assistant to the President. For instance, every British or French Minister is elected to Parliament and is chosen not only for whatever administrative ability he may possess but also because of his political significance; no member of the American Cabinet is elected to any office, his appointment being due solely to the President's wish and choice.

Members of the British or French Cabinets have political status of greater or lesser significance, members of the American Cabinet may be men of major political significance as Elihu Root or William Jennings Bryan were or they may be totally unknown to the American people as most of President Kennedy's Cabinet is. George Washington's Cabinet consisted of the leading men of the country; Abraham Lincoln's consisted of men who were, at the beginning of his term, politically superior to him. Woodrow Wilson had a hard-working Cabinet of distinguished men. President Harding, with two exceptions, had one of the most competent Cabinets of recent years.

President Kennedy apparently sought men of administrative ability but without political stature. His chief Cabinet officer, the Secretary of State, Howard Rusk, had served in the State Department in the Truman Administration and had been the head of the Rockefeller Foundation. In the Truman Administration he was not particularly notable. To assist him, President Kennedy appointed a galaxy of talent, including a former candidate for the Presidency, Adlai Stevenson, three former governors, Chester Bowles, "Soapy" Williams and Averell Harriman, and a number of academic experts.

The State Department which suffers from a conflict between Presidential appointees and the permanent deskmen is always in a state of confusion. President Eisenhower appointed Herbert Hoover, Jr., to straighten out the situation, but he failed because the deskmen are like a labor union, or perhaps a college fraternity might be a better example. They sabotage their chiefs as a matter of practice and fail to accept policy as it comes down from the White House. None of the deskmen can be dismissed. The Cuban fiasco is a disastrous example of how evil the deskmen system is.

The Secretary of the Treasury, Clarence Dillon, was in the State Department and before that he was a banker. He is undoubtedly a capable administrator but whether he possesses breadth of view, imagination and economic foresight is yet to be discovered. His father, Clarence Dillon, was one of the cleverest men in Wall Street. On the whole, it can be said that Dillon knows what a dollar is and understands what should be done about it. He ought to make a competent Secretary of the Treasury and the minor appointments in that office are not unsatisfactory, although there is no Ogden Mills or Arthur Ballantine in this outfit.

It is generally held that the Secretary of Defense, Robert S. McNamara, is the most competent administrator in the government. He came to it from the Ford Company. He lacks political smoothness and finesse which are essential for any official.

His handling of the Walker case was amateurish, but that was to have been expected from a businessman in public life. When McNamara learns how to operate politically as well as administratively, he will become a top-notch public official.

Robert F. Kennedy, the Attorney General, is an all-around competent Cabinet officer and thus far has made no serious mistakes. He is politically astute, has a broad understanding of American history and acts as a defense for his brother. He will emerge as the leader in the Cabinet as he may become the leader of his party.

Arthur Goldberg, the Secretary of Labor, is emerging as a major political figure. He serves the President admirably as a propounder of Presidential policies beyond the metes and bounds of his office.

The Kennedy Administration has made more of the White House staff than any former President. It is a large staff of mixed capabilities. From one standpoint, it is superior to most Presidential staffs: it is capable of gathering and communicating data. This is very important because too often, Presidents are left in the dark by their assistants and discover too late that they were uninformed or misinformed.

Doctor Is Man to See About Arthritis Problems

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Is arthritis made worse by eating about two oranges a day? If so, which would be a better substitute, prune or fig juice?

A—There are as many types of arthritis as there are fruit juices. And there's nary a one that's made better or worse by oranges, prunes, figs or any other article of food. Or any diet. Or any vitamin. Or any mineral. Or any combination of vitamins and minerals. Or sea water, whether from the Atlantic or the Pacific.

Why don't you see your doctor, find out what kind of arthritis you have and what he thinks you should do about it?

To be sure he won't pass the miracles you hear about from the untrained pitchmen on TV or radio. But, in his own quiet and modest way, he may just be able to give you the help and relief you seek.

Q—I am 17, and recently my hair has become increasingly thin.

I have read that premature baldness in women is a result of rolling hair on tight rollers and sitting under a drier too often. I have been rolling my hair about four times a week and using a drier about once a month. My condition is not hereditary, because there has never been any baldness on either side of my family.

Please tell me is; there any way of stopping the loss of hair, and if it's possible to bring the hair back to its original thickness?

A—My dear young lady, you reason like a fellow who has just set fire to his house and then run down to the firehouse to find out how they think the blaze started and what he can do to see that it doesn't happen again.

Your letter suggests that you are an intelligent and informed girl. Why in the world don't you stop using rollers and drier and see what happens? Then, if your hair doesn't stop falling out and begin growing back, give me the name of your favorite charity and I'll send a check as a token of my ignorance.

Q—Is it true that certain lipstick colors are dangerous? That they can produce cancers?

A—It is quite true. But the danger no longer exists since the U. S. Food and Drug Administration has banned the use of the cancer-producing dyes and manufacturers have obeyed the "cease and desist" order.

"I Hope My Spine Isn't Too Hard on Your Feet"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Kennedy really did "The Twist" in his big shuffle of top White House and State Department aides.

He didn't just leak to a few favored correspondents the desire to ease Chester Bowles out of his job as undersecretary of state, as the Cowles "Insiders Newsletter" says he did four months ago. That bounced on him, and he had to suck it back. This time, the President got all his ducks in a row before he shot his wad, hitting a dozen people.

ANNOUNCEMENT that Bowles was to be special adviser to the President on underdeveloped countries was not made with the other changes for the simple reason that Bowles had not made up his mind whether to take the new job. He finally did—at higher pay and rank—though not for those reasons. In politics, you learn to rock with the punch.

Ambassador — again — Bowles will hang his hat in both the White House and State Department. He reports directly to the President. But he is also, because of his office, a member of the State Department policy planning staff. So he will be an idea man rather than an executive or an administrator.

This should suit him after he gets used to it. For as ambassador to India under President Truman, Bowles showed his ability to get along with people of the new nations. He thinks they're important. They need a sympathetic ear in Washington. He understands their problems. His new job could become bigger than even the White House dress-up makes it appear.

THE IRONY of the situation is that the top State Department staff which Bowles helped recruit when he was named undersecretary before Dean Rusk was named secretary, is now being shifted around considerably, including his own job.

In the 10 months since inauguration, the other undersecretary of state, George W. Ball, gained in stature while Bowles did not.

Former Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas, originally picked for assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, also becomes a special adviser to the President. He is replaced by Frederick G. Dutton, former Cabinet secretary.

IT IS THE MOVING OF three other White House aides into the State Department that is of most interest.

One reason given for this is that the President, with many other responsibilities, was getting a little weary of having his own aides responsible for what were really State Department operations.

The President gets what he originally wanted in naming Prof. Walt W. Rostow head of State's policy planning staff. Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter's former law clerk, Richard N. Goodwin, who has been somewhat controversial, becomes deputy assistant secretary for Latin-American affairs.

Roving Ambassador Averell Harriman steps down to become assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. He is not being replaced by Bowles, though this might have been the effect if both changes were announced at the same time.

THE NET EFFECT OF ALL these shifts is to give Secretary of State Dean Rusk a much better control over his department and make him the real head of foreign policy operations.

The secretary makes clear that under the constitution, the President is solely responsible for the conduct of foreign affairs. Rusk insists there has been no conflict between White House and State. He worked closely with the President on the multiple changes now announced.

But, it is noteworthy that George C. McGhee, Rusk's original head of the policy planning staff, is now made undersecretary for political affairs. Rusk and McGhee are old friends who were close associates in State after World War II.

By this shift, the department goes back to the organizational setup in effect during the Eisenhower administration.

The jobs of undersecretary for economic affairs and administration have been combined with two assistant secretaryships. The job of undersecretary for political affairs has been separated from the responsibilities, with one assistant secretary, U. Alexis Johnson, to do the work.

'Freedom Rides' Viewed As a Help to Red Critics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Much has been said lately about "extremists." President Kennedy has assailed them in public speeches. So has Vice President Johnson. As one reads the headlines this week, however, it is becoming increasingly apparent that only one kind of "extremists" is in disfavor and that some of the others are actually extolled as heroes and champions of freedom.

To plan to take the law into one's hands is bad when the "Minute Men" foolishly organize groups of their own, but somehow the same kind of tactics are given an heroic flavor in the phrase "Freedom Riders."

Mississipi now reports a riot incited by "Freedom Riders" at a restaurant. Plans are being made for the exertion of pressure next week on the owners of restaurants—wholly disconnected from railroad or buses and operated as private businesses—along a Maryland highway, "Sit-in" demonstrations that have aroused resentment or produced riots and even bloodshed are not being condemned by either President Kennedy or Attorney General Kennedy as the acts of "extremists."

Vice-President Johnson has pointed out in one of his recent speeches that the Communists hope to triumph by striving to "array brother against brother, class against class, race against race." Everyone knows that widespread publicity is given in the press and radio in Europe to the "Freedom Rides" and "sit-in" demonstrations.

Yet who starts these things? Members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and of another organization know as the Congress of Racial Equality participate in these demonstrations. Is it possible that the Administration here hesitates, for domestic political reasons, to denounce these tactics or those whose demonstrations unwittingly furnish publicity for the Communist criticisms of America? It could be presumed that the Negro vote, which has benefited the Administration in many elections, is too large to risk alienating it by any public criticism of the Negro organizations that are conducting the "Freedom Rides." Maybe if they had as few members and as little influence politically as the John Birchers, the "Freedom Riders" would have long ago brought down upon their heads the wrath of Administration spokesmen.

The church organizations, too, are for the most part strangely silent. Though inevitably the "Freedom Riders" result in violence every now and then, it is the police who are denounced for alleged "brutality" when they make arrests or try to preserve order. Indeed, some clergymen actually participate in the demonstrations and allow themselves to be arrested in order to get publicity for the cause they espouse. There's no objection to anybody getting publicity for a cause, but there is a distinct difference when the form of demonstration is calculated to cause violence.

What is the solution? Maybe it would be helpful to reread the following words from a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States:

"We consider the underlying policy of the plaintiff's argument to consist in the assumption that the enforced separation of the two races stamps the colored race with a badge of inferiority. If this be so, it is not by reason of anything found in the act (a state law), but solely because the colored race chooses to put that construction upon it. . . .

"The argument also assumes that social prejudices may be overcome by legislation, and that equal rights cannot be secured to the Negro except by an enforced commingling of the two races. We cannot accept this proposition. If the two races are to meet upon terms of social equality, it must be the result of natural affinities, a mutual appreciation of each other's merits and a voluntary consent of individuals. As was said by the Court of Appeals of New York, 'this end can neither be accomplished nor promoted by law which conflict with the general sentiment of the community upon whom they are designed to operate.' . . .

"Legislation is powerless to eradicate racial instincts or to abolish distinctions based upon physical differences, and the attempt to do so can only result in accentuating the difficulties of the present situation."

The foregoing quotations come from the famous decision of 1896 known as "Plessy V. Ferguson," but they were repeated this year by Judge Ben Cameron of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in filing a dissenting opinion in connection with a case of racial disturbance on a bus line in Birmingham, Ala. It was this same viewpoint which the Supreme Court of the United States in 1954 overturned, not on the basis of constitutional law or legal precedents, but by citing "modern authority" — namely, several treatises on psychology and social science. Small wonder there are "extremists" who today form organizations to demonstrate against this form of "modernism" in the Federal judiciary.

Castro's Foes in Mexico Would Keep Him in Office

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

MEXICO CITY — (NEA) — "I hate to admit this. But in practical politics, there no longer is any urgent reason to get Fidel Castro out of Cuba."

These are the words of a ranking official in the Mexico local of the Cuban anti-Castro underground — not quite so large as its affiliated brotherhood in the U.S. but seemingly closer to crucial Latin American thinking.

His appraisal, an echo of most of the savvy sentiment in this sophisticated capital, holds Castro too valuable to oust now for three main reasons:

The regime in Havana has become too good a showcase of terror, hunger and misery for anti-Castro propaganda throughout Latin America.

Soviet manipulations in Cuba have helped to disarm and discredit the once-active extreme left in Mexico and thus in watchful nations to the south.

A floundering Cuba, beset by internal troubles and embargoes, is very good for business in competitor countries.

Jose Pardo Llada, former official radio voice of the Castro regime and now Cuba's No. 1 defector, reports having heard Soviet officials express embarrassment over "the mess in Havana."

You can't buy copies of Revolucion or Bohemia, periodicals published in Cuba and once available everywhere in Mexico. They, like other incendiary publications from Cuba, are not allowed past customs any more.

Social psychiatrist and historian Erich Fromm, back in Mexico after a teaching stint in Yugoslavia, reports that Russians in Cuba have had to become restraining, conservative influences on Castro's attempts at a permanent revolution.

Daniel James, Latin American expert and author of the new history, "Cuba: The First Soviet Satellite in the Americas," says two recent leftist rallies in Mexico were significant failures.

Both were headed by Lazaro Cardenas — former Mexican president, leading pro-Castro spokesman.

"But," reports James, "Cardenas' first rally for Peace, National Sovereignty and Economic Independence drew only 2,000 people. His second rally, a mass meeting to protest Yankee intervention in the ill-fated invasion of Cuba pulled only 8,000 people (in a plaza capable of holding five times that number

"The crowd dwindled to fewer than 3,000 before he had finished speaking," James says. "It's a telling blow to Latin opinion on the left."

And now, to top it off, Mexico has become a sugar exporting nation for the first time in years.

"So why bother to get Fidel out?" says Carlos Gernandez, a Cuban refugee and coordinator for the Revolutionary Council. "He is more valuable in office to his opponents.

"In Mexico, we constantly are amazed at reports that our brothers in the U. S. expect Washington—or anybody else—to make an overt move against Fidel."

It is a perfect round robin—or would be, say coordinator Fernandez and reporter James, except for two details:

In Cuba, Castro continues to tyrannize the minds of his captive nation.

And in other Latin American nations conspirators are beginning to learn that they no longer need popular support to take over their country and keep it.

So They Say..

Most of us come from states that have officially and legally recognized alcoholism as an illness. These new laws stand side by side with old laws that provide punishment for drunkenness. We now face the dilemma where it is legal to show symptoms of an illness.
—Ralph W. Daniel, of the Michigan State Board of Alcoholism.

Jones announced that two well-known personalities in the March of Dimes field will be on hand for Monday's important meeting.

Robert A. Burcaw, director of program development on the national level for the Foundation, will be one of the guests.

Aso scheduled to appear is Alvord Clements, state representative.

Films also will be shown at the session.

"We're looking forward to a good turnout of interested workers and at the same time to an enjoyable program," Jones said.

The local campaign director noted that 1962 poses another critical year for funds to help the Foundation fight polio and other associated diseases and called upon volunteers of former years to do their utmost to make the new fund campaign the best ever.

Burcaw, who also will stress the urgent need for a successful 1962 campaign, starting Jan. 1, was named director of program development for the National Foundation on Aug. 24 by Basil C'Connor, president.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef, lamb and pork are leading bargains at the nation's supermarkets this week.

Housewives will have a wide choice of meats at good values this weekend, based on the advertising plans of the big chains and the weekly U.S. Department of Agriculture survey.

Good Retail Supply

Heavy marketings of hogs and cattle due to expanded production is producing a good retail supply of beef, lamb and pork.

Markets in all sections of the country are featuring the three meats this weekend. One of the largest supermarket chains will have an all-beef special with price reductions in some areas of 10 cents a pound on such items as rib roast, sirloin and porterhouse steaks.

Bacon, ham and veal also are on the special counter in some areas.

Among sea food features are clams and halibut in the Northeast, crab meat and sea trout in the Southeast, yellow perch in the Midwest, red snapper in the Southwest and Salmon and halibut in the Far West.

Egg Prices Decline

Egg prices appear to be declining. Large eggs are selling at wholesale prices in Chicago at the lowest level in five months. One chain posted reductions of 2 to 8 cents a dozen on various grades and size eggs in the metropolitan New York area.

Best buys in vegetables are cabbage, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, green beans, carrots, celery, lettuce, squash and tomatoes.

Others recommended include broccoli and brussel sprouts, mushrooms, green beans squash peppers and radishes.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Silver and gold—paper money and credit—the seesaw relationship of the U.S. dollar to the British pound and the Canadian dollar and the German mark and the Swiss franc.

These are all parts—and often confusing parts—of the big international monetary problem that the central bankers of the Western world are trying to solve.

Aim Is Stability

Their aim is to achieve some stability in world currencies and world trade, to halt or minimize the spasmodic runs on the dollar or pound with an accompanying rush to buy and hoard gold, to keep trade between nations in better balance and thus promote the economic growth of all.

The parts often confuse, even hide, the whole.

Right now the headlines center on these items:

1. The proposed U.S. move away from silver as a backing for part of its currency. The first result is a big upward push in silver prices on the commodity market, with much fluctuation expected to follow.

2. Fresh losses of gold by the U.S. Treasury as Britain buys the metal with spare dollars to bolster Bank of England reserves and protect the pound, recently under attack because of its foreign trade deficit.

3. The drop of the Canadian dollar below 96 American cents for the first time in 10 years.

Repercussions Likely

All of these are expected to have political repercussions here and abroad.

President Kennedy's proposal to demonetize silver entirely, except for coins, by substituting Federal Reserve notes for some $2 billion in paper money now backed by silver seems sure to stir up the embers of historic monetary disputes in Congress.

The loss of gold by the U.S. Treasury is linked to our balance of payment deficit. We are spending more dollars overseas than we are getting back. And efforts to remedy this is stirring up one of the biggest fights in years in Congress over tariffs. Should they be lowered in return for concessions abroad on American exports? Should they be raised to protect domestic industries from foreign imports?

Some experts are suggesting a solution to the many financial problems can be found in establishing an international monetary unit—whether as currency or as central bank credit—to handle exchange procedures, bolster any temporarily threatened national currrency, and keep all on as even a keel as possible in this changing world.

Solons to Have Say

But through all these problems there run strong threads of nationalism and national prides.

The chances are the immediate troubles will be thrashed out in the upcoming session of the U.S. Congress, in the British House of Commons, in the capitals of the Western European trading bloc.

And all the while you'll be hearing a lot about gold and silver, about tariffs and trade deficits, about possible devaluations of this or that monetary unit, about the flow of short-term investment money from one trading center to another, about spurts of buying or selling of monetary metals in world markets.

Library Seeking Programs of All Kingston Clubs

The three service clubs of Kingston—Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary—have begun to deposit copies of their weekly newsletters at Kingston Library, it was recently announced by the library.

The newsletters, presented to the library through the cooperation of the Smith Mailing Advertising service, will initiate a permanent file of club bulletins.

The library is currently undertaking a program to urge clubs in the city to place on file copies of their programs and bulletins.

Club publications, according to a library spokesman, constitute an important part of the local history of the community and should be permanently preserved.

The library is extending an invitation to all the clubs and organizations in the city to place their publications in the library for permanent preservation.

The service club bulletins now being received by the library are: The Carr Wheel, The Kingston Rotary Club, Weekly Roar, The Kingston Lions Club and the bulletin of the Kiwanis Club of Kingston.

Sounds That Always Precede Christmas

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sounds that always precede Christmas:

"You just get finished paying for one Christmas—and then the next one comes along."

"Who invented Santa Claus anyway?"

"I hope you saved the cards we got last year, Myrtle. Otherwise, how will we know who to send cards to this year?"

"Dickie, I've already taken you to see the Santa Claus at Macy's. Why do you have to see the Santa Claus at Gimbels, too? When you've seen one Santa Claus, you've seen them all."

Time for Letters

"I love this time of year. Everybody is so sentimental and gay."

"I hate this season. Somehow, it always makes me feel blue."

"Don't you think it's time you sat down and wrote your annual letter to Aunt Martha, Susie? After all, it's just before Christmas, and if you let Aunt Martha know what you want—"

"All right, all right—so you didn't like the Christmas tree I picked out last year! So this year you pick one out—and lug it home yourself."

"Well, it only comes once a year—thank heavens!"

"Yeah, I read her letter to Santa Claus. It don't make sense to me. She's got 10 dolls already. What does she want four more for?"

"Could you fit me out with a pair of arch supports, doctor? I sell in a department store—and it's pure murder on the feet from now until the end of the year."

"I'd like to exchange this sweater I bought for my husband last Christmas. He's finally decided he doesn't really like it."

Peace, Quiet Only Wish

"Look, Maude, for the last time I tell you—I don't want nothing for Christmas except some little peace and quiet. Now can I please finish reading my newspaper?"

"Every time my wife hears the sound of 'Jingle Bells' she seems to go crazy. She tries to buy out every store in town."

"George has already bought me a mink stole for Christmas, but he doesn't know it. I haven't told him yet."

"If your cousin likes unusual neckties, how about this one? It's made from the skin of a cobra."

"Bobby, you come out of that closet this very minute. No, mommy isn't trying to hide those packages. She's just — just keeping them for a friend. They're no concern of yours."

"You mean your boss only gives you a box of chocolates? My boss gives me a $25 gift certificate, a bottle of scotch—and a kiss, if there's nobody else in the office."

"Could I please have a one-way ticket to Timbuktu or Bali—or anyplace else where they don't play Christmas tunes on the radio?"

Christmas Mail Instructions Are Given to Public

With Thanksgiving a recent memory, Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk said today. "It's Christmas every day in the post office from now on."

He offered these helpful hints on how to mail Christmas cards and gifts to insure prompt and safe delivery before December 25. Use four cents postage on Christmas cards. Sent by first class mail, they are sorted and delivered first, and if you include your return address on each envelope, they will be forwarded in the event of a change of address, or if they are undeliverable, they will be returned to you. Also, you can write a personal message on the Christmas cards sent by first class mail; whereas, only your signature is authorized on cards at the three cents, unsealed third class rate.

Avoid careless packing of your gifts. Use strong cartons, wrap in heavy paper, and tie with sturdy cord. Mark packages containing breakable gifts, "Fragile"—"Handle With Care." Put an extra label carrying the recipients and senders name and address inside every package.

In conclusion, the postmaster said, "By taking a little extra care with your Christmas mailings right now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones. The post office is fully prepared for the big Christmas mail rush, but through your cooperation in mailing early and often, as suggested by the National Improved Mail Service program, there'll be less danger of some Christmas cards and packages not being delivered before Christmas."

GOP Club Hears Talk by McHugh

A regular meeting of the Rosendale Republican club held Tuesday at the Grange Hall, Rosendale, with President Ferdinand Fiedler presiding.

A discussion was held on the gains made in the recent election and plans were made to start a drive to secure new members for the club.

Justice of the Peace-elect Raymond LeFever thanked the club and the voters of the town of Rosendale for their support in the last election. Town Superintendent of Highways John Markle also extended his thanks to the voters of the town for returning him to office and for the large majority that they had given him.

Miss Cordelia Feltman introduced the speaker of the evening Jesse McHugh. Mr. McHugh is a member of the Republican County Central Committee, majority leader of the board of supervisors and supervisor of the Town of Shawangunk. He spoke on the importance of a Republican club and gave many suggestions on how to enlarge the club by gaining new members and making the club active during the entire year.

Later a question and answer discussion was held by Mr. McHugh as to the method being used in the Town of Shawangunk for bringing new factories and sources of employment for the people. Several members took part in the discussion and were of the opinion that these same methods could be used to bring industries to the Town of Rosendale, which would add value to the assessment roll of the town and give employment to the people in this locality.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served in the dining hall.

Jurors to Meet On Monday Night

An important meeting of the Association of Grand Jurors of Ulster County is scheduled next Monday night, Dec. 4, at the Court House, Wall Street.

President Thomas J. Murphy said arrangements also have been made for a social hour to mark the Christmas season. The business meeting will start at 8 p. m.

One of the discussions will be on the action to secure more adequate space at the Court House to carry on the duties of the courts.

The Association sometime ago proposed to the Board of Supervisors more favorable conditions for the Grand Jury room, including a fire escape.

President Murphy, in reporting this action today, said that at a recent meeting of the Ulster County Bar Association a proposed resolution was recommended by that group to the supervisors for more adequate space at the Court House.

Murphy hailed the Bar Association action and said "we of the Grand Jury Association are very happy that the Bar group has taken steps along the same plan as ours and we hope that some action will be taken by the supervisors in the near future to remedy the situation."

Search, Seizure

jority of the judges, said Abraham Isseks, the Orange County district attorney, had referred in his summary to testimony that had been excluded from the record on Issek's objection.

The judges said the testimony, which concerned allegations by the defendants that they had beeen beaten by Newburgh police, was "....clearly prejudicial to the defendants..."

The court split 4-3 in upholding a lower court's decision that Mrs. Glenn Miller has no property rights in a style of music used by her late husband.

Mrs. Miller receives royalties from her husband's original recordings and from a motion picture.

Unfit, Says Judges

The court held that a 5-year-old child should not be returned to its natural mother, whom a majority of the judges described as unfit.

The court majority said that "our only index to the future is the recent past, and the proof... affords no basis for believing that she (the natural mother) is ready to take on the obligations of parenthood.'"

The child's natural mother, who had sought to regain custody of the child from foster parents, had married after the birth of the child. It was testified, however, that she had beeen involved with another married man when she was 16, while separated temporarily from her husband.

None of the persons involved was identified.

Lower Court May Act

The court did not reverse the second-degree murder conviction of Edwin Codarre, now in Clinton Prison at Dannemora, but hinted that a lower court might do so.

Codarre, who pleaded guilty at 13 and was sentenced to 30 years to life in prison in the slaying of a 10-year-old girl in East Fishkill, claimed that he was an epileptic. He said in a petition asking reversal of his conviction that "'a state procedure that permits a 13-year-old epileptic to plead guilty to murder in any degree violates the due process clause of the . . . U.S. Constitution."

The court said that if there were a hearing on the petition, "....it might be found as fact that this defendant had such a defense and that insufficient consideration was given to it."

Communists Fail

members of the party now have until Dec. 20 to register under the law.

The government has indicated it plans to move against the party first.

The law provides fines up to $10,000 a day for the party for each day of defiance. It provides the same fines—plus prison terms—for officers and individual members who defy the law.

Passed in 1950

Under the Security Act—fought by party leaders in the courts since its passage in 1950—the party was to have registered as an arm of the Soviet government. It was to list its officers, finances and other details.

The struggle between the government and the party came to a head last Oct. 9, when the Supreme Court refused to reconsider its decision upholding provisions of the 1950 law.

The party has stated many times that it planned to defy the law. The party has denied it is an agent of the Soviet Union and contended it should not be required to register as such.

A Communist party spokesman said Thursday the number of officers had been reduced to three, but he declined to disclose how many officers there had been previously.

However, Chicago's American quoted Claude Lightfoot, a former party official, as listing the three officers as: Gus Hall, general sec- Columbus, Ga., stopped Buddy retary; Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, chairman; and Benjamin Davis, national secretary. All are from New York.

Lightfoot said that among the posts abolished were those of national vice chairman and Illinois chairman, both of which he once held.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Pan American World Airways said it will resume regular flights today between Miami and Santo Domingo. Because of political unrest in the Dominican Republic, flights bypassed Santo Domingo for several days.

College Building Defeat Laid to Apathetic Views

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) —The college - building constitutional amendment was defeated in the Nov. 7 election "because of apathy on the part of too many of those who support this approach and principle," the amendment's sponsor says.

Private colleges and universities, if they are to survive, must take the lead to "win support for necessary expansion programs financed with both private help and governmental assistance under our State Constitution," Sen. Walter J. Mahoney, Republican majority leader, said Thursday night.

The proposed amendment would have let the state pledge $500 million of its credit behind bonds to be issued by the State Dormitory Authority, which constructs dormitories and other buildings and leases them to public and private colleges.

A constitutional formula must be devised by which "the private colleges are provided with their fair share of the vast sums which must be expended for higher education," Mahoney said in a speech at D'Youville College, a Roman Catholic institution.

Protestant and other groups said the proposed amendment would permit the use of state money or credit to aid sectarian institutions, which many of the private colleges are. The amendment thereby violate the constitutional bar against use of public funds for institutions where religious doctrines are taught, its opponents said.

Foes Defying . . .

bers of the old Trujillo Dominican party) be dissolved and that the military budget could not be reduced below the 1962 estimate of 24 million pesos.

"The government could not be Communist," it added.

At the headquarters of the Civic Union, some members censured the United States and claimed it had backed Balaguer against the wishes of the people. Fiallo, alluding to this, declared it was "an historic error."

In Washington, the State Department expressed hope "that all men of good will in the Dominican Republic will exercise moderation and responsibility in seeking the political means by which a truly democratic future for the country can be assured."

It said that since the death of Dictator Rafael Trujillo the United States has "supported in every appropriate way a rapid transition toward democratic government. We especially welcomed and lent sympathetic encouragement to the successful resistance to the efforts by the brothers of the late dictator to reassert toalarian domination."

Ships Still There

Efforts by Trujillo family members to regain control of the government two weeks ago brought U.S. warships to the Caribbean waters off Santo Domingo. Since then they have patrolled just outside the three-mile limit of Dominican waters.

Arturo Morales Carrion, deputy assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs, arrived soon after the Trujillo threats were thwarted and has met with both government and opposition leaders.

Morales Carrion was reported to have visited the presidential palace Thursday, and as a result rumors circulated that the United States was backing Balaguer's bid to remain in power.

a proposal to postpone consideration of Kuwait's application until after settlement of Iraq's claim that the little sheikdom is Iraqi territory.

Rift Widens

Some diplomats considered the Soviet veto evidence of a widening rift between the Soviets and U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, once the Arab darling of the Soviet Union. Kuwait's application had the backing of all Arab states except Iraq.

The assembly's main political committee adopted by acclamation an Irish resolution calling on the nuclear powers to work out an agreement to stop the spread of atomic or hydrogen bombs to nations that don't have them. The committee action assured adoption of the resolution by the General Assembly.

Earlier Thursday the committee, by a 57-12 vote, approved a resolution calling on all nations not having nuclear weapons to join in a pledge not to manufacture them, accept them from other nations or allow them to be stockpiled on their territory. The United States and most of its allies in the North Atlantic Treaty organization voted against the resolution because they believe stockpiling of U.S. nuclear weapons in Europe is necessary for defense against Soviet attack.

Trooper Rauch, McDole and the latter's wife, Helen, all suffered possible back injuries and Mrs. McDole received a fractured collarbone. She and her husband were taken to Liberty Maimonides Hospital for treatment.

Court action will take place as soon as McDole is released from the hospital, where his condition and that of his wife were reported as good this morning.

Radioactivity Slight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission says some radioactivity was released into the atmosphere by one of its underground nuclear blasts. The amount was described as slight.

The explosion was conducted at the Nevada test site Sept. 15. A short time after it, the commission said, "there was a brief release of steam from the tunnel mouth, following which low levels of radioactivity were detected in the vicinity of the test site."

Space Orbiter

Chimp No Ham, Just Cool Guy

KINDLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Bermuda (AP)—Enos, the twice-around-the-globe chimp, is to lens-hungry mug like some of his simian brothers.

Holding his first public audience since returning from outer space, the chimponaut refused Thursday to do even a cartwheel for newsmen at his press conference.

Enos was brought to Kindley AFB aboard the destroyer Stormes, which plucked him from the Atlantic after his historic journey Wednesday.

"He's really quite a cool guy and not the performing type at all," said Capt. Jerry Finneg, Air Force veterinarian.

Enos showed no outward ill effects from his orbital flight. Full results of the medical checkup won't be known, however, until after he returns today to Cape Canaveral.

He is back in training on his space-monkey's diet—250 banana pellets a day. He was given a bonus of two oranges and two apples as a reward for his achievement—but that's all.

Nabbed in N. Y. Robbery Attempt; BailRevokedHere

A Sullivan County man held on third degree burglarly charges in Ulster County was arraigned in New York City for conspiring armed robbery of a business concern there. Bail was revoked and he was returned to Ulster County Jail.

Alexander Procho, 37, of Woodridge was released on $200 bail some time ago in connection with charges that he entered a summer home in Greenfield Park October 1959, Kingston state police said. He was suprised by the owner, fled and was later apprehended by the local BCI.

He was picked up Thursday in Sullivan County by BCI Senior Investigators Edward Shannon and Michael Lisman and remanded to Ulster County Jail.

Procho was arraigned in Felony Court, New York City Tuesday charged with conspiracy to commit armed robbery and for illegal possession of a firearm.

He and a co-defendant, Daniel Cohen, 30, of the Bronx, according to New York City police, had two .38 caliber revolvers in their possession.

The plot was discovered by New York City police when they questioned the pair at 57th Street and Ninth Avenue. Police said investigation revealed the pair intended to holdup a business at 134 West 58th Street and had stored the guns, two face masks, gloves and ammunition in a subway public locker.

Financial and Commercial

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A firmer tone developed in stock market trading early this afternoon, leaving prices mostly higher.

This show of strength bolstered the list after an early tendency to sell off, which in turn followed a generally higher opening. See-saw movements by individual issues—first up a fraction, then down a bit—reflected the over-all market picture.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up 0.30 at 264.80 with industrials up 1.20, rails down 0.30 and utilities down 0.10.

Trading moved along at a moderately active pace, although more slowly than the rest of the week.

Most motors, mail order and retail firms, aircrafts and tobaccos were higher. Steels were easy, electronics and chemicals mixed and oils quiet. Again it was a case of individual issues outperforming their groups, and of contrary movements by issues within overall groups.

Ford was lower after setting another new 1961 high early in the day. Chrysler, down for most of the week, recovered more than a point.

Magma spurted around 7 and Newmont Mining nearly 2 on news of a Newmont offer to Magma stockholders which may lead to its acquiring 80 per cent of that firm.

Khrushchev's Quiet Period No. 1 Mystery

JFK's Show of Determination Is Advanced as Reasonable Cause

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTO N(AP)—President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev, despite all the heat over Berlin, have kept their own personal relationship as restrained as a minuet.

Nevertheless, the No. 1 mystery is why Khrushchev has quieted down.

Pleasant on Surface

The meeting between the two men in Vienna last June 3-4 was, on the surface, a pleasant session in which they sought to know each other. Underneath it was about as tough as a meeting can be.

It was there, face to face with Kennedy, that Khrushchev began the Berlin crisis by demanding the city be henceforth "free." He predicted the eventual triumph of communism through wars of "liberation."

For months afterward Khrushchev worked overtime to force Kennedy back on his heels with speeches, talks, bomb-warnings, building the Berlin wall and, finally, resuming nuclear tests.

Kennedy, reporting on his meeting when he returned home, said the United States would stand firm. He added that Khrushchev should not be blamed for all the world's troubles, outlined a program to resist communism everywhere, and began a military buildup.

Since then Kennedy has talked repeatedly of his determination not to let Khrushchev get away with Berlin.

No Derogatory Words

But never, in all this long-range and often long-winded dialogue, has either man said an unfriendly or derogatory word about the other. This has left the door open for future reasonable dealings.

Khrushchev even sent his newspaperman son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, over here to interview Kennedy at White House request, giving the President a chance to state his position in full in the Russian government newspaper, Izvestia.

Khrushchev had the same relationship with President Eisenhower until the American U2 spy plane, brought down over Russia, embarrassed him. Then he belittled Eisenhower and broke up the 1960 summit meeting.

In the current situation, this is the big puzzler:

Still Big Puzzler

Why Khrushchev, from about the time the 22nd Communist party congress met in Moscow last October, suddenly quieted down on Berlin and even postponed indefinitely the deadline for a settlement which he wanted by year's end.

There have been suggestions he did it because he was having so much trouble at home.

That makes no sense. He was master of the congress, got endorsement for humiliating old diehard Bolsheviks like Molotov, and so thoroughly discredited the image of Stalin that the old dictator's body was removed from its tomb.

A more reasonable assumption might be that he had so much work to do at the congress that he needed a vacation from Berlin.

Nor could his troubles with Red China and tiny Albania, which seem to think he's not aggressive enough, look like a factor in cooling off his ardor on Berlin. He's not about to have war with Red China. Albania hardly counts.

It would be more reasonable to think Kennedy's show of determination persuaded Khrushchev not to push the Berlin business to an explosion.

All Sheer Guessing

Any suggestion about Khrushchev's motive for quieting down on Berlin is sheer guessing.

Here is another: That when he put up the wall shutting off West Berlin from East Berlin—and the West failed to do anything about it—he had won a major point anyway and could relax.

Meaning: He wanted to make the West acknowledge that communism completely controls East Germany and East Berlin—and the West isn't going to do anything about it. By bowing to the reality of the wall, the West admitted his point.

From the very beginning of this dispute the Russians have told the West in effect that the two Germanies were not going to be reunited. Recently Kennedy admitted this was so, as long as the Russians wanted to keep them separate.

Geneva Plant Is

Lake in this fertile, Central New York area, lost the Shuron Optical Corp., employing 300, earlier this year.

Other Talks Set

The Geneva Forge Division of Ekco Products Co., where about 225 work, is scheduled to close. Mayor Harold M. Simpson said, however, that a four-man civic committee was told by Ekco officials in Chicago the plant would remain open if an agreement with machinists could be reached.

Geneva was just beginning to recover from the closing five years ago of Sampson Air Force Base, a giant training station with a military "family" of 36,000.

On the brighter side, Geneva reaps the benefit of $3 million a year spent by 1,200 students and faculty members at Hobart and William Smith Colleges. There also are large employers in the vicinity.

A Chamber of Commerce campaign to attract new industry is under way.

Preparing Lessons

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Material for Sunday School lessons on Christianity and communism is being prepared for nationwide distribution to Methodist churches. The church's curriculum committee said today the material will be available in April for adult classes and in September for youth classes.

Consider Growth Factor In Figuring Stock Income

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am a widow in my 50's and have $2,000 in Cities Service, $3,000 in American Telephone, $1,000 in U. S. bonds, $10,000 in savings earning 4 per cent, and $17,000 with the insurance company, which is paid out to me in installments. My daughter is starting college, and I'm going to have to sell or draw on something to get additional funds. Which of these do you think should go first?" J.F.

A) Personally I would draw first on the $10,000 savings account. You have a good-sized investment here and I think that you can safely reduce this account to perhaps the $5,000 mark before turning to your stocks.

Telephone, in my opinion, is an exceptionally strong issue, and Cities Service has a good rating. At current prices they together yield an average of 3.6 per cent—reasonably close to the savings account return—to say nothing of their prospects for gradual appreciation.

My plan would, of course, lower your current income by a few dollars a year. This may seem like strange advice at first, but I believe that your two stocks will perform very well over the next few years, giving you market gains more than enough to offset the slight loss of income right now.

Later, if you need to come up with additional funds, I would begin liquidating my stocks, starting first with Cities Service. But if you are not forced to do this—as I hope will be the case—I'd stick with both issues.

Q) "Is Northern Illinois Gas a good stock to own?" H.R.

A) Very much so. Northern Illinois Gas (MSE) serves a fast expanding suburban area near Chicago. Earnings gains have been very good and dividends have been raised five times in the last eight years. I rate the issue as one of the best holdings in the gas utility group.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Clothing Drive For Children To Open at OCS

Campaigning to collect used "clothing a child or adult would be proud to wear," the Student Council of Onteora Central Schools will launch Save the Children Federation's 20th Annual Bundle Days Used Clothing on Dec. 4-8, in behalf of the needy children of the American southern mountains area and elsewhere.

The clothing project is conducted by Save the Children Federation, the 30-year-old international organization in Norwalk, Conn., which serves the interests of children the world around, in cooperation with leading U. S. educators and more than six million students across the United States.

"This is an important community operation," said Ronald M. Koster, Onteora faculty advisor. "Children and their parents in the southern mountains and in depressed and disaster areas elsewhere are in serious need of this donated clothing, which comes from communities all over the country. Both summer and winter shoes and garments are desired—coats, shoes, dresses, suits, blue jeans, dungarees, underwear, gloves. We strongly urge our citizens to respond generously to the call.

"An important new emphasis is being placed this year on the quality of the clothing donated. In years past, it appears that Save the Children Federation has found itself with a vast amount of unwearable clothing—clothing that is beyond cleaning or repairing, disposable only as rags, which it has cost the Federation much money to transport, sort, store and dispose of.

"Parents and friends are urged to contribute wearable clothing, clothing that is outgrown but not worn out—to give generously of "clothing a child or adult could be proud to wear." The clothing should be taken or sent to the Onteora Central Schools.

Work at Tri-Mount

Set Foundation For Scout Camp's New Dining Hall

Construction on the new dining hall at the Camp Tri-Mount Scout Reservation at East Jewett has progressed to the stage where most of the foundation for the hall is completed.

Under the direction of I. and O. A. Slutsky of the Hunter Rigging Corporation, the new hall, located on the former Moseman property, will contain a main dining hall 30 by 90 foot, a kitchen annex 40 foot square, and a lounge containing a fireplace. The building is located on a knoll overlooking the entire East Jewett valley in Greene County.

Draws Plans

Plans for the dining hall have been drawn by Sidney Vanderbent of Vanderbent Associates of Kingston.

Current plans call for completion of the project for use during the 1962 summer camp season, according to Camp Chairman Henry P. Eighmey of Kingston. Work on the building will continue as long as whether permits, with the next step being that of placing the floor timbers.

The need for a dining hall at the Camp Tri-Mount Scout Reservation, operated by Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, has been apparent for the past 10 years. The barn, currently utilized for a dining hall, has a capacity of 110 boys, while the other facilities of the reservation will accommodate many more campers. Improvements to the East Jewett camp have been continuous for years with the goal of a new dining hall continually proposed. With the recent acquisation of the former Moseman property and the drilling of a new well for increased water supply, the dream of a new dining hall became a reality, the camp chairman said.

Fund Established

Two years ago a dining hall fund was established in a Catskill bank. This fund has been growing slowly through contributions of citizens interested in a new dining hall.

"Additional funds are needed for this project," said Chairman Eighmey, "but we plan to continue progress in the hope that future donations will make it possible to complete the 220-boy dining hall and thus increase the service of the Rip Van Winkle Council to the boys of this area."

Five Are Inducted In Scout Pack 10

Five Bob Cats were inducted into Cub Scout Pack 10 at its regular meeting this week at Lake Katrine School.

The new recruits are David Crago, William Quirk, Roy and Randolph Felipe, Randolph Marz and Gary Beaumont.

At the parent's session prior to the pack meeting, Cubmaster George Castrone spoke briefly on the themes for the coming months:

Den 1 conducted the opening ceremony and Paul Stymfal opened with a talk on magic.

Neil Rauch and Kevin Krajak were advanced to Wolf rank, the former with a silver arrow and the latter with four silver arrows.

Donald Beaumont was awarded a silver arrow under Bear Badge and was advanced to Lion rank.

Receiving a second year pin was John Benjamin.

Handicraft recognition went to Donald Beaumont and Roy Felipe for games they prepared and displayed.

Den 2 was designated the honor den for November under the leadership of Den mothers Karen Beaumont and Audrey Anderson. The theme of the month was Cub Scout magic which was presented in various performances by Cub Scouts. Den 4 conducted the closing and refreshments were served by Den 5.

Freedom Rides Defended

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Methodist Bishop Richard C. Raines says that Freedom Rides are a "natural and sound way to prick the conscience of the country regarding denial of freedom to Negroes."

Court Annuls 2 SLA Penalties

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court's Fourth Department has annulled State Liquor Authority penalties against two Buffalo hotels.

The court ruled here Thursday that attorneys for the hotels Statler Hilton and Stuyvesant were denied due process by not being allowed to fully cross-examine the 17-year-old girl to whom the authority said the hotels served liquor.

The penalties were annulled in separate decisions by 3-1 votes.

Both hotels received 10-day liquor license suspensions from the SLA last spring. The suspensions were held up by the court pending the result of the appeals.

Play Money Girl Finds Turns Out To Be Real Cash

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Little Darlene Spears thought it was only "play money," but what she found on her way to school was more than $300 in real cash.

Darlene, an eight-year-old third-grader, discovered the money in a large, unmarked envelope lying in the middle of an intersection she was crossing Thursday.

Thinking the bills were fake, she gave some of them to classmates. But the money she handed out was later recovered after she showed her teacher the contents of the envelope.

Police said they'll hold the money for six months, and if it's not claimed in that period, Darlene can have it.

Retired Teacher Leaves Estate Of $6 Million

WASHINGTON, Kan. (AP)—Few persons in this northeast Kansas village realized the retired school teacher in their midst was worth $6 million.

Miss Margaret Baker, who died Nov. 21 at age 79, taught school 34 years before retiring about 25 years ago.

"Most people thought she had a little money from some wise investments, but only a couple of us knew just how wealthy she was," F. R. Lobaugh, attorney for the estate's executor, said Thursday.

Miss Baker owned International Business Machine stock worth $5½ million, 12 farms around Washington, and other land in Thomas County, Kan., and Hayes County, Neb.

Lobaugh said Miss Baker inherited a little money from her father, Thomas Baker, a carpenter who patented a device used in scales.

Miss Baker's will lists 166 relatives and 40 farm tenants as heirs.

Since 1954 the United States has spent nearly $2 billion to strengthen South Viet Nam.

Protests Begin As Rochester Bus Strike Continues

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—This city's bus strike goes into its second month today, and it's beginning to bring overt protests from businessmen who are feeling the pinch.

About 50 businessmen marched four blocks down Main Street to City Hall Thursday, carrying signs reading "Let's Talk, Not Walk" and "Gentlemen, Please, Just 22 Shopping Days Left Before Christmas."

Negotiators for the Rochester Transit Corp. and Local 282 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes were scheduled to meet today with State Mediator Milton Goldberg.

Two previous rounds of talks with Goldberg and four rounds with a federal mediator have proved fruitless. The company arbitrated.

Six hundred company drivers and mechanics struck on Nov. 1, leaving Rochester without public transportation.

No sooner was the door closed than the car leaped forward violently, and afterward went racing wildly along the street, narrowly missing collision with innumerable things. The passenger, naturally enough, was terrified. She thrust her head through the open window of the door, and shouted at the taxi driver.

Passenger—Please, be careful, sir! I'm nervous. This is the first time I ever rode in a taxi.

The driver yelled in reply, without turning his head:

Driver — That's all right ma'am. It's the first I ever drove one!

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 1 — Throughout the course of the business recovery thus far, I have heard complaints from many areas that retail trade has not lived up to expectations. This is not to say that the dollar volume of retail sales has fallen off, as my studies show a slight upward trend in the seasonally adjusted sales curve. However, considering the rapid rise in incomes, merchants are disappointed that retail trade has not registered a larger increase.

Importance of Advertising

My studies indicate that periods of prosperity are generally powered by increases in business expenditures for new plant and equipment. In like manner, this is true also of advertising. Well-thought out and forceful advertising campaigns can channel consumer interest to specific products, as well as increase the desire and impatience to buy generally.

Advertising can accomplish most of the selling job before the consumer even goes to the store. Agencies hammer away at creating the desire for the products or services they advertise, utilizing the appeal of basic need, social prestige, physical attraction, etc. Here, then, is the basic power of general business.

Trends in Advertising

Advertising represents a communication of ideas — from the seller to the buyer. Therefore, it is natural that advertising has followed the evolution of mass communication — from newspapers, to radio, to television. Even the increased dependence of our population upon automobiles has had an effect upon advertising. Ads printed on cards and posted inside streetcars and buses were once an important form of promotion. Today, considerably fewer people use public transportation; hence, with fewer readers inside the streetcars and buses, the ads are now being placed or painted on the outside of the vehicles, where they are on open display to pedestrians and riders in private cars. Moreover, outdoor billboards are receiving increased emphasis to attract the attention of automobile drivers and riders.

Changes in consumer shopping habits also should create certain changes in advertising. The development of chain stores, supermarkets, and shopping centers radically affects consumer spending and shopping patterns. The trend toward self-service in retailing makes it highly important to have consumers pre-sold at home, since the smaller sales forces in such stores cannot sell effectively.

New Emphasis Needed

In total, business advertising expenditures continue to trend upward. My studies reveal, however, that for more than a year there has been a slowing down in certain phases of advertising. Except for television, most media in recent months have recorded declines from a year ago.

In prosperous periods, rising sales and profits permit businessmen to allocate larger sums to their advertising budgets. When business drops off, they tend to reduce advertising outlays as a part of their economy programs. This is a great mistake. There should be more advertising when business is depressed and when competition is keenest. This is necessary to stimulate buying interest and demand at a time when business most needs a helping hand. On the other hand, during periods of brisk business and buying impatience, there could be a slacking off in advertising pressure in order to build up funds for the next lag in buying interest. In this way, advertising can be a great stabilizer of business and economic conditions, and it can go far toward helping to eliminate periods of reckless booms and racking depressions.

Opportunities in Advertising

Let me say one more thing. I believe advertising offers good opportunities to young people. Rapidly growing suburban and "community" newspapers may be good employment sources for young folk interested in advertising, and having patience and genuine interest. These publications require advertising which ties in with local interests to the benefit of the community's businesses and its consumers.

OUR ANCESTORS — by Quincy

"Let's all chip in and buy a sail for this thing!"

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — Ernest MacDonald, Philmont, and Ed Mesick, Spencertown, were among Columbia County residents visiting the reservoir country Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kelly and Mrs. Kelly's sister-in-law, Kathryn Loos, all of Inwood, L. I., spent Saturday at their summer place here. Mrs. Loos' eldest daughter, Mrs. William McKinley, and husband are currently on a three weeks' tour of Florida.

Local observers claimed the east bound traffic on Route 28 through the village last Sunday evening was fully as heavy as during the summer months. The procession of cars between five and eight o'clock was almost continuous and traffic coming up the reservoir road had quite a wait at times.

Ed Mack, Clifton, N. J., and Stephen Bodnor of Irvington, N. J., were Sunday callers at the village center museum.

Dr. A. O. Person, Lexington, his son Addison of St. Petersburg, Fla., and grandson, Alfred O. Person, Syracuse, are the fourth generation to join Mountain Lodge 529, F&AM at Windham, Greene County.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Sheinerg, New York City couple, were in Shokan Sunday. They found upon arriving at their Silver Hollow summer place that a partridge had flown against and broken one of the large windows. A similar incident took place there two years ago when a pheasant smashed a picture window.

Dr. Douglas Torre and wife of Woodstock were in Shokan Sunday. They were accompanied by Dr. Torre's mother, Mrs. Peter Torre, and H. C. Mottram, New Orleans, an uncle of the doctor.

Joseph Garone, Upper Montclair, N. J., collector of old firearms, was here early Saturday morning. He was taking home a good-size deer which he had bagged near Prattsville.

Lloyd Hale and son of Long Island spent the weekend at the family camp on the old Stratton Road below the Paltz College recreation center in the Winchell's Falls area. He has been trying to decipher some of the inscriptions on headstones in the old burying-ground near his place and not far from the ruins of the Frederick Bush home where three Bush boys were carried off by Tories and Indians during the Revolutionary War. Hale made out one name, VanGaasbeck Winchell, who may have been a son of the Lemuel Winchell who had a store, gristmill and foundry there 200 years ago.

Fred Morgander, Newark, N. J., man was a Shokan caller Sunday. Jersey people come here in greater number each year. A woman from the Newark area, here earlier in November, reported that following her visit last summer a Jersey friend sent her a news item from The Freeman about it. She hadn't known The Freeman circulated so far, and seemed quite pleased over the incident.

One time Shokan residents in town last weekend included Richard Griffith who for many years has lived near Paterson, N. J., where two brothers, William and Charles, also make their home. James, eldest of the four boys who lived in the present James Fairbairn house some 40 years ago, has died since leaving Shokan.

Harry Sylvanus, Beacon resident and one of the most consistent Ashokan Reservoir fishermen, year after year, was here Thursday. He says he never saw so much dry land and so little water in the west basin as was the case last week.

Mrs. Lester Leone of the village center spent Saturday in Creek Locks at the home of her brother, George Bobelle, who had just returned from Michigan where he spent several months with relatives in the Detroit area.

Homer Markle who died Nov. 26 in Kingston, was one of Olive's best known citizens. A house painter, Mr. Markle had been a member of the town board of assessors for the past several years. Born in New York City, son of Homer and Julia Bellows Markle, he later lived at Glen Cove, L. I., and attended high school there. The family moved here and took up residence in the old Markle homestead along the West Butternutkill about 40 years ago.

Denies Prostitute Is College Cook

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A Syracuse University spokesman denies that a convicted prostitute is a cook in a campus fraternity house.

Earle Clifford Jr., university dean of men, said Thursday he had not found any information to substantiate a claim by Antoinette Wilson, 25, the prostitute, that she was "cook at a fraternity house on the Hill."

Miss Wilson made the statement last week when she testified as a prosecution witness in a narcotics trial here.

Report on Water

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) —For a change, most western New Yorkers can't cry that they have too little or too much water this fall, a water specialist said today.

In most places, wells are fairly full and city water supplies are adequate, Prof. Harrry Kerr of the State Agriculture College reported. He said an exception was the region northwest of Geneva, where the weather has been dry for months.

Maine passed its Prohibition Law in 1858, the first step toward the 18th Amendment of 1919.

Governor Calls Off Trip Upstate

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller will not make a three-day visit to the Utica-Rome area next week as planned.

The governor's offfice said Thursday a new date for the visit, which was to have been next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, has not been set.

The postponement resulted from Rockefeller's absence from the country for the last 10 days to search for his son, Michael, missing in Dutch New Guinea.

19 Future Boatmen Qualify To Operate Craft by Selves

The majority of boats are to roost for the winter, so senior members of the Kingston Power Boat Association are directing most of their interest to teach-in the New York State Young Boatmen's Safety Course at the club on Abeel Street.

Last week, 19 future boatmen successfully passed the examination prescribed by the Conservation Department, Division of Motorboats, under the guidance of Cleon Jump, Charles Kohl and Joseph Huber, certified instructors for the Conservation Department in this area.

The instructors proudly noted that a large percentage of this class was from the Girl Scout Troop 131 of St. James Church under the guidance of Mrs. Reynolds Van Keuren, troop leader, who saw that they got to classes on time.

The course "Make Sure Make Shore" teaches the young boatman what to do from the time he leaves the wharf to the tieing up on the return of a cruise. The course covers fire hazards, channel markers, life saving, first aid, etc.

All boys and girls in the age bracket of 10 to 15 years must take and pass this course in order to operate a power boat on his own without having an adult along in the craft he may be operating. This is New York State law and must be complied with as the Conservation Department has patrol boats operating on all waterways throughout the state during the boating season.

The following have received their graduation certificate and in the near future will receive from the Motor Boat Division of the New York State Conservation Department a waterproof permit to the bearer to operate a power boat without an adult on board.

The 19 boating enthusiasts who will receive their Safety Boating cards are as follows:

Kevin R. Steuding, and Fred R. Steuding, RFD 3, Kingston.

Robert L. Newton, 200 Broadway, Port Ewen.

Elaine M. Burgher, 43 Glen Street; Margaret Anne McHugh, 24 Elizabeth Street; Patricia Oblender, 156 Prospect Street; Marylou Josefski, 88 Wrentham Street; Penelope Kay Chase, 172 Wrentham Street; Kenny Rutledge, 175 Hasbrouck Avenue; Irene Elizabeth Jansen, 105 Hone Street; Lois Ann Jansen, 105 Hone Street; David Rodney Carey, 65 Maple Street; Jean Edna McDermott, 11 Brewster Street.

Donald C. Rattray, Meadowview, Port Ewen; Ronald Joseph Vitarius, 205 Sunset Drive, Port Ewen.

Matthew J. Lewis Jr., Davies Street, Rosendale.

Due to the approaching holidays there will be no more courses at the Kingston Power Boat Association until after the first of the year. Anyone desiring further information may get it by calling Cleon Jump between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Discuss All Phases of Regional Development

The Catskill Mountain Development Council, a four-county organization formed some eight months ago to promote recreation in the Catskill Mountain area, met Wednesday at the Kingston-Stuyvesant Hotel to discuss plans. From left are Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson; Ronald B. Peterson, deputy commissioner of New York State Department of Commerce; Greene County Clerk Neal Brandow; Victor Glider, superintendent camps and trails, Conservation Department; State Senator E. Ogden Bush; W. D. Mulholland, assistant state director of lands and forests; Tom Quick, president of The Catskill Mountain Development Council. Council membership represents Ulster, Delaware, Greene and Sullivan counties.

A long range program for expansion of the recreational, industrial and commercial development of the Catskill Mountain area was advocated by Deputy Commissioner Ronald B. Peterson, State Department of Commerce, at a meeting of the Catskill Mountain Development Council on Wednesday at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

This he stated would create income for this section and thus result in a healthier economic climate for this region of the state.

Recently Formed

The Catskill Mountain Development Council was formed some eight months ago through the joint efforts of State Senator E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson. The purpose of the Council was then designated as a means for promotion of the recreational facilities in the Catskill Mountain area.

Commissioner Peterson suggested the council expand its aims beyond the field of recreation and at his suggestion the council agreed that a Regional Planning Group should be established in the near future to encompass the entire field of regional economic development and that the original council, the Catskill Mountain Development Council would continue to function in its original program for expansion of recreational facilities of the area.

Tom Quick, president of the council, presided and introduced the council's special guests, Peterson, W. D. Mulholland, assistant director for Land and Forests, Conservation Department; Victor Glider, superintendent of Camps and Trails, Conservation Department.

Senator Bush stated that steps have been taken by the council to further recreational facilities in the Catskill area. He said that the state officials had been invited to this meeting for the purpose of determining "where to go from here."

Assemblyman Wilson commented on the lack of public recreational facilities throughout the Catskill region both summer and winter including marinas, golf courses and camp sites.

Concurs With Opinion

Director Mulholland said he concurred with the long range planning opinion suggested by Peterson, and that his department would lend support to proper and feasible suggestions in the area. Glider informed the gathering that several suggestions have already been submitted to his department by the council and that studies were being made. He invited the council to continue to submit proposals and assured the meeting that they would be given due and proper consideration.

Also attending were: Reginald E. Every, Mt. Tremper; Clarence A. Sanford, Margaretville; S. James Matthews, Kingston; John Bullock, Loch Sheldrake; Arthur Quick, Westkill; C. D. Lane, Windham; Jesse McHugh, Wallkill; Albert Kurdt, Kingston; Neal Brandow, West Coxsackie and Wallace M. Wynkeep, Downsville.

Appeals to State To Preserve Mood Of Hurley Hamlet

A plea to the New York State Public Works Department to save the historic atmosphere of Hurley was made this week by Stephen S. Waligurski, town historian.

In a letter to J. Burch McMorran, state superintendent of public works, dated Nov. 28, Waligurski asked that the historic environment of Hurley village be preserved in spite of the current road construction in that area.

Waligurski stressed the fact that Hurley village has been designated at a national historic site by the Department of the Interior and National Registry. Its Dutch architecture is unique not only in the state but in the nation Waligurski said.

He urged that the state "reappraise the impression . . . construction would produce on the . . . village." He suggested construction of an overpass "the appearance of which will conform to the colonial environment," with landscaping to produce the proper "aesthetic effect."

Lastly Waligurski asked that signs be appropriate. "We do not want a psychiartric nightmare on our village doorstep, such as appear in Kingston at Broadway-Albany Avenue interchange."

The state is constructing a highway paralleling Route 209 from Marbletown line through Hurley to the Thruway interchange at Route 28.

Free Enterprise Is Almost Gone, Thomas Laments

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Socialist leader Norman Thomas says there isn't much free enterprise left in the United States because military spending has greatly influenced the nation's economy.

"Nine to 10 per cent of the total national product goes into the arms race," Thomas told a University of California Audience Wednesday. He said a third of the country's scientists and engineers work for the military and some five million workers are dependent upon it.

"The money can't be spent in open competitive bidding. Contracts have to be given. And the Pentagon will never think it has enough," said the 77-year-old Thomas.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Victoria Regina," Lawrence Housman's play that became Helen Hayes' greatest acting triumph, has been adapted into a 90-minute television drama. Shown Thursday night on NBC, it was a beautifully produced, meticulously performed series of vignettes about the great British queen from her accession as a young girl to widowed old age.

Perhaps the play suffered from the necessity of chopping it into bits to follow the rigid TV commercial form. Or perhaps—and this is most likely—the vital elements missing were Miss Hayes and Vincent Price, who originally played Prince Albert.

Miss Harris, certainly a most skillful actress, never really became Queen Victoria. She was all actress as a naive young girl, a jealous wife and a sorrowing widow, with skillful make-up aging from 18 to 78 over 90 minutes. She never was convincing as the great imperious queen, not even in the now famous quarrel with her husband.

Nevertheless, it was a rewarding and eye-filling broadcast. James Donald looked handsome and performed competantly as Albert. But the TV version of contemporary classic proved again that it is almost impossible to remake satisfactorily a play which a great performer has made his own property. Comparison is inevitable, and inevitably the original stars get the best of it.

Panel Discusses Mental Health at Lions' Meeting

Mental health treatment through Ulster County Mental Health Center was discussed Tuesday at the weekly luncheon meeting of Kingston Lions Club.

A special panel of people associated with the Ulster County Mental Health Center answered various questions concerned with mental health.

The panel included the supervising psychiatric social worker, Mrs. Virginia Robison, Franklin Hazard, assistant superintendent of Kingston schools; Dr. Elbert MacFadden, local pediatrician; County Judge Raymond J. Mino, Dr. Herbert Lange, psychologist at the local clinic, and Dr. Edward Shea.

The panel was introduced by the Rev. David C. Gaise. Moderator for the panel was Harry Thayer, radio newscaster.

Cites Aid to Schools

Hazard was called to answer the question, How can a fully operating mental health clinic help the schools? Hazard replied by saying one million children in the U. S. have emotional problems. One of eight has had, will have, or is currently under psychiatric care.

There is a special need for those in grades 6, 7, and 8. Many of the children have normal intelligence and are difficult to diagnose because of their introversion. School personnel is not trained to make the diagnosis.

Answering the question of how a mental health clinic helps the pediatrician, Dr. MacFadden told of the inadequacies of the child guidance clinic that had existed and the superiority of the current center. He spoke of the team of the psychiatrist, the psychologist, and the social worker and how much they can do for the patient.

Judge Mino was questioned as to how the center helped those who appear before him, both in county court and children's court. Judge Mino told how they use the center to find out why children transgress. They refer children to the clinic for proper testing.

If the court feels, Judge Mino concluded, that the conduct of a child indicates clinical help is needed, the center is asked to furnish that help.

Mrs. Robison, asked to outline the operations of the clinic, related that the state supervises the center and maintains the quality of the help through it's licensing bureau. It has the power to grant state aid, 50 cents on the dollar, to the center. However, the County of Ulster has control of the budget.

Regarding treatment, she listed the following procedures:

1. Any person residing or working in Ulster County may apply for treatment if that person feels they need it. However, 60 per cent of the patients are referred to the clinic.

2. Patient contacts the clinic directly. This is to get him started off helping himself.

3. Patients are put on the waiting list as a result of the lack of an adequate number on the staff.

4. About 25 per cent of all patients seen are children and the center team sees all those related to the child.

Speaks of Teamwork

Dr. Herbert Lange answered the question of "What is the Psychiatric Team?" Each member of the team must be interested in the community. He related the duties of each member of the team.

Dr. Edward Shea spoke of progress made in Ulster County Mental Health services. He explained the mentally ill need help the most since most cannot help themselves. He told of acquiring an eminent psychiatrist, Dr. Maurice Greenhill, whom the county was fortunate to have at one time.

Dr. Shea stated that as the budget for the Ulster County clinic rose from $32,000 to over $50,000, the clinic was hindered by controls.

Teamster Urges Drastic Change of JobsClaimsGroup

NEW YORK (AP) —A Teamsters Union official has called for a "sweeping and drastic reorganization" of the State Workmen's Compensation Board to give board membership to "labor, national minorities and the public in adequate numbers."

John J. DeLury, president of Local 831, Uniformed Sanitation Men's Association of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, made the statement at a hearing of the Joint Legislative Committee on Industrial and Labor Conditions Thursday.

DeLury said delays in processing claims force workers onto welfare and into slums. He called for bigger benefits for injured persons and larger dependency benefits.

Board Chairman Sol E. Senior spent nearly two hours on the witness stand defending the board's policies.

Senior said administrative changes had brought about quicker, more equitable and economic payment of "all legitimate claims."

Bingo Players Pay $108 Million in Four Years

Game Is Big Business and Must Be Treated as Such Is Opinion

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The $108 million spent to play bingo in New York State during the four years the game has been legalized demonstrates bingo is "big business" and must be treated as such, the chairman of the State Lottery Control Commission said Thursday.

Richards W. Hannah said in releasing the commission's semi-annual report that the "burden" of enforcing bingo laws remained with the commisssion's "'limited staff." He noted, however, what he called "a little more activity on the part of local municipalities."

$76 Million Won

The commission reported that 31-million players had won total prizes of $76 million, that sponsoring organizations had made $25.2 million in profits and that the balance had gone to pay expenses.

These figures, he said, "clearly demonstrate that bingo is big business and must be treated and regulated as such.'"

Hannah made no reference to a current investigation of bingo by a Moreland Act Commission appointed by Gov. Rockefeller.

The commission was named after disclosures that criminal elements had profited from some bingo games and that there had been other irregularities.

Legalized by Voters

Bingo was legalized by New York State voters under a local-option amendment to the state Constitution. Voters in each community must decide whether to allow the game within their respective borders.

Religious, charitable, veterans, fraternal and other specified non-profit organizations may sponsor games.

The lottery control commission also reported that:

Bingo now is played in 61 of the state's 62 counties, with Hamilton County the only exception.

A total of 1,296 organizations have been licensed to play.

Church Raises $32,726

Of the total number of organizations 374 are in New York City, 140 are in Erie County, 76 in Nassau and 56 in Suffolk County.

Total profits reported ranged to $32,726, which was reported by the church of The Most Precious Blood in Long Island City.

Reexamination Is Hults Idea for Drivers' Vision

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — The state motor vehicles commissioner says he will ask the 1962 Legislature for authority to reexamine drivers, particularly in regard to eyesight.

Commissioner William S. Hults Jr. would not give details of his proposal but said Thursday night he would recommend that the bill be submitted to the state's governing body when it convenes next month.

Drivers now are required to be examined for vision and driving ability only upon initial application for licenses.

Several previous attempts in the Legislature to initiate a reexamination policy, with emphasis on eyesight, have failed.

Hults said the federal government would play a bigger role in motor vehicle administration if states did not do more to promote highway safety.

In addition to reexamination, Hults recommended that New York State (1) count bail forfeitures as convictions for purposes of revocation or suspension of licenses, and (2) apply New Yorkers' out-of-state traffic convictions against their New York records.

A DUPLICATE WEDDING GIFT

Q: If a bride receives a wedding gift which is a duplicate of one she has already received and there is no indication where the gift was brought, is it proper to telephone the person and ask her if she would mind exchanging it for something else?

A: She must either exchange it herself or find some use for it as she cannot ask anyone, except a member of her family or a most intimate friend, to take back a gift and exchange it for her.

Bride's Parents Live Abroad

Q: Last year while I was abroad studying I met a girl and fell in love with her. She is coming to this country soon and we are to be married. Her parents will not be able to come here for the wedding. We intend to be married quietly in church with members of my family and a few close friends attending. After the ceremony there will be a small reception at my parents' house. I have many friends and relatives to whom I would like to send announcements. In whose names should they be sent?

A: As your parents are giving the wedding, the invitations may properly go out in their names, but announcements should be sent in the names of your fiancee's parents even though they are living abroad.

Introducing Her Young Stepmother

Q: I need your help on the proper way to introduce my new stepmother. She is much younger than my father and too young, I think, to be called Mother. Anyway, I don't really want to call anyone else Mother. She said I should call her Elizabeth, which is her name. But when I want to introduce my friends to her I do not know what to say as she resents my calling her stepmother and I can't introduce her as Elizabeth. Can you offer a solution?

A: Since your stepmother resents being called by this name, the only alternative would be to introduce her as "My father's wife."

Barbara Ann Auringer-William McCabe Jr. Exchange Vows at Presentation Church

Miss Barbara Ann Auringer and William A. McCabe Jr., exchanged marriage vows before a nuptial Mass on November 11 at Church of the Presentation in Port Ewen. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Auringer Sr., Port Ewen. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. McCabe Sr., Port Ewen.

Officiating was the Rev. Joseph Kerins, CSsR. Miss Diane Maurer was organist and Richard Scherer was soloist.

White pompons decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length taffeta gown the neckline of which was scalloped and outlined with Chantilly lace. The bodice was fitted along princess lines, and the bouffant skirt featured panels of lace. A queen's crown held a fingertip silk illusion veil. The bride carried white pompons with roses and cascades of ivy.

Mrs. Madeline R. Stine of Kingston was matron of honor. She wore a blue street length taffeta gown and carried white pompons with red tea roses.

Miss Linda L. Lambert of Esopus and Miss Edwina C. Schultz of Kingston were bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to that worn by the honor attendant. They carried white pompons with yellow tea roses.

Traditional Story Of Christmas At Old Dutch, Dec. 5

Carrying on a tradition of some 14 years, the Old Dutch Church will once again bring the true story of Saint Nicholas—his white horse, small aide, Black Peter—to the community on Tuesday, Dec. 5 at 6:30 p. m. In the churchyard at the corner of Main and Wall Streets, a typical Dutch family scene will be depicted. Characters in Dutch costumes will be making preparations for the Saint's visit, and the mother will tell the story of the real "Santa Claus."

Although it is customary to regard Santa Claus as a myth, historically, he was none other than St. Nicholas, Bishop of Myra, who died in 343 A.D. Our "Santa Claus" is but an American distortion of the old old Dutch name "Sant Niklass," which means Saint Nicholas. Many lovely tales are told of this saintly Bishop, and from them have evolved the customs of hanging up the Christmas stocking, the giving of gifts at this season, and other joyous practices. His red Bishop's robe and his white beard are naturally copied by those who imitate him at Christmas time.

For hundreds of years Saint Nicholas has been the patron Saint of children and when the early Dutch settlers first came to New Amsterdam, the image of Saint Nicholas was on the deck of their ship. The Festival of Saint Nicholas' Eve was observed in the Hudson Valley up until the end of the 19th century on the traditional December 5, but the custom was eventually combined with the holy day, December 25.

Fourteen years ago the Old Dutch Church revived this tradition as a community service, and on Tuesday evening at approximately 6:45, Saint Nicholas will arrive at the little Dutch house in the churchyard, and distribute candy to the throngs of waiting children.

The public is cordially invited.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK ALMQUIST

Miss Ruth Ann Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Warren of Rifton, and Frank Andrew Almquist, son of Mrs. Ann Almquist of Chippewa Fall, Wis., exchanged nuptial vows in a double ring ceremony at St. Peter's Church in Rosendale Saturday, Nov. 25 at 4 p. m. the Rev. John Curry officiated.

The church was decorated with white mums and family pews were marked with white satin ribbon. Musical selections were Ave Maria, Panis Angelicus and Mother Beloved.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk peau soie in princess style fashioned with a molded bodice trimmed with Alencon lace, long tapered sleeves, and a scoop neckline. The bouffant skirt, with a cutaway back, was accented with butterfly bustle which swept back into a chapel train. Her fingertip English illusion veil was secured to a Princess crown of cut crystal. She carried a cascade bouquet of white mums centered with a white orchid corsage.

Miss Anita M. Rimmi of Rifton was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina gown of satin elegance in romance blue that featured a cut away back and bell shaped skirt, scoop neckline and three-quarter sleeves. Her headpiece was a princess crown of romance blue and flirtation veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of American beauty roses and white mums with pink satin streamer.

Other attendants were Miss Elaine P. Almquist, sister of the bridegroom from Chippewa Falls, Wis.; and Miss Petra Albers of Rifton. They wore gowns of identical styling to that of the honor attendant's except in powder blue. The headpieces were fitted capulets of satin in matching color. They carried colonial bouquets of crimson roses and pink mums with pink satin streamers.

Niece of the bride, Miss Wendy Warren was the flower girl. She wore floor length gown of white nylon mist over taffeta with a royal blue taffeta cummerbund. She wore a miniature crown of white flowers and carried a fireside basket of assorted flowers matching the wedding party's bouquets.

Best man was Walter G. Warren, brother of the bride. Ushers were Max Wunderlich and William E. Nicholson.

Mother of the bride wore a royal blue silk brocade sheath with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Brucellosis End Is Possible by 1975

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says brucellosis, a costly disease of live stock and man, can be eradicated from the United States by 1975.

Dr. C. K. Mingle of the department's research service said the 1975 goal is realistic if present progress against the disease continues.

He said that brucellosis now costs the livestock industry about $25 million a year compared with $100 million in 1954 when an intensified drive against the disease got underway.

South Trapped by Part Score

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Sometimes a part score acts as a trap. North had a nice comfortable 13-point opening bid and with nothing on score he would simply have passed his partner's one no-trump response. With 30 on score he reasoned that he was within one trick of game and decided to gamble it.

East was also in a gambling mood. His opponents had reached game and East wanted a heart lead. He had an easy way to get it. He doubled the two no-trump bid and hoped for the best.

The best is exactly what happened. West led the eight of hearts. Dummy's nine lost to East's ten and East returned the three of spades. South played the seven and dummy's ace captured West's eight.

A club was taken by East's king and the jack of spades lead produced three spade tricks for the defense. Then West led a second heart and eventually East made a second heart trick and the ace of clubs while West made his queen of clubs. Down three for a loss of 800 points.

If South had not let the part score trap him, he would have passed one no-trump. East would surely have passed also and if West opened a spade, South might actually have made the hand. In any event, he would not have lost anything like 800 points.

N.Y. Averts Bus Strike, Contract Terms Extended

NEW YORK (AP) —A strike against the city's seven private bus companies has been averted for at least a month.

An agreement to extend work contracts and continue negotiations was announced ½ hours before midnight's strike deadline Thursday, set by the Transport Workers Union.

The union had threatened to call 8,000 drivers and mechanics off the job.

Announcement of the extension of contracts to midnight Dec. 31 was made by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who had requested the delay during his mediation efforts, and by Matthew Guinan, president of the union's Local 100.

'Bird in Flight' Must Leave Gallery Site

DETROIT (AP) — An abstract sculpture called "Bird in Flight" has been told to find another place to roost.

The sculpture now perches on the easement between the street and the sidewalk in front of an art gallery. Gallery owners William House and Ernest Aretakis were told it violates an ordinance.

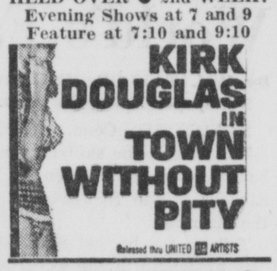

House said he and Aretakis installed the sculpture to "add beauty to the city."

He said 1,000 people in the neighborhood had signed petitions urging the Common Council not to disturb the sculpture.

But the council said it must be moved.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
A PMovie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene:

Bing Crosby may be donning priest's robes again, if his present plans go through. He expects his next movie to be "The Devil's Advocate," taken from the best-selling novel by Morris West.

The details have to be worked out with Warner Brothers, but Bing appears eager to play the role of the priest who investigates a candidate for sainthood. It would be his most dramatic role to date.

Italian Setting

It would also be his second film in a row overseas. He just returned from "The Road to Hong Kong" in London. "The Devil's Advocate" would be filmed in a small Italian town.

Bing has played a priest thrice before—as Father O'Malley in "Going My Way" (1944) and "Bells of St. Mary's" (1945) and in "Say One for Me" (1959).

The town is talking about the photo layout of Shirley MacLaine in a men's magazine (Esquire). It's supposed to be a take-off on girlie calendars, and Shirley did just that—take off. In one shot she is clothed only in a diaper, in another, a filmy bridal veil. One photo shows her partly hidden by a tree trunk but otherwise stark naked.

Many local figures have expressed the opinion that the layout shows more skin than satire. "Why would Shirley do it?" asked one famous actress.

Shirley doesn't have to answer the questioners. She's in Europe until late December.

Gregory Peck finally finished his segment in "How the West Was Won." Said he: "And I thought it was going to be a three-week job." It turned into four months.

Back in February

He'll take it easy until February, when he starts "To Kill a Mockingbird." "It will be a stay-at-home, rather than a runaway production," he explained. "They are building a small southern town at Universal."

Millionaires Randolph Scott and Joel McCrea are having fun with their first co-starring film "Guns in the Afternoon." They're even talking about making a picture together every year.

The two veterans suggested this billing: "Mariette Hartley and Ronald Starr in 'Guns in the Afternoon' — introducing Randolph Scott and Joel McCrea."

Killed by Car

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Lucy Troiano, 65, of Syracuse, was killed Thursday night when hit by an automobile as she walked to a church near her home.

Correction on Coats

In the advertisement last night of 17 Cornell Street Factory Outlet the 100 per cent wool car coats selling at $3.95 should have been poplin coats with quilt lining selling at that price.

If it be true that there are always two sides to a story, let us ponder the plight of the deerslayers who claim they are being victimized by a little steel tag that accompanies the state's party permit system.

Several hunters have complained that the steel tag on the deer permit is a mechanical monstrosity that can be solved only by qualified engineers.

It's a simple ball-type seal that is self-locking," says the veteran game official. "There is nothing complicated about it, but the arm band must be pierced. Once the seal is locked it cannot be unlocked."

During the roadblock recently in Quarryville, some 33 hunters were checked for violations. "Most were for the arm band infractions,' said Overbaugh. "If the hunters would only use a little common sense, everybody would be happy and stay within the law."

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Ernie Davis, the gifted Syracuse University All-America halfback who became the first Negro ever to win the Heisman Award, hopes to wrap up a sensational collegiate career in a blaze of glory on Dec. 16 when the Orange participates in the third annual Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia. With 203 yards gained aginst Boston College, Davis topped a fourth major Jim Brown career record at Syracuse. The Elmira Express wound up with 3,414 yards gained via all manners of attack. Brown's mark was 3,225 yards. The other major Brown career records smashed by Davis were: rushing, 2,386 yards; touchdowns, 35; and scoring, 220 points. Ernie also topped Brown records for average gain rushing, 6.6 per carry; and average gain total offense, 6.8 yards per play . . . Davis, incidentally is Syracuse's first repeat All-America since Joe Alexander was named in 1918 and 1919. Syracuse coach Ben Schwartzwalder's conduct following the Syracuse-Notre Dame game of Nov. 18 earned Ben nomination for a special sportsmanship award by Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago. Daley wired Schwarzwalder: "Your conduct at Notre Dame wins the trophy for you hands down." Schwartzwalder was unable to accept the trophy in person due to preparations for the upcoming Liberty Bowl game...With all the returns in on the hotly disputed field goal that enabled Notre Dame to beat Syracuse, don't you think it's time for the Fighting Irish to graciously concede the game?

• Of Men and Mice:

Harlem Globetrotters and Meadow Lark Lemon at the State Armory Saturday night . . . Reservations for the Jack Hughes testimonial in Middletown have passed the 250 mark. It's scheduled on Saturday, Dec. 9, at the Middletown armory...Hughes was one of the original Big Five (all-purpose) coaches and ADs of the DUSO conference. The others, of course, being the late Al Chase, Port Jervis; C. Everett Stevens, Newburgh; Sam J. Kalloch, Poughkeepsie; and our own G. Warren Kias at Kingston High. Kias, Hughes and Stevens have long since yielded to the age of specialization...Portly Sam Kalloch is the lone holdout—he still coaches all the major sports by himself. Incidentally, when are the good burghers of Poughkeepsie going to get off their hindmost and tender a testimonial to Sam Kalloch? Certainly, this all-time high school coaching great in this part of the country deserves such a tribute...What's this rumor being ghosted around town that our recent reference to the Kingston-Original Celtic "worlds championship" series was incomplete? Something about a "sixth" game and a $5,000 payoff that never made the record books? Will the author of this bit of fantasy please come forward with the evidence . . . The buzz at the DUSO sportswriters-sportscasters session was that Coach John Whitehead of Middletown is not long for the DUSO league. Heading for more lucrative climes. After three straight years as Coach of the Year what else is left?

Etchells Builds, Sails World's Fastest Stars

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

STAMFORD, Conn. — (NEA) —If a Star is the sailboat that's built like a violin, then E. W. Etchells is the Stradavarius of the business.

Talk to the hottest Star skippers anywhere in the world and they tell about boats from this Connecticut craftsman that they've seen or sailed.

A real racing machine, the Star is considered a thoroughbred of the sport. Sailors spend days tuning the rigging, polishing the sleek bottom and practicing to get the sensitive touch necessary to drive the boat for top speed.

Many fleets haul every boat out of the water after every race to keep hulls from gathering scum or adding any weight through absorption.

Like many successful sailors, Skip Etchells grew up away from the water. He learned naval architecture at the University of Michigan. He built his first Star while working in shipyards on the west coast. After the war he trailed the boat, Shillalah, to Connecticut. He started winning races and began building Stars for other sailors who hoped a new boat could help them win.

Each of these 22-foot sloops must be built to exacting measurements so that all are almost alike. It is the precise refinements which Etchells builds in which seem to account for their edge of speed and popularity. The finest woods and fittings are used for strength and lightness so that the boats can ghost along in light airs, yet slug into heavier going without coming apart when the wind pipes up.

Of the 25 boats Etchells builds a year, one went to a broker in Norway in 1956. Last year Skip found out its real owner when the American boat was sailed by two Russians to an Olympic championship off Naples, the first ever won by the U.S.S.R.

Never a Medal

Etchells has never won an Olympic gold medal, but he has a world championship to his credit and a trophy case of other top awards. For a number of years his wife, Mary, was his winning crew. Now he has a son, 11, and daughter, 9, who may soon be sailing with him.

Headquarters of Etchell's Old Greenwich Boat Company is in a building on Stamford's waterfront. Careful insulation shuts out the cold of New England winters for the red cedar planks of each hull are bedded in waterproof glues and sealed with the latest epoxy paints that require perfect temperature control.

Everdur silicon bronze fastenings further secure every plank and frame.

Special trailers are built by Etchells to cradle properly a Star's sensitive hull. The fully rigged sailboat, sails and trailer would come to about $4,500. Right now several are being shipped to top skippers in Italy.

Hawks to Face Albany State at High School Gym

The basketball team of the State University College, New Paltz, opens its 1961-62 season against Albany Sate Saturday, 8 p. m., at the New Paltz Central school gym.

Douglas Sheppard, starting his first season as varsity coach at the school, has just completed coaching the most successful cross- country team in the college's history. He doesn't figure to do nearly as well in basketball.

The Hawks received a big blow when senior Artie Gribbins a regular the past two seasons, dropped out of school. He was being counted on for most of the scoring.

No Seniors on Squad

There are no seniors on the 14-man roster that will take the court against the Albany club. The squad includes four freshmen, two sophomores and eight juniors. Eight of the players saw action last season.

Bob Dillman Queens Village junior and high scorer in 1960-61, is among the returnees. Bill King, a six-foot junior from White Plains and a starter the past two seasons, is fighting for a starting berth, as is Eddy Szymanski, a junior from West Babylon.

Junior Jim Martyn from Ronkonkoma is another returning starter and he's expected to see plenty of service. Dave Hawkins, junior from Middletown and Mike Hazelton, sophomore from Copiague, have been moved up from the jayvee squad.

Three transfer students expected to aid are 6-4 Mike Kellett, the biggest player on the roster; John White, a six-foot jumping jack from Hudson and Artie Stockin, a 5-8 hustler from Kerhonkson. Fred Koeler, a sophomore from Huntington Station, completes the squad of upper classmen.

Freshmen on the roster are Alex Hazelton, Phil Benicasa, Hank Osterhoudt and Gary Bowen.

Three Brothers Will Risk Lead Against Joneses

Home town teams will be knocking heads against each other Saturday night in the Hudson Valley bowling league.

Three Brothers Egg Farm (21-11) leading three other local teams by three games, invades Ferraro's Bowlerama to take on Jones Dairy in a position-night encounter. At the same time, Charles Ramsey Corp. hosts Bowling Time, Inc. Both have 19-14 marks to tie Jones Dairy.

Miron Lumber (17-16) five games off the pace travels to Middletown Merchants.

Ferraro Takes Lead

Jack Ferraro of Jones Dairy sent his average soaring to 204.23 last Sunday to replace Sam Fisher of Ellenville as the leader. Fisher now has 202.14 in 33 games and is trailed by John Ferraro, 201.13, and Vince Carpino, 201.11.

League records remained unchanged last weekend. Sam Fisher's 278-765 and Jones Dairy's 1136-3231 still hold the fort.

Top Tilts Highlight Cage Debut

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major college basketball, rocked by its second widespread scandal in a decade, opens a new season tonight with a job on its hands.

After the scandals of 1950-51, it took the better part of five years before the shocked public forgot its jibes about bribes and began accepting the sport, particularly in the big, publicized arenas of the East.

What kind of reception is in store for basketball this time, after sweeping disclosures that dragged in the names of 37 players from 22 colleges and universities, is anyone's guess.

Back again are such exceptional players as Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Chet Walker of Bradley, Len Chappell and Billy Packer of Wake Forest, Art Hayman of Duke, Billy McGill of Utah, Dave Debusschere of Detroit, Johnny Rudometkin of Southern California, Vinnie Ernst and Jimmy Hadnot of Providence.

Also Don Nelson of Iowa, Gary Roggenburk of Dayton, Carroll Broussard of Texas A&M, Del Ray Mounts and Harold Hudgens of Texas Tech, and Paul Hogue, Tony Yates and Tom Thacker of Cinderella Cincinnati, the Bearcat bunch that upset mighty Ohio State in overtime in the NCAA championship final at Kansas City last March.

Ohio State, picked to again top the nation's teams in the pre-season poll of The Associated Press panel, returns with John Havlicek and Mel Nowell to accompany player of the year Lucas.

Many Big Games

The major schedule, which moves immediately into high gear Saturday, opens with a score or more big games tonight—headed by Southern California at Missouri, Florida at Duke, Mt. St. Marys at Providence, and West Texas at Seattle.

In some Saturday features, Indiana State is at Cincinnati, Florida State at Ohio State, New Mexico at Kansas State, Southern California at Oklahoma, Pitt at Purdue, Bradley at Bowling Green, Wyoming at Wichita, Iowa at Evansville, Virginia at North Carolina, DePaul at Minnesota, William and Mary at West Virginia, Georgia Tech at Rice, Tennessee at North Carolina State, Utah at Arizona State U., Davidson at Wake Forest and three "big arena" doubleheaders:

Manhattan vs. Dartmouth and NYU vs. Virginia Tech at Madison Square Garden; St. Joseph's (Pa) vs. Bucknell and Scranton vs. Villanova at Philadelphia's Palestra; and St. Bonaventure vs. Kent and Canisius vs. Ohio U. at Buffalo, N.Y.

Montreal, Leafs Play to 1-1 Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs finished their two-game, man-to-man battle for first place in the National Hockey League just the way they started it—tied.

The Canadiens and Leafs, getting superb goal tending jobs from Johnny Bower and Jacques Plante, skated to a 1-1 tie in Montreal Thursday night, their second tie in as many nights. They drew 2-2 in Toronto Wednesday.

It left them sharing first place, each with 29 points, three ahead of third-place New York, idle the last two nights.

Detroit put the brakes to its skid by inserting Hank Bassen in goal and taking a 3-1 victory over hapless Boston in the only other NHL activity Thursday night.

Police Keglers Will Roll Two Exhibitions for AHRC

The Kingston Patrolmen's Association bowling all-stars will roll two exhibition matches in behalf of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children, Inc.

The first will be against the Kingston Lawyers on Saturday, Dec. 16, at 8 p. m. at Sangi's Bowlero on Cedar Street. A second match pits the Patrolmen against Ruger's Mobil Service mixed team.

Proceeds of both matches go to the AHRC's Ulster county division. The public is invited.

Army, Navy Winner May Get Bid to Rose Bowl

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1961 college football season finishes its regular campaign on Saturday with its annual military maneuver in gigantic Philadelphia Stadium when Army meets Navy before President Kennedy and 102,000 fans.

Indications are that one of the two service schools may get to play UCLA in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day in one of two bowl spots to be decided as the curtain falls on another hectic season. If it isn't a service academy, it will probably be either Minnesota or Michigan State of the Big Ten.

The other is the Bluebonnet Bowl spot left open for Rice (6-3) if it wins over Baylor (5-4). The latter already is ticketed for New York's Gotham Bowl against Utah State, win, lose or draw.

Crimson Favored

Alabama's Crimson Tide (9-1), playing Auburn, could nail down the No. 1 spot in next week's final Associated Press poll, and with it the mythical national title, plus a share of the Southeastern Conference title with Louisiana State.

The Tide has already indicated it will go to the Sugar Bowl to face Arkansas, making the announcement official after its game against Auburn. The Auburn Tigers (6-3), incidentally, are hoping for a Rice defeat that could send them into the Bluebonnet Bowl against Kansas.

Mississippi, ranked fifth, and sixth-ranked Colorado are the only other of the elite to see action. The Rebels (8-1) play Mississippi State (5-4) and are expected to announce acceptance of a Cotton Bowl bid to play Texas on New Year's Day.

Colorado, 8-1, with the Big Eight Title and a trip to the Orange Bowl all wrapped up, plays Air Force (3-6). Two other bowl clubs also get their last regular season tests. Georgia Tech, 6-3, and set to face Penn State in the Gator Bowl, meets Georgia (3-6), and Miami (Fla.) 6-3, and ticketed for a Dec. 16 date against Syracuse in Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl, plays Florida (4-4-1).

Irish Face Duke

Other closing day games have Notre Dame facing Duke, North Carolina against Virginia, Holy Cross meeting Boston College, SMU playing Texas Christian, Oklahoma looking for its fifth straight victory after five opening losses against Oklahoma State, Oregon State at Houston and Tennessee facing Vanderbilt.

There's also the little Army-Navy game between Pennsylvania Military College and Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy. What makes this one so noteworthy is that it is being played indoors, before a sellout crowd of 12,200 in Atlantic City's mammoth Convention Hall.

Annual Pigeon Show Is Slated Sunday, Dec. 3

Third annual pigeon show is scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 3, 10:30 a. m., at the Port Ewen auditorium. The show will last until 5 o'clock.

Sponsored by the Kingston Ulster Co. Racing Pigeon Club Inc., there will be judging of both racing homers and fancy birds.

Ribbons will be awarded for first, second and third place finishers and trophies will be given in both racers and fancys.

Pine Bush Lacking Veteran Performers

Lacking what Coach Jim McIntyre calls real size and experience, Pine Bush will debut in the Ulster County Athletic League this season hoping to improve last year's 6-10 mark, the first losing season McIntyre has experienced in 12 years at the Orange County school.

The roster includes senior John Filip; juniors Bob Wilson, Gary Johansen, John Lunny, John Padden, Dan Biedermann, Hank Sudol and Harold Pierpont and sophomores Sam Richardson, Bob Leonhardt, John Pluchino and Dean Weed.

Only Biedermann and Lunney are lettermen. The others are either jayvee performers from last season or are newcomers to the squad.

Pine Bush will open its season next Tuesday at Valley Central. The first league contest isn't until Dec. 15 so McIntyre has a couple of weeks to work with his charges.

The schedule:

AL Rookie Award to Schwall

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Don Schwall, who came up to the Boston Red Sox from Seattle in late May to pitch his way into an assignment in the All-Star game, was voted the American League Rookie of the Year for the 1961 season today.

The 6-foot-6 right-hander edged Dick Howser, Kansas City shortstop, by one vote in the closest competition since the award was officially instituted by the Baseball Writers' Association in 1949. Billy Williams, Chicago Cubs' outfielder, gained the rookie award in the National League, which was announced Thursday.

Schwall received seven and Howser six of the 20 votes cast as six players, the most in any year, were given consideration.

Lee Thomas, hard-hitting outfielder of the Los Angeles Angels, drew two votes as did outfielder Floyd Robinson of Chicago, and second baseman Chuck Schilling of the Red Sox. Jake Wood, Detroit second baseman, had one vote.

Schwall, who was better known at Oklahoma University for his prowess in basketball, won 15 games for the Red Sox although he did not make his first major league appearance until May 25. He lost only seven and had a 3.27 earned run average.

Pierce and Larsen Delt To Giants

By JOE REICHLER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox' determined drive to rid themselves of aged performers continued today.

Engineering his third major trade in four days, Eddie Short, the youthful general manager, dealt two veteran pitchers, lefthander Billy Pierce and righthander Don Larsen to the San Francisco Giants for three young players and a fourth to be named later.

The three Sox newcomers, all rookies, are first baseman Bob Farley, 23; and right-handed pitchers Eddie Fisher, 24, and Dom Zanni, 29.

"The accent is on youth," said Chicago manager Al Lopez. "We prefer to gamble on young promising players rather than continue with players who no longer can be counted on to take their regular turn on the mound.

"At best, Pierce would have been our fifth or sixth pitcher and we would have had to spot him against certain clubs. Also, we have four left-handers—Juan Pizzaro, Frank Baumann, Joe Horlen and Gary Peters and Pierce became expendable."

Pierce, 34, a standout with the White Sox since 1949, had a 10-9 record last year with a 3.80 earned run average. Larsen, author of the only no-hitter in World Series history, had a fine 8-1 with the White Sox after they acquired him last June from Kansas City.

"Pierce is the key fellow in the deal," said Alvin Dark, manager of the Giants, "but we are counting on Larsen to help us a great deal. We plan to use him as our long relief man with Stu Miller, our great relief specialist, as the short man."

The new Chicago trio enjoyed successful 1961 seasons with the Giants' Tacoma farm club in the Pacific Coast League. Farley batted .307 in 114 games, hit 20 home runs and drove in 71 runs.

Fisher had a 9-5 record. He walked only 26 and struck out 84 in 128 innings.

Zanni was brought up by the Giants late last season after compiling an 8-4 record and turning in a 2.56 earned run average in triple A. He won his only decision with the Giants.

Last Monday, the White Sox traded Minnie Minoso, 37, to the St. Louis Cardinals for Joe Cunningham, 29, first baseman and outfielder. The next day, the Sox sent Roy Sievers, 35, their slugging first baseman, to Philadelphia for Charlie Smith, 24, a third baseman and John Buzhardt, 26, a pitcher.

Many Schoolboy Cage Teams Set to Open Season Tonight

SHS, Onteora, New Paltz Have Home Contests

While Kingston High cagers put in another week of practicing before their debut next week against Liberty, other clubs in the area are ready to open the 1961-62 season tonight.

Tonight's slate:

Cornwall at Wallkill.
Ellenville at New Paltz.
Lourdes at Liberty.
Highland at Saugerties.
Dover at Roosevelt.
Chester at Marlboro.
Catskill at Arlington.
Millbrook at Onteora.
Rondout Valley at Livingston Manor.

Tomorrow's schedule:

Hunter-Tannersville at Onteora.

Saugerties, Wallkill and New Paltz have already played their first games. The Sawyers lost a 62-60 overtime decision to Hudson on Tuesday. Wallkill dumped Washingtonville and New Paltz beat Hunter-Tannersville in its debut.

Early indications are that fans can expect close races in the DUSO, UCAL and DCSL and tonight's games will show which of the clubs in the three circuits can be counted on as pennant contenders.

Cage teams slated to debut next week are Pine Bush, Beacon, Newburgh, Wappingers Falls, Kingston. Poughkeepsie will not begin its season until Dec. 14.

Royals Defeat Celts, 133-130

The Boston Celtics, leading the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association by four games, might be out of sight if it weren't for the teams in the West.

Cincinnati, led by Jack Twyman and Oscar Robertson, mounted a big last-quarter comeback and clipped the Celts 133-130 in Providence, R.I., Thursday night.

It was only the third loss in 17 games for the three-time league champions, but all have been to Western Division teams.

The Celtics had a 20-point lead early in the third period, then went cold. The lead dwindled to 10 going into the fourth period, and the combination of Twyman and Robertson, who scored 63 points between them, whittled away.

It was the only league game scheduled.

Got His Name

GREEN BAY, Wis. (NEA) — John McNally and a friend required aliases. They were walking down Hennepin Avenue in Minneapolis early one fall in the early 1920s. McNally glanced up as they approached a movie theater. The sign on the marquee read: "Blood and Sand, starring Rudolph Valentino." "That's it," McNally said. "We've got our names. I'll be Blood and you'll be Sand." Nobody recalls what happened to Sand, but Johnny Blood, the fabulous vagabond back of the Green Bay Packers from 1928 through '36, became perhaps the most legendary character in the history of professional football.

Sport Club Booters on Road Against Troy Squad Sunday

Kingston Sport Club and Albany Athletic Club tied for the Central New York Soccer Association, will both hit the road in Sunday's games.

The locals travel to Troy to meet the third place Troy Sport Club (7-2-5), while Albany is at the Poughkeepsie Knights of Columbus.

Kingston and Albany are tied with identical records of 10 wins and one loss, but Kingston has the better goal percentage.

Troy captured the title last year and figures to be rough on its home grounds. Albany will have much easier going at Poughkeepsie against the lowly Knights squad.

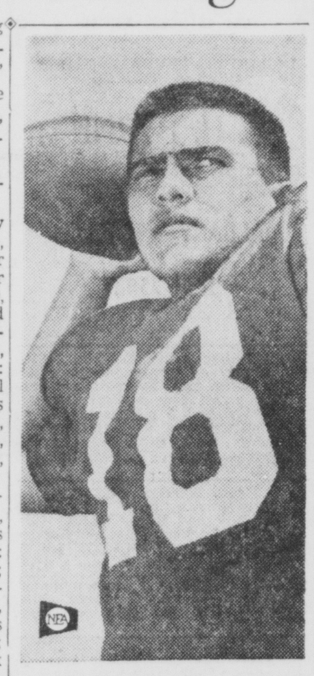

In other contests Sunday, Schenectady Football Club is at Endicott; Poughkeepsie Blue and White travels to Albany Sport Club; Little Falls is at Schenectady Sons of Italy and Poughkeepsie Italians go to Utica.

Glenerie Club Bridge Results

Mrs. Helen Ferger and Mrs. Naomi Van Gaasbeek of Kingston posted an excellent 65 per cent game to lead the North-South side field of the Glenerie Bridge Club's monthly Master Point bridge tournament. Winners on the East-West side were the Kingston combine of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yalium with a fine 64 per cent.

Runnersup on the North-South side were: Mrs. Margaret Kantzer and Emil Jensen, Kingston, 58 per cent; Dr. Paul Perlman, Woodstock, and Harry Thayer, Kingston, 57½ per cent; Roy Wulff and Carl Kunz, Kingston, 57 per cent.

Other winners on the East-West side included George Jacobson and Herbert Gertner, Kingston, 59 per cent; George Baron and Dr. John Roberts, Kingston, 58½ per cent; and Dr. Harold Newman and Dr. Martin Kantor, Kingston, 55 per cent.

Rondout Valley '5' Commences Season at Livingston Manor

Rondout Valley cagers figure to make trouble in the Ulster County league race this season, if the starting five stays intact. Coach Chick Meehan figures to have Jim Brush, Lynn Johnson, William Johnsen, Richard Lewis, Ernest Quick and Bob Barnum fighting for first team berths as the Ganders open thir season tonight at Livingston Manor.

The opener figures to be a tough one. The Sullivan County squad has a budding 38-game winning streak going and it won a pair of close tussels from the Ganders last season.

Completing the varsity roster are three jayvee performers from last season—Doug Lyons, Allen Mackowsky and Richard Aaron. Two seniors—Richard Spada and Gary Johnson — are returning after a year of inactivity.

Meehan, who is noted for turning out solid, aggresive clubs, feels his big problem is to find a boy who can put the ball through the hoop. He figures that Brush, Johnson and Barnum will be the offensive stalwarts.

Biggest loss from last year's club, which had an 11-8 overall mark and lost the championship in a playoff with Wallkill is Les Meyers, an all-league selection at guard.

Meehan figures that Wallkill, Marlboro, New Paltz and Pine Bush will be the top teams in the circuit and tabs Rondout, Onteora and Highland somewhat below those clubs.

John Million will again handle the jayvees and he looks to the current frosh crop to fill vacancies. Returning are Pete Green, Anthony D'Allessio, Cliff Schoonmaker and John DeVoll. Newcomers are Don Williams, Robert Cairo, Len Black, Walt Friedlander, John Dunn and Gordon Bell.

Packers Respect Giants But Aim for Win Sunday

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers concede high respect for the New York Giants, but little else. The Western Division leaders think their Eastern rivals are no tougher than many other National Football League clubs.

"New York can't be any rougher than most of the others we meet throughout the season," said Coach Vince Lombardi. "Sure, the Giants are very strong. But so are the Lions, the Rams, the Colts and others. They're all rough."

Lombardi managed a few relaxed chuckles Thursday after a workout attended by several standouts who missed early week practice sessions because of injuries and an outbreak of flue. Only veteran defensive tackle Dave Hanner and Green Bay's trio of Army privates were missing.

The leaders of the West and East place 9-2 records on the line Sunday in a showdown at Milwaukee County Stadium; the Packers' home-away-from-home 125 miles south of Green Bay. The Packers hold a 2½ game lead in their division, while the Giants are in a battle in the East, holding only a game margin on Philadelphia.

Noting that New York must move to a meeting with the Eagles at Philadelphia a week from Sunday, Lombardi said:

"They've got to win this one and it should be interesting. Because of their position and schedule, the Giants have a little bit more going for them. But our fellows don't know the meaning of the word quit and we'll be ready for them."

Track Betting Hits Billion Mark 2nd Time

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

For the second straight year racing fans in New York bet more than $1 billion.

The 1961 season in the Empire State, which opened on March 20, ended with a bang Thursday as 59,548 went on a $6,381,123 betting binge at Aqueduct and Roosevelt Raceway. This put the combined total for the thoroughbreds and harness racers at $1,060,998,326 compared to $1,037,105,371 a year ago.

The combined attendance figures also showed an increase with 13,226,758 this year compared to 12,969,404 in 1960.

The wagering statistics overshadowed the actual racing, which saw Manassa Mauler win the $30,700 Queens County Handicap at Aqueduct and Stormy Dream the $25,000 Nassau Pace at Roosevelt.

A crowd of 31,064 bet $3,674,848 at Aqueduct in the afternoon and 28,544 wagered $2,706,275 at night at Roosevelt.

Over-all the breakdown for the year for the flats was $544,208,255 bet by 5,729,901 and for the trotters $516,790,071 by 7,496,857.

New York fans who can't wait until next March 20 now will have to travel to Narragansett Park in Rhode Island, where closing day is Dec. 9, or to Pimlico in Baltimore.

Name Four Upstaters To All-Small Eleven

NEW YORK (AP) — Four Upstate New Yorkers have been named to the 1961 All-Small College North Team of the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

The football team picked by area newsmen includes ends Laurence Adkinson, Hobart, and Ronald Segal, Ithaca; quarterback David Eales, Union, and halfback Wally Brown, St. Lawrence.

Cleveland Pipers Retain Slim Lead

The Cleveland Pipers used a third-quarter scoring surge and a skimpy schedule to strengthen their fingernail hold on first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League.

The Piper scoring burst propelled them past Kansas City 109-[illegible] night and gave them a half-game lead over Pittsburgh. The Pipers entered the game—only action in the league Thursday night — leading Pittsburgh by .018 percentage points but even in games behind.

Cleveland struck for 33 points in the third period, 12 of them by Rossie Johnson, in forging an 81-70 lead.

Ellenville Lists Rosters, Schedule

Ellenville Central School cagers are slated to start their season tonight at New Paltz. Coach Ralf Kates has captain Alan Tennenbaum, Steve Glusker, Richard Shore, Frank Muller, Bruce Bowler returning from last year's squad.

Newcomers are Arnold Crawley, Ken Sinick, Gary Pomeroy and Bob Warren. They're up from the jayvee ranks.

Seven bids were received.

ERA was also the low bidder for electric work for rehabilitation of service in the laundry building at Wassaic State School, Dutchess County. The bid was $22,600.

December Bows On Warm Trend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A warming trend ushered in the month of December today, with temperatures moderating to seasonably cool to mild levels.

Freezing weather was reported in only a relatively small part of the country, including New England, the extreme north central Plains and sections of the middle and south Atlantic Coast states.

A broad belt of southerly winds fanned warm gulf air from Texas and the Lower Mississippi Valley northward to the southern Great Lakes region and Upper Mississippi Valley.

Mild Pacific air flowing eastward across the Rocky Mountains resulted in the familiar Chinook effect as warm winds moving down the eastern slopes brought sharply rising temperatures to Montana and some areas in Wyoming and Colorado.

There were only a few wet spots but skies were cloudy in many sections.

Judge Figures 'No Payoff' Is Stiff Sentence

DETROIT (AP)—A man called a Detroit bar and gave Norbert Palin the horses he wanted to bet. Palin wrote it down.

All three horses won and the payoff was worth more than $400.

But the caller still lost, Palin, a policeman, was in the bar to arrest the owner, Damon Fender, 36.

Fender was convicted of engaging in an illegal occupation and released with a suspended sentence. Recorder's Court Judge John Ricca said he figured it would be a fitting punishment for Fender to have to explain to the caller why he won't collect.

Bear Hunt Formed But Bruin Absent

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)— A big bear hunt within sight of this city's skyline has turned up nothing more than five rabbits, a few field mice and a turkey hen and gobbler and their brood of 14.

After reliable reports indicated the sighting of a black bear near Deepwater Terminal within the city limits, a bear hunt was quickly formed Thursday that included hunters and dogs from as far as 100 miles away.

All day the men talked excitedly of guns, good and bad hounds and what it was like to hunt bear in Alaska. And all day the hounds sniffed and waded, paddled and pawed around the terminal area.

But at sundown the talk turned to warm rooms, dry feet and hot baths. The fact of the matter was that the bear just wasn't there.

Richmond's big bear hunt came to an end. And nobody said much about a second one.

Aftermath of Interview

Soviet Paper Claims JFK Suffering From Political Delusions

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet newspaper Literature and Life said today President Kennedy was suffering from "political delusions" when he told the editor of Izvestia that the Soviet Union wants to communize the world.

Literature and Life said this was one of "a number of quite unfounded and simply incorrect propositions" which the President made in his interview with Alexei Adzhubei.

It was the first official Soviet comment on the interview.

Although Literature and Life expressed criticism, it nevertheless said "it was a useful dialogue—it was a necessary one."

"This dialogue," the paper added, "will undoubtedly be continued."

The criticism of Kennedy began like this:

"However, one must note the political delusions of Mr. President who decided to come up with a number of quite unfounded and simply incorrect propositions to Soviet readers who can very well tell the difference between white and black, who can compare facts and draw correct conclusions from them.

"What, for instance, is the value of Mr. President's assertion that the Soviet Union is striving to 'communize the world'?"

"Yes," Literature and Life continued, "the bright idea of communism is marching victoriously over the entire world. Yes, the example of the Soviet Union inspires and will inspire countries and nations.

"But that is a result of justice, of strength and the irresistible attractions of ideas of communism for peoples who are under the yoke of colonialism and not to the 'efforts' of the U.S.S.R. to 'communize the world.'"

The paper also criticized Kennedy for suggesting that the Soviet people do not have "freedom of choice" as regards political views.

Declares Soviet Missile Program Advances Faster

RUSTON, La. (AP)—A former German army guided missile expert says the "Russians will be able to intercept and shoot down our satellites within a few years, but we will not be able to shoot down theirs."

Dr. Walter Dornberger, former major general and commissioner for the German Reich for all guided missiles, addressed the aerospace education symposium at Louisiana Tech Thursday night. He said he based his predictions on the Soviet rate of development as opposed to the American rate.

Dornberger, vice president and chief scientist for Bell Aerospace System Co., said the Soviet satellite program is advancing more rapidly than that of the United States.

Traffic Deaths Are 30,800 for First 10 Months

CHICAGO (AP)— The nation's traffic deaths in the first 10 months of this year—30,800—were 2 per cent lower than for a comparable period in 1960, the National Safety Council said today.

The NSC said this year's toll, with an estimated 2 per cent rise in travel, compared with 31,270 for the corresponding period in 1960. The October toll of 3,690 was the same recorded for the month a year ago, the council said.

The mileage death rate for the 10-month period was 5.1—per 100 million vehicle miles—compared with 5.2 for the same period in both 1959 and 1960, the NSC said.

Red Spread Blamed on State Dept.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. J. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., says communism is advancing throughout the world because of what he terms "policies of paralysis" of the U.S. State Department.

Speaking to the First Congregation Church's Freedom Club, the senator Thursday night characterized the State Department as espousing the view, as he put it, "that we should not have won in Korea."

"We should have won in Korea," Thurmond told an estimated 1,000 persons at the Hollywood Palladium. "If we had, we would not be facing the big Communist menace today."

Points to Moscow

Thurmond, 1948 presidential candidate of the States' Rights party, told an anti-Communist rally Wednesday that the U.S. military now is a primary target in the Communist propaganda offensive. He declared it was determined at Moscow meeting nearly a year ago that something had to be done to stop anti-Communist talks by American military leaders.

The senator was quoted earlier as saying that muzzling of the American military took place on orders "direct from Moscow." But a tape recording of the senator's remarks showed this to be a misquotation.

The senator said a 1958 Defense Department directive — since countermanded — asked military leaders to conduct seminars on the dangers of communism.

He said the reason for this request was that "the military people are supposed to know the enemy. . .and they do know the enemy better than any other segment of our population.

Explains What Happened

"But what happened?

"There was a meeting in Moscow last December at which it was determined something had to be done to stop it.

"Who was doing the most devilment to the Communists? Who was doing the most harm to the Communists?

"It must have been the military. For Mr. Gus Hall, an official of the Communist party and a writer for the 'Worker,' an organ of the Communist party, came out and made this statement: He said a primary target was the military and its anti-Communist statements and seminars.

Survey Is Begun on Shelters

Firms Will Check Available Sites

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon civil defense chief, announcing the start of a nationwide fallout shelter survey, said today he is "a little appalled" at charges of confusion and lack of leadership.

Steuart L. Pittman, assistant secretary of defense for civil defense, told a news conference that after President Kennedy "led the country into a concern" about civil defense last spring, it took months to get the money, the planning and the organization.

Disputes Scientists

At the same time, Pittman disputed contentions by some scientists that fallout shelters would only delay death from radiation.

"We don't agree with this finding," Pittman said. He added that "the best evidence we have" is that delayed fallout coming to earth long after an atomic attack would not begin to compare with the immediate hazard from effects of a nuclear blast.

The news conference was called to announce the awarding of contracts to architect-engineer firms in all 50 states to mark and identify above ground and below ground space to provide protection for 50 million persons.

$93 Million Provided

The civil defense agency has conducted several pilot surveys in White Plains, N.Y., Baltimore, Washington, D.C., and Houston, Tex. It also has trained some 1,200 specialists in the technique of surveying for this special purpose.

With $93 million provided by Congress for this, the firms will check all buildings, mines, tunnels and other structures that may provide shelter against fallout for at least 50 persons each.

July Date Target

With the help of electronic computer equipment, the civil defense agency said it hopes to have the survey program finished by next July, about six months ahead of schedule.

Pittman said that by the end of this month about 700 survey contracts will have been awarded and teams started on the first phase of the program.

The civil defense planners are looking to the use of schools as key refugee centers in the event of a nuclear attack at night. They say schools are often the only suitable structures for this purpose in residential areas.

Red China Seat Is Discussed

Soviets to Appeal For Chiang Ouster

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The question of seating Communist China in the United Nations comes up for decisive debate in the General Assembly today. The United States has scrapped a plan to delay a showdown vote for another year but believes it can still keep the Peiping regime out of the world body.

The exilosive debate, which the United States managed to postpone for 10 years, opens with an appeal by the Soviet Union to seat Peiping in place of Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalists and a call by the United States to keep the Communists out.

To Meet Demand Headon

The United States and other supporters of the Nationalists decided to meet the Soviet demand headon after getting a cool reception from most other members for their proposal to dump the question back to the next assembly.

A U.S. spokesman said instead a resolution was being placed before the 102-nation assembly to declare the China question an issue of "substance" which will haveto be settled by a two-thirds majority.

U.S. delegates believe the Communists will be unable to muster such a vote behind the Red Chinese, even with heavy support from the 49-nation Asian-African group.

The U.S. spokesman said he had a "fairly reasonable expectation" that the Nationalist Chinese would still have their seats at the end of the assembly debate.

INSTEAD OF A WALL — The West Berlin Senate is installing the usual Christmas trees along the East-West Berlin border. Here, West Berlin workers raise a tree near checkpoint "Charlie."

Vehicles' Inspection Tightened

No Attempt Made To Halt Convoys

BERLIN (AP)—More American military units rolled over Berlin's autobahn lifeline to the West today in defiance of a Soviet warning that such troop movements could lead to "dangerous consequences."

The Soviets, who control the 110-line superhighway through Communist East Germany, tightened their inspection of U.S. convoys but made no attempt to stop them.

Six Vehicles Halted

Six vehicles forming the last section of a U.S. convoy which set out for West Germany this morning were halted at the Soviet checkpoint outside West Berlin when the Soviets found an error in their travel documents.

The U. S. autobahn operations officer, Capt. Harry Daniels, was called to straighten out their papers and the three jeeps and three trucks were allowed to go on after an hour and 14 minutes.

The documentation error was believed to be technical and apparently it was cleared up without a dispute.

The first two sections of the 150-may convoy passed through the checkpoint without incident.

Usually Routine Checks

Normally the Soviet guards make only a routine count of the men and vehicles described in the travel papers handed them, taking only 20 to 25 minutes.

The U.S. Army has been shuttling 150-man units from West Germany to West Berlin, and from West Berlin to West Germany, for brief training periods since soon after the crisis created by the Communist wall dividing Berlin.

The U.S. Army says the rotation is necessary because West Berlin is too cramped for extensive training maneuvers and troops in West Germany need experience under Berlin conditions. But the traffic is generally considered a demonstration of U.S. determination to maintain its rights on the autobahn.

More Movements Due

In the first Soviet protest against the traffic, the Soviet news agency Tass spoke of the "provocative character of this action." It charged that since U.S. troops in West Germany serve the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, their maneuvering in West Berlin "means the inclusion of West Berlin in the aggressive military bloc of NATO."

Meanwhile, U.S. Army headquarters for Europe announced more movements will be made. It said the 1,500-man 1st Battle Group, 19th Infantry, 24th Division will soon move into Berlin from West Germany to replace the 1st Battle Group, 18th Infantry 8th Division.

New Trials for 3 Newburgh Men

Search, Seizure Rule May Upset Convictions

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A unanimous ruling by the state's highest court could lead to the reversal of many criminal convictions in which the state presented evidence obtained in violation of the U.S. Constitution.

The Court of Appeals also reversed Thursday the first-degree murder convictions of threee Newburgh men and upheld a lower court decision that the widow of orchestra leader Glenn Miller had no property rights in a style of music called "the Glenn Miller sound."

Other Decisions

In other decisions, the court held, 6-1, that a 5-year-old child born out of wedlock to a 14-year-old girl should not be returned to its natural mother, and suggested the reopening of a 1943 case in which a 13-year-old boy was sentenced to 30 years to life in prison for murder.

A U.S. Supreme Court decision of last June 19, that ruled inadmissable in state courts evidence obtained by search and seizure in violation of the 14th amendment of the U.S. Constitution, was cited by the Court of Appeals.

The state court said the precedent would apply in all trials since June 19 and in pending appeals of convictions handed down before that date. It will not apply to convictions prior to June 19 in which appeals are not now pending before the state's highest court.

May Reverse Many

The court cited the new rule in reversing the conviction of Anthony Loria of New York City on a charge of unlawful possession of heroin with the intent to sell it. A new trial was ordered for Loria.

Police had no search warrant, the court said, when they threatened to kick in the door of an apartment and later seized three pounds of heroin that was used as evidence against Loria.

New Trials Ordered

Geneva Plant Is Staying, Union Votes Pay Slice

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) —This Finger Lakes city stood assured today that its biggest plant would remain open, because union machinists voted to accept a 25-cent-an-hour cut in pay instead of a scheduled 12-cent increase.

Plant Employs 500

Without instructions from union officials, the production and maintenance workers at the Geneva Machine Shop of the American Can Co. approved the wage decrease Thursday. The plant employs 500 in this city of 18,000.

The tally of votes was not revealed. The workers are members of Lodge 1838, International Association of Machinists.

The pay cut will be in two steps next year, the final year of a three-year contract, in which the 12-cent increase was scheduled.

An announcement by the company Tuesday that the plant would close if the pay cut were refused was a grim Christmas season note. One plant already has closed this year, and another may do so shortly.

18 Tons of Stone Spill in Mishap, Abeel St. Blocked

A tractor-trailer mishap resulting of a front-tire blowout on Abeel Street Thursday afternoon resulted in a traffic tieup but no injury.

A report this morning said a parked car was damaged by a hit-and-run driver on Washington Avenue.

Police said a tractor, owned and operated by Anthony Salvatore, 53, of Route 3, Box 401-A, Saugerties, hauling several tons of stone, in a trailer, blew a left front tire.

The driver could not hold to the road, police said, and the trailer truck, headed east on Abeel Street, swerved into an embankment and overturned near the city-Eddyville boundary line dumping some of its 18 tons of stone. The trailer was damaged on its right side.

Public works department trucks and men were dispatched to the scene to assist in clearing the road. Traffic was reported blocked for more than two hours.

Officers Robert Bonesteel, Raymond Wells, George Deyo, Louis Sapp and Thomas Coffey were dispatched to handle traffic in the area.

Police headquarters was notified this morning that the car of Moe Solomon, of 167 Washington Avenue, was struck and damaged as it was parked near that address, and its driver failed to stop. It was hit on the left side and a fender, bumper and tail light were damaged, the report said.

$60,000 Verdict Won by Woman Of Ulster Park

Mrs. Rose Tsitsera, 69-year-old Ulster Park widow, was awarded a $60,000 verdict against the Erie Railroad Company in Orange County Supreme Court Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Tsitsera, a passenger in a Short Line bus in March 1958, suffered a broken leg when the bus skidded on a snowy roadway on Route 17 south of Tuxedo Park. A parked truck of the Erie Railroad was allegedly parked on the wrong side of the highway.

The verdict, which was reached after one mis-trial, was against the Railroad and William D. Snider the driver of the railroad truck. Justice John P. Donahue presided. Schick and Klein of Kingston appeared for plaintiff Tsitsera.

The case was started November 6 and after three days a mistrial was directed because of remarks made during opening of the case. The trial was resumed on November 13 and the verdict was returned Wednesday.

Plaintiff alleged that the truck of the railroad was parked on the wrong side of the highway close to a curve in the road while workmen were engaged nearby.

Testimony at the trial indicated the roadway was slippery from snow and that prior to the accident involving the bus, the railroad truck and another vehicle had been in an accident near the scene of the bus accident. The truck had been moved from the area for a time and then returned to the site and parked along the highway, close to a curve.

It was alleged the driver of the bus came around the curve, observed the scene of the former accident and in an attempt to pass pulled to the left. His bus skidded and ran head-on into a

Dominican Crisis Deepens

Foes Defying Balaguer Order to Halt Strike

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The government crisis deepened in this strife-torn country today with the major political opposition group openly defying a military summons to end a four-day general strike.

Headquarters of the National Civic Union said sentiment throughout the country was for continuing the strike.

Some Shops Open

A few shops did reopen in Santo Domingo. Traffic was half normal.

The party decided to continue the strike after rejecting a military proposal to keep President Joaquin Balaguer in office as head of a seven-man ruling junta. The armed forces would have virtually complete power under the proposal.

Troops, Mob Clash

Heavily armed troops and screaming mobs clashed in Santo Domingo Thursday—the third and worst day so far of the general strike — and machine-gun fire killed one youth. A report from Santiago said noise bombs burned 20 women about the legs.

The antigovernment demonstrations included a march on the National Palace in response to false reports that Balaguer had resigned. Troops forced back the angry crowd with tear gas and detonation bombs.

Quiet returned to the capital at dusk as troop patrols enforced the nightly curfew.

The Civic Union, in what it called its final proposal, demanded Thursday that Balaguer step aside for a provisional governing council of five or seven members —excluding Balaguer—who would elect a chairman by simple majority.

Power for Junta

The military plan proposed that all legislative powers be vested in the ruling junta until general elections within two years, that Congress (largely made up of mem-

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said earlier this week that the department "will enforce the law."

ExchangeTeacher To Visit School

Miss Florence Sterling of Rangoon, Burma will be a visitor in Saugerties High School for two weeks in late January and early February.

Miss Sterling is a teacher of English in the State High School, Yegaw, Burma, and is in the United States as an exchange teacher under the International Teacher Development Program sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education.

While in Saugerties, Miss Sterling will live in the home of Mrs. Elsie Ketelaar. Mrs. Ketelaar is a member of the high school English staff.

A committee of teachers composed of Miss Frances Larned, Mrs. Lynnette Flewelling, Miss Agnes Sheff, and Mrs. Ketelaar will help Miss Sterling arrange her stay so that she may observe classes, address student groups, and participate in community activities.

Miss Sterling is a graduate of the University of Rangoon and is an experienced teacher. She is at present senior assistant teacher in the State High School in Yegyaw and teaches English 15 hours a week.

Physical Fitness Is Stressed by School

The faculty and administration of the Saugerties Central Schools are making an extra effort this year to encourage every boy and girl in school to take note of his physical condition and strive to make himself as good a physical specimen as possible.

Several studies made in the United States have made the claim that American youth is physically soft. The President's Council on Youth Fitness has recommended the administering of physical fitness tests to the young people in the schools. Such tests have been administered with particular emphasis on pupils in the 4th through the 12th grades.

Letters are being sent home to parents urging them to cooperate in encouraging their boys and girls to edvote approximately 15 minutes per day to physical exercise. Specific recommendations have been made to the boys and girls by the members of the physical education staff as to the nature of the exercise. Tests will be administered to all pupils again in the spring to give pupils the satisfaction of knowing whether they have improved their physical fitness.

The length of time spent in physical education classes within the school hours is not great enough to enable the pupil to do the whole job within the school day. Parents are encouraged by the local school staff to talk with their boys and girls about what they are doing in this important area, and, if the parents are not certain about what should be done, they may confer with members of the physical education staff.

The group was accompanied by the teachers of the classes, Grace Snyder, Annie Anderson, John Vicoli and Mrs. Richard Wasserbach and Mrs. Donald Leard of the Main Street Parents' Group.

Pupils making the trip were Leo Boice, George Brough, Mark Carney, Keith Helsmoortel, Charles Personeus, Albert Scott, Wayne Snyder, John Walsh, Eileen Clement, Danielle Markle, Betty Personeus, Carol Personeus, Carolyn Storms, Betsy Van Valkenburgh, Edward Brough, Herbert Carr, Robert Carr, William Cooper, Robert Hildenbrand, Tomas Kelly, Robert Stine, Thomas Storms, Christine Carr, Karen Cooper, Milagros Irizarry, Rose Oakley, Debra Rose, Margaret Story, Susan Venett, John Musan, Donald Newkirk, Preston Tonnesen, David Valk, Joseph Valk, Sharon Holland, Barbara Lane, Patricia Oakley, Agnes Schaffer, Diane Wood.

Girls Club Activities

The Girls Community Club of Saugerties through its annual sale of household items has raised funds to cover the cost of outfitting six needy girls of the community, and they extend their appreciation to all who contributed to their recent telephone campaign.

The girls will be honored guests at the club's Christmas party to be held at the Katsbaan Inn Sunday, Dec. 10, at 7 p. m. All honorary members and active members may attend. Reservations may be made immediately by calling Mrs. John Carnright.

School Lunch Program

Following are some facts about the hot lunch program in the Saugerties Central Schools: Four cafeterias are maintained —one in each of the three major elementary buildings and one in the high school. Seventeen full-time and seven part-time workers are employed in the cafeterias.

The dinner Tuesday, Nov. 21, was served to 1,652 people. Forty-four turkeys were consumed; also, 162 dozen rolls, 37 pounds of butter, 2,167 ½-pints of milk, 550 pounds of potatoes.

Half-time sessions in the fifth and sixth grades and the ungraded classes have materially reduced the participation this year in the school lunch program.

Practical Nurses Assn. Advises on Checking License

A warning to the public to guard against employment of women who call themselves "practical nurses" but are not licensed by the State Education Department has been sounded by Licensed Practical Nurses of New York State and it is a misdemeanor for anyone to practice nursing who is not legally permitted to do so," is was pointed out by Mrs. Rhoda E. Beswick of Niagara Falls, president of the state association, in a statement issued from its headquarters in New York City.

"An increasing number of cases have been called to our attention," said Mrs. Beswick, "where the families of patients had employed socalled practical nurses who were not licensed and had not passed the examination required by the State Board of Examiners of Nurses.

"There are more than 32,000 licensed practical nurses in New York State, and each of them proudly carries a license from the State Education Department. Employers should ask to see his document."

Licensed Practical Nurses of New York, Inc., which has 39 County Divisions throughout the state, strives to improve the standards of practice in its field; provides an opportunity for group insurance and other benefits to its members; offers refresher courses at nominal fees; and serves as a clearing house of information.

Area Postmaster Lists Retirement After 25 Years

Miss Sarah C. Lounsbery, who has served as postmaster at Stone Ridge for over a quarter of a century, retired from that position Thursday. Mrs. Anna A. Hoffman, who has served under Miss Lounsbery as clerk, today became acting postmaster of the village.

The appointment of Miss Lounsbery on May 24, 1935, under the administration of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, came about indirectly through a friendship which had existed between Miss Lounsbery and Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of President Roosevelt. Prior to being named postmaster at Stone Ridge, Miss Lounsbery owned and conducted the Sally Tock Inn. Mrs. Roosevelt was a frequent visitor at the inn where she was served at tea by Miss Lounsberry.

That friendship was recalled by Mrs. James Roosevelt when Postmaster Frank Davis retired and it is reported it was this friendship which caused Mrs. James Roosevelt to request her son, President Roosevelt to have Miss Lounsbery named to fill the position of postmaster at Stone Ridge.

Miss Lounsbery Thursday afternoon stated that she had no particular plans for the future, other than to enjoy her retirement at her home in Stone Ridge.

The former Sally Tock Inn, which Miss Lounsbery conducted, was later bought by Mrs. E. C. Chadbourne as a residence.

Faster Yule Mail

WASHINGTON (AP)—The postman may ring only once a day during the Christmas rush, but the Post Office Department says delivery should be at least as fast as in the past and less costly.

The key to the new mail scheme, a department spokesman said Thursday, is using the regular carrier to break up a route, to help assign temporary extra carriers to the fragments and to "case" or sort the mail.

Kiwanis Is Given Talk by Yallum On City Planning

A history of the city Planning Board, a synopsis of the Comprehensive Master Plan for Kingston, and an endeavor towards "planting a seed of awareness of necessity of planning," were presented to the Kingston Kiwanis Club members Thursday by Elmore Yallum, chairman of the city Planning Board.

The idea of city planning goes back 3,000 years, according to Chairman Yallum—to the time of the prophet Ezekial who suggested a plan for the city of Jerusalem. "The City of Kingston, 300 years old, has outgrown its original stakeout," said Yallum, who pointed out "that seven square miles of dwellings and industry gives a picture of permanence."

Slower Since 1900

According to the planning board chairman the growth of Kingston's population has been slower since 1900, that a survey shows the 20 to 34 age group leaving Kingston for better jobs and better living, that in the past 10 years employment has decreased 8 per cent, that business in the area has declined 6 per cent, that local businesses are getting only a 50 per cent share of the market instead of the potential 70 to 80 per cent, that dwellings are deteriorating, and that the city is "actually regressing." By these revelations, Yallum stated he intended "planting a seed of awareness of the necessity of planning."

Hundreds of citizens have contributed effort to the compilation of a comprehensive master plan over the past 13 years, said Yallum. The idea of the plan was to present an "orderly growth and development of the city." This plan contains an analysis of the land use, population, housing in the city, economic base of Kingston in labor, trade, and manufacturing — "a sound collection of facts for a basis of comprehensive planning," said Yallum.

Three essential factors in a comprehensive plan were next projected by the speaker. These were land development controls, supported thus far by zoning ordinances and housing codes, urban renewal program, designed to eliminate slums and which is now in its initial stage, and city financial structure, which involves a capital improvement program of long range consideration.

"The point of departure for a city master plan is here," said Yallum. "This will allow us to step into the future soundly, and we will need citizens working on several committees to take sections of this plan for study and suggestions," he concluded.

Defends 'Griping'

DETROIT (AP) — "Soldiers have an inherent right to gripe," Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, said Thursday night.

Hershey said at a press conference that "if any Army unit ever did anything without griping they'd either be lying or mutes."

Hershey, in commenting on complaints by National Guardsmen and reservists about conditions at Ft. Lewis, Wash., said "but you can make too much noise. These men have been getting one day's pay for two hour's work each week and the federal government has a right to expect them to show up when it needs them."

Jobless Is Off To '61 Lowest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of industrial centers with substantial joblessness dipped to the lowest level of the year last month, the Labor Department announced today.

The number of cities and metropolitan areas having substantial unemployment—upward of 6 per cent of the labor force—declined to 60 in November, the department's monthly survey showed.

This was eight fewer than in October, and 41 below the all-time high of 101 reported in March and April when the recession had its heaviest impact on employment.

Nine of the 150 major areas were reclassified in November, all to ratings indicating less unemployment and improved job opportunitics.

The department noted that this contrasted sharply with November 1960, when there were 19 major area changes in classification, all of them indicating greater unemployment.

Tokyo Data Gave No Evidence of Amelia's Landing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An official report from the Japanese government gave no evidence that famed flier Amelia Earhart ever landed on the Pacific island of Saipan, Rep. John F. Shelley, D-Calif., said in a television interview here Thursday night.

Japan showed no reluctance to make the report, Shelley said, after it had been requested by the U.S. State Department on his insistence.

An anthropologist at the University of California is currently examining teeth and bones found on a shallow grave in Saipan. A newsman who found the remains, Fred Georner of CBS News, said they possibly are those of Miss Earhart and her navigator, Fred Noonan, who disappeared in 1937 on an attempted around-the-world flight.

Pennsylvania Gives List of 'Hints' for Yuletide Revelers

HARRISBURG (AP) —The Comonwealth of Pennsylvania issued these happy holiday hints Thursday.

Any merchandiser who neglects to collect the state's 4 per cent sales tax on Christmas trees is in trouble.

Bars and clubs must remain closed on Christmas and New Year's Eves.

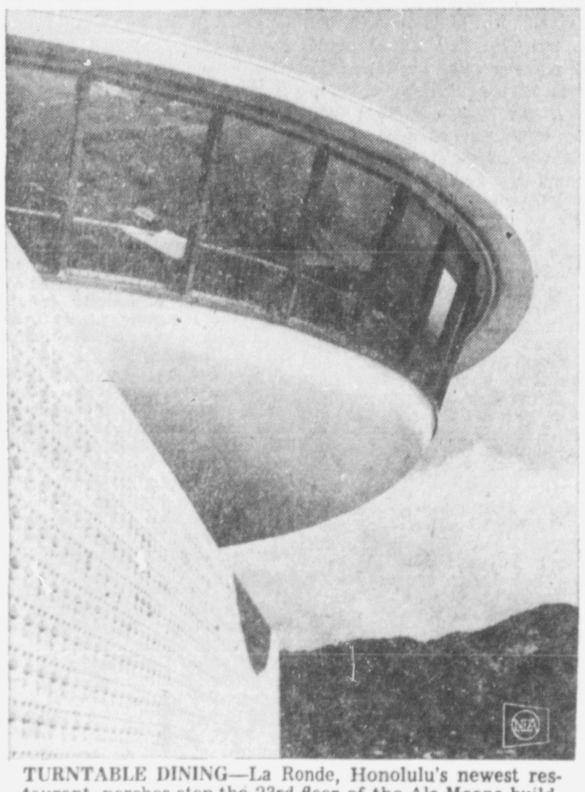

Revenue Secretary Charles M. Dougherty warned that state investigators will be among the yuletide throngs, watching for sales tax violations.

The Liquor Board said there is no way of getting around the law to allow pubs to stay open on the two festive eves because both come on Sunday. State law is explicit that institutions dispensing alcoholic beverages remain closed on the Sabbath. The only exceptions are Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, where hotel bars may stay open until 10 p.m.

Mystery Deepens With Years

No Trace Ever Found of Coed Who Walked Off Campus in '46

TURNTABLE DINING—La Ronde, Honolulu's newest restaurant, perches atop the 23rd floor of the Ala Moana building, the city's newest and tallest office building. The dining room, seating 162 persons, makes one complete revolution every hour, providing diners with a panoramic vista.

BENNINGTON, Vt. (AP) — On a Sunday afternoon 15 years ago today, pretty, blue-eyed, blonde Paula Welden, 18, walked from the campus of Bennington College — Seemingly into thin air.

Despite lengthy searches of mountain trials and the countryside, reports that she had been seen in various parts of the country, a $5,900 reward offered by her parents —then living in Stamford, Conn. —and a private investigator's search, she was never found.

No Known Worries

Paula was a quiet girl, deeply interested in botany—with a good record in her studies and no known worries.

On that afternoon, she donned sneakers, dungarees and a red parka and went for a walk. She headed up the Long Trail toward rugged Glastenbury Mountain. The room she left behind showed no evidence that she intended to run away.

Searching parties combed the mountain area. Paula's father, W. Archibald Welden, actively led searchers in which hundreds of volunteers, townsfolk and students from nearby colleges joined.

There was no known romance in Paula's background, although she knew several boys.

Auto His Best Hope

One by one, they reported every faint clue washed out. "I don't think we ever had a good clue," Franzoni said. But he continued to hope he could ultimately find an automobile reported to have passed down the road from the long trail in the gathering December dusk — just about the time Paula might have been returning from her hike.

Franzoni leaned to the opinion that the girl perished somewhere on the bleak mountain, or that she was carried away and killed.

Reuben Levin, when acting as temporary state's attorney in Bennington County six years ago, reopened inquiries into her disappearance. He maintains his interest in the mystery and says that, if there was foul play, the case will be solved.

All to Dead End

The mystery of Paula Welden, deepening with the years, was recalled as investigators followed clues to dead ends and continued to check out records of telephone calls in the strange disappearance of a Lincoln, Mass., housewife, Oct. 24. Mrs. Joan Risch, 32, has never been reported since she left her attractive home in the Boston suburb, leaving behind her two small children — and a kitchen flecked with blood.

November quotas for neighboring counties include Columbia $41,000; Delaware $33,700; Dutchess, excluding Poughkeepsie $39,500; Greene $24,950; Orange, excluding Newburgh $95,050, and Sullivan $46,600.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, DECEMBER 1, 1961

CAP'S 20TH ANNIVERSARY

Today starts the celebration of the Civil Air Patrol's 20th anniversary which ends December 7. The two decades mark that many years of service to the nation and community.

Twenty years ago the volunteers of the CAP in small single-engine aircraft droned up and down the coasts, searching out enemy submarines.

There were heroes and casualties among the fliers as they did their job well.

With the coming of age of the U. S. Air Force as a separate air arm, changes came to the CAP, which shifted from anti-submarine patrol to aerial search and ground rescue in emergencies.

Pilots of every category looked to the CAP for aid in spotting downed planes and lives were saved.

The service spread as the volunteers helped in hurricanes, floods, tornadoes, and other natural and manmade disasters.

Surplus military radio equipment was salvaged and re-built into one of the most extensive radio nets this country has today. Some 14,000 CAP radio stations tie the 50 state wings, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia into an invisible network of almost instant communication.

There is a CAP Cadet program offering hundreds of special scholarships and honors programs at Air Force bases, and an International Air Cadet Exchange. This year, 135 American cadets exchanged places with their counterparts from 19 foreign countries.

Kingston has a CAP unit of which it can be proud, one of more than 2,000 such units which goes to work in emergencies and has a good record of service. Its band of cadets are among the 35,000 youngsters taking part in the program throughout the nation.

We salute the Civil Air Patrol on its 20th Birthday, and pay special tribute to the Kingston Composite Squadron whose volunteers are among 70,000 standing ready to lend a helping hand in emergencies.

UNEASY LIES THE HEAD

"Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown." Thus wrote Shakespeare, the greatest literary genius of all time, centuries ago.

The Bard's words certainly must trouble the dictators of the present-day world, if they've ever read them.

In our time there have been three absolute dictators of great and warlike nations—Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin. Hitler died by his own hand in a Berlin bunker, and with him died the mistress he married a few hours before his end. Mussolini, with his mistress, was assasinated, and the two were strung up by their heels in front of a shabby service station in an Italian town. Stalin, so far as we know, died a natural death. But now his successor has ordered that his embalmed body be removed from the revered Lenin Tomb in Red Square in Moscow where it was enshrined. This is certainly the ultimate in posthumous disgrace and degradation

Yes, the still-living dictators must have their uneasy moments. For history has a habit of repeating itself.

DIETERS' LAZY SUSAN

A government labor specialist says the changing nature of farming is making farmers into biochemists, machinists, electronic experts.

As an example of the refinement of farming techniques, there is now in use a circular device for feeding hens. As the thing revolves slowly, the hens have time for just a few quick stabs at the feed.

The theory of this eating-in-the-round: Shorten the feeding time, lengthen the egg-laying time.

Should millions of dieting Americans get wind of this, we could have a big call for revolving tables that do a gentle but steady turn. It's always hard to hit a moving target.

THE CABINET

Theoretically, the American Cabinet does not consist of ministers of state. Rather, its members are secretaries to the President. The difference is that a minister is a political personality in his own right; a secretary is an assistant to the President. For instance, every British or French Minister is elected to Parliament and is chosen not only for whatever administrative ability he may possess but also because of his political significance; no member of the American Cabinet is elected to any office, his appointment being due solely to the President's wish and choice.

Members of the British or French Cabinets have political status of greater or lesser significance, members of the American Cabinet may be men of major political significance as Elihu Root or William Jennings Bryan were or they may be totally unknown to the American people as most of President Kennedy's Cabinet is. George Washington's Cabinet consisted of the leading men of the country; Abraham Lincoln's consisted of men who were, at the beginning of his term, politically superior to him. Woodrow Wilson had a hard-working Cabinet of distinguished men. President Harding, with two exceptions, had one of the most competent Cabinets of recent years.

President Kennedy apparently sought men of administrative ability but without political stature. His chief Cabinet officer, the Secretary of State, Howard Rusk, had served in the State Department in the Truman Administration and had been the head of the Rockefeller Foundation. In the Truman Administration he was not particularly notable. To assist him, President Kennedy appointed a galaxy of talent, including a former candidate for the Presidency, Adlai Stevenson, three former governors, Chester Bowles, "Soapy" Williams and Averell Harriman, and a number of academic experts.

The State Department which suffers from a conflict between Presidential appointees and the permanent deskmen is always in a state of confusion. President Eisenhower appointed Herbert Hoover, Jr., to straighten out the situation, but he failed because the deskmen are like a labor union, or perhaps a college fraternity might be a better example. They sabotage their chiefs as a matter of practice and fail to accept policy as it comes down from the White House. None of the deskmen can be dismissed. The Cuban fiasco is a disastrous example of how evil the deskmen system is.

The Secretary of the Treasury, Clarence Dillon, was in the State Department and before that he was a banker. He is undoubtedly a capable administrator but whether he possesses breadth of view, imagination and economic foresight is yet to be discovered. His father, Clarence Dillon, was one of the cleverest men in Wall Street. On the whole, it can be said that Dillon knows what a dollar is and understands what should be done about it. He ought to make a competent Secretary of the Treasury and the minor appointments in that office are not unsatisfactory, although there is no Ogden Mills or Arthur Ballantine in this outfit.

It is generally held that the Secretary of Defense, Robert S. McNamara, is the most competent administrator in the government. He came to it from the Ford Company. He lacks political smoothness and finesse which are essential for any official.

His handling of the Walker case was amateurish, but that was to have been expected from a businessman in public life. When McNamara learns how to operate politically as well as administratively, he will become a top-notch public official.

Robert F. Kennedy, the Attorney General, is an all-around competent Cabinet officer and thus far has made no serious mistakes. He is politically astute, has a broad understanding of American history and acts as a defense for his brother. He will emerge as the leader in the Cabinet as he may become the leader of his party.

Arthur Goldberg, the Secretary of Labor, is emerging as a major political figure. He serves the President admirably as a propounder of Presidential policies beyond the metes and bounds of his office.

The Kennedy Administration has made more of the White House staff than any former President. It is a large staff of mixed capabilities. From one standpoint, it is superior to most Presidential staffs: it is capable of gathering and communicating data. This is very important because too often, Presidents are left in the dark by their assistants and discover too late that they were uninformed or misinformed.

Doctor Is Man to See About Arthritis Problems

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Is arthritis made worse by eating about two oranges a day? If so, which would be a better substitute, prune or fig juice?

A—There are as many types of arthritis as there are fruit juices. And there's nary a one that's made better or worse by oranges, prunes, figs or any other article of food. Or any diet. Or any vitamin. Or any mineral. Or any combination of vitamins and minerals. Or sea water, whether from the Atlantic or the Pacific.

Why don't you see your doctor, find out what kind of arthritis you have and what he thinks you should do about it?

To be sure he won't pass the miracles you hear about from the untrained pitchmen on TV or radio. But, in his own quiet and modest way, he may just be able to give you the help and relief you seek.

Q—I am 17, and recently my hair has become increasingly thin.

I have read that premature baldness in women is a result of rolling hair on tight rollers and sitting under a drier too often. I have been rolling my hair about four times a week and using a drier about once a month. My condition is not hereditary, because there has never been any baldness on either side of my family.

Please tell me is; there any way of stopping the loss of hair, and if it's possible to bring the hair back to its original thickness?

A—My dear young lady, you reason like a fellow who has just set fire to his house and then run down to the firehouse to find out how they think the blaze started and what he can do to see that it doesn't happen again.

Your letter suggests that you are an intelligent and informed girl. Why in the world don't you stop using rollers and drier and see what happens? Then, if your hair doesn't stop falling out and begin growing back, give me the name of your favorite charity and I'll send a check as a token of my ignorance.

Q—Is it true that certain lipstick colors are dangerous? That they can produce cancers?

A—It is quite true. But the danger no longer exists since the U. S. Food and Drug Administration has banned the use of the cancer-producing dyes and manufacturers have obeyed the "cease and desist" order.

"I Hope My Spine Isn't Too Hard on Your Feet"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Kennedy really did "The Twist" in his big shuffle of top White House and State Department aides.

He didn't just leak to a few favored correspondents the desire to ease Chester Bowles out of his job as undersecretary of state, as the Cowles "Insiders Newsletter" says he did four months ago. That bounced on him, and he had to suck it back. This time, the President got all his ducks in a row before he shot his wad, hitting a dozen people.

ANNOUNCEMENT that Bowles was to be special adviser to the President on underdeveloped countries was not made with the other changes for the simple reason that Bowles had not made up his mind whether to take the new job. He finally did—at higher pay and rank—though not for those reasons. In politics, you learn to rock with the punch.

Ambassador — again — Bowles will hang his hat in both the White House and State Department. He reports directly to the President. But he is also, because of his office, a member of the State Department policy planning staff. So he will be an idea man rather than an executive or an administrator.

This should suit him after he gets used to it. For as ambassador to India under President Truman, Bowles showed his ability to get along with people of the new nations. He thinks they're important. They need a sympathetic ear in Washington. He understands their problems. His new job could become bigger than even the White House dress-up makes it appear.

THE IRONY of the situation is that the top State Department staff which Bowles helped recruit when he was named undersecretary before Dean Rusk was named secretary, is now being shifted around considerably, including his own job.

In the 10 months since inauguration, the other undersecretary of state, George W. Ball, gained in stature while Bowles did not.

Former Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas, originally picked for assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, also becomes a special adviser to the President. He is replaced by Frederick G. Dutton, former Cabinet secretary.

IT IS THE MOVING OF three other White House aides into the State Department that is of most interest.

One reason given for this is that the President, with many other responsibilities, was getting a little weary of having his own aides responsible for what were really State Department operations.

The President gets what he originally wanted in naming Prof. Walt W. Rostow head of State's policy planning staff. Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter's former law clerk, Richard N. Goodwin, who has been somewhat controversial, becomes deputy assistant secretary for Latin-American affairs.

Roving Ambassador Averell Harriman steps down to become assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. He is not being replaced by Bowles, though this might have been the effect if both changes were announced at the same time.

THE NET EFFECT OF ALL these shifts is to give Secretary of State Dean Rusk a much better control over his department and make him the real head of foreign policy operations.

The secretary makes clear that under the constitution, the President is solely responsible for the conduct of foreign affairs. Rusk insists there has been no conflict between White House and State. He worked closely with the President on the multiple changes now announced.

But, it is noteworthy that George C. McGhee, Rusk's original head of the policy planning staff, is now made undersecretary for political affairs. Rusk and McGhee are old friends who were close associates in State after World War II.

By this shift, the department goes back to the organizational setup in effect during the Eisenhower administration.

The jobs of undersecretary for economic affairs and administration have been combined with two assistant secretaryships. The job of undersecretary for political affairs has been separated from the responsibilities, with one assistant secretary, U. Alexis Johnson, to do the work.

'Freedom Rides' Viewed As a Help to Red Critics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Much has been said lately about "extremists." President Kennedy has assailed them in public speeches. So has Vice President Johnson. As one reads the headlines this week, however, it is becoming increasingly apparent that only one kind of "extremists" is in disfavor and that some of the others are actually extolled as heroes and champions of freedom.

To plan to take the law into one's hands is bad when the "Minute Men" foolishly organize groups of their own, but somehow the same kind of tactics are given an heroic flavor in the phrase "Freedom Riders."

Mississipi now reports a riot incited by "Freedom Riders" at a restaurant. Plans are being made for the exertion of pressure next week on the owners of restaurants—wholly disconnected from railroad or buses and operated as private businesses—along a Maryland highway, "Sit-in" demonstrations that have aroused resentment or produced riots and even bloodshed are not being condemned by either President Kennedy or Attorney General Kennedy as the acts of "extremists."

Vice-President Johnson has pointed out in one of his recent speeches that the Communists hope to triumph by striving to "array brother against brother, class against class, race against race." Everyone knows that widespread publicity is given in the press and radio in Europe to the "Freedom Rides" and "sit-in" demonstrations.

Yet who starts these things? Members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and of another organization know as the Congress of Racial Equality participate in these demonstrations. Is it possible that the Administration here hesitates, for domestic political reasons, to denounce these tactics or those whose demonstrations unwittingly furnish publicity for the Communist criticisms of America? It could be presumed that the Negro vote, which has benefited the Administration in many elections, is too large to risk alienating it by any public criticism of the Negro organizations that are conducting the "Freedom Rides." Maybe if they had as few members and as little influence politically as the John Birchers, the "Freedom Riders" would have long ago brought down upon their heads the wrath of Administration spokesmen.

The church organizations, too, are for the most part strangely silent. Though inevitably the "Freedom Riders" result in violence every now and then, it is the police who are denounced for alleged "brutality" when they make arrests or try to preserve order. Indeed, some clergymen actually participate in the demonstrations and allow themselves to be arrested in order to get publicity for the cause they espouse. There's no objection to anybody getting publicity for a cause, but there is a distinct difference when the form of demonstration is calculated to cause violence.

What is the solution? Maybe it would be helpful to reread the following words from a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States:

"We consider the underlying policy of the plaintiff's argument to consist in the assumption that the enforced separation of the two races stamps the colored race with a badge of inferiority. If this be so, it is not by reason of anything found in the act (a state law), but solely because the colored race chooses to put that construction upon it. . . .

"The argument also assumes that social prejudices may be overcome by legislation, and that equal rights cannot be secured to the Negro except by an enforced commingling of the two races. We cannot accept this proposition. If the two races are to meet upon terms of social equality, it must be the result of natural affinities, a mutual appreciation of each other's merits and a voluntary consent of individuals. As was said by the Court of Appeals of New York, 'this end can neither be accomplished nor promoted by law which conflict with the general sentiment of the community upon whom they are designed to operate.' . . .

"Legislation is powerless to eradicate racial instincts or to abolish distinctions based upon physical differences, and the attempt to do so can only result in accentuating the difficulties of the present situation."

The foregoing quotations come from the famous decision of 1896 known as "Plessy V. Ferguson," but they were repeated this year by Judge Ben Cameron of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in filing a dissenting opinion in connection with a case of racial disturbance on a bus line in Birmingham, Ala. It was this same viewpoint which the Supreme Court of the United States in 1954 overturned, not on the basis of constitutional law or legal precedents, but by citing "modern authority" — namely, several treatises on psychology and social science. Small wonder there are "extremists" who today form organizations to demonstrate against this form of "modernism" in the Federal judiciary.

Castro's Foes in Mexico Would Keep Him in Office

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

MEXICO CITY — (NEA) — "I hate to admit this. But in practical politics, there no longer is any urgent reason to get Fidel Castro out of Cuba."

These are the words of a ranking official in the Mexico local of the Cuban anti-Castro underground — not quite so large as its affiliated brotherhood in the U.S. but seemingly closer to crucial Latin American thinking.

His appraisal, an echo of most of the savvy sentiment in this sophisticated capital, holds Castro too valuable to oust now for three main reasons:

The regime in Havana has become too good a showcase of terror, hunger and misery for anti-Castro propaganda throughout Latin America.

Soviet manipulations in Cuba have helped to disarm and discredit the once-active extreme left in Mexico and thus in watchful nations to the south.

A floundering Cuba, beset by internal troubles and embargoes, is very good for business in competitor countries.

Jose Pardo Llada, former official radio voice of the Castro regime and now Cuba's No. 1 defector, reports having heard Soviet officials express embarrassment over "the mess in Havana."

You can't buy copies of Revolucion or Bohemia, periodicals published in Cuba and once available everywhere in Mexico. They, like other incendiary publications from Cuba, are not allowed past customs any more.

Social psychiatrist and historian Erich Fromm, back in Mexico after a teaching stint in Yugoslavia, reports that Russians in Cuba have had to become restraining, conservative influences on Castro's attempts at a permanent revolution.

Daniel James, Latin American expert and author of the new history, "Cuba: The First Soviet Satellite in the Americas," says two recent leftist rallies in Mexico were significant failures.

Both were headed by Lazaro Cardenas — former Mexican president, leading pro-Castro spokesman.

"But," reports James, "Cardenas' first rally for Peace, National Sovereignty and Economic Independence drew only 2,000 people. His second rally, a mass meeting to protest Yankee intervention in the ill-fated invasion of Cuba pulled only 8,000 people (in a plaza capable of holding five times that number

"The crowd dwindled to fewer than 3,000 before he had finished speaking," James says. "It's a telling blow to Latin opinion on the left."

And now, to top it off, Mexico has become a sugar exporting nation for the first time in years.

"So why bother to get Fidel out?" says Carlos Gernandez, a Cuban refugee and coordinator for the Revolutionary Council. "He is more valuable in office to his opponents.

"In Mexico, we constantly are amazed at reports that our brothers in the U. S. expect Washington—or anybody else—to make an overt move against Fidel."

It is a perfect round robin—or would be, say coordinator Fernandez and reporter James, except for two details:

In Cuba, Castro continues to tyrannize the minds of his captive nation.

And in other Latin American nations conspirators are beginning to learn that they no longer need popular support to take over their country and keep it.

So They Say..

Most of us come from states that have officially and legally recognized alcoholism as an illness. These new laws stand side by side with old laws that provide punishment for drunkenness. We now face the dilemma where it is legal to show symptoms of an illness.

Aso scheduled to appear is Alvord Clements, state representative.

Films also will be shown at the session.

"We're looking forward to a good turnout of interested workers and at the same time to an enjoyable program," Jones said.

The local campaign director noted that 1962 poses another critical year for funds to help the Foundation fight polio and other associated diseases and called upon volunteers of former years to do their utmost to make the new fund campaign the best ever.

Burcaw, who also will stress the urgent need for a successful 1962 campaign, starting Jan. 1, was named director of program development for the National Foundation on Aug. 24 by Basil C'Connor, president.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef, lamb and pork are leading bargains at the nation's supermarkets this week.

Housewives will have a wide choice of meats at good values this weekend, based on the advertising plans of the big chains and the weekly U.S. Department of Agriculture survey.

Good Retail Supply

Heavy marketings of hogs and cattle due to expanded production is producing a good retail supply of beef, lamb and pork.

Markets in all sections of the country are featuring the three meats this weekend. One of the largest supermarket chains will have an all-beef special with price reductions in some areas of 10 cents a pound on such items as rib roast, sirloin and porterhouse steaks.

Bacon, ham and veal also are on the special counter in some areas.

Among sea food features are clams and halibut in the Northeast, crab meat and sea trout in the Southeast, yellow perch in the Midwest, red snapper in the Southwest and Salmon and halibut in the Far West.

Egg Prices Decline

Egg prices appear to be declining. Large eggs are selling at wholesale prices in Chicago at the lowest level in five months. One chain posted reductions of 2 to 8 cents a dozen on various grades and size eggs in the metropolitan New York area.

Best buys in vegetables are cabbage, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, green beans, carrots, celery, lettuce, squash and tomatoes.

Others recommended include broccoli and brussel sprouts, mushrooms, green beans squash peppers and radishes.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Silver and gold—paper money and credit—the seesaw relationship of the U.S. dollar to the British pound and the Canadian dollar and the German mark and the Swiss franc.

These are all parts—and often confusing parts—of the big international monetary problem that the central bankers of the Western world are trying to solve.

Aim Is Stability

Their aim is to achieve some stability in world currencies and world trade, to halt or minimize the spasmodic runs on the dollar or pound with an accompanying rush to buy and hoard gold, to keep trade between nations in better balance and thus promote the economic growth of all.

The parts often confuse, even hide, the whole.

Right now the headlines center on these items:

1. The proposed U.S. move away from silver as a backing for part of its currency. The first result is a big upward push in silver prices on the commodity market, with much fluctuation expected to follow.

2. Fresh losses of gold by the U.S. Treasury as Britain buys the metal with spare dollars to bolster Bank of England reserves and protect the pound, recently under attack because of its foreign trade deficit.

3. The drop of the Canadian dollar below 96 American cents for the first time in 10 years.

Repercussions Likely

All of these are expected to have political repercussions here and abroad.

President Kennnedy's proposal to demonetize silver entirely, except for coins, by substituting Federal Reserve notes for some $2 billion in paper money now backed by silver seems sure to stir up the embers of historic monetary disputes in Congress.

The loss of gold by the U.S. Treasury is linked to our balance of payment deficit. We are spending more dollars overseas than we are getting back. And efforts to remedy this is stirring up one of the biggest fights in years in Congress over tariffs. Should they be lowered in return for concessions abroad on American exports? Should they be raised to protect domestic industries from foreign imports?

Some experts are suggesting a solution to the many financial problems can be found in establishing an international monetary unit—whether as currency or as central bank credit—to handle exchange procedures, bolster any temporarily threatened national currrency, and keep all on as even a keel as possible in this changing world.

Solons to Have Say

But through all these problems there run strong threads of nationalism and national prides.

The chances are the immediate troubles will be thrashed out in the upcoming session of the U.S. Congress, in the British House of Commons, in the capitals of the Western European trading bloc.

And all the while you'll be hearing a lot about gold and silver, about tariffs and trade deficits, about possible devaluations of this or that monetary unit, about the flow of short-term investment money from one trading center to another, about spurts of buying or selling of monetary metals in world markets.

Sounds That Always Precede Christmas

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Sounds that always precede Christmas:

"Who invented Santa Claus anyway?"

"I hope you saved the cards we got last year, Myrtle. Otherwise, how will we know who to send cards to this year?"

"Dickie, I've already taken you to see the Santa Claus at Macy's. Why do you have to see the Santa Claus at Gimbels, too? When you've seen one Santa Claus, you've seen them all."

Time for Letters

"I love this time of year. Everybody is so sentimental and gay."

"I hate this season. Somehow, it always makes me feel blue."

"Don't you think it's time you sat down and wrote your annual letter to Aunt Martha, Susie? After all, it's just before Christmas, and if you let Aunt Martha know what you want—"

"All right, all right—so you didn't like the Christmas tree I picked out last year! So this year you pick one out—and lug it home yourself."

"Well, it only comes once a year—thank heavens!"

"Yeah, I read her letter to Santa Claus. It don't make sense to me. She's got 10 dolls already. What does she want four more for?"

"Could you fit me out with a pair of arch supports, doctor? I sell in a department store—and it's pure murder on the feet from now until the end of the year."

"I'd like to exchange this sweater I bought for my husband last Christmas. He's finally decided he doesn't really like it."

Peace, Quiet Only Wish

"Look, Maude, for the last time I tell you—I don't want nothing for Christmas except some little peace and quiet. Now can I please finish reading my newspaper?"

"Every time my wife hears the sound of 'Jingle Bells' she seems to go crazy. She tries to buy out every store in town."

"George has already bought me a mink stole for Christmas, but he doesn't know it. I haven't told him yet."

"If your cousin likes unusual neckties, how about this one? It's made from the skin of a cobra."

"Bobby, you come out of that closet this very minute. No, mommy isn't trying to hide those packages. She's just — just keeping them for a friend. They're no concern of yours."

"You mean your boss only gives you a box of chocolates? My boss gives me a $25 gift certificate, a bottle of scotch—and a kiss, if there's nobody else in the office."

"Could I please have a one-way ticket to Timbuktu or Bali—or anyplace else where they don't play Christmas tunes on the radio?"

Christmas Mail Instructions Are Given to Public

He offered these helpful hints on how to mail Christmas cards and gifts to insure prompt and safe delivery before December 25. Use four cents postage on Christmas cards. Sent by first class mail, they are sorted and delivered first, and if you include your return address on each envelope, they will be forwarded in the event of a change of address, or if they are undeliverable, they will be returned to you. Also, you can write a personal message on the Christmas cards sent by first class mail; whereas, only your signature is authorized on cards at the three cents, unsealed third class rate.

Avoid careless packing of your gifts. Use strong cartons, wrap in heavy paper, and tie with sturdy cord. Mark packages containing breakable gifts, "Fragile"—"Handle With Care." Put an extra label carrying the recipients and senders name and address inside every package.

In conclusion, the postmaster said, "By taking a little extra care with your Christmas mailings right now, you'll avoid disappointing friends and loved ones. The post office is fully prepared for the big Christmas mail rush, but through your cooperation in mailing early and often, as suggested by the National Improved Mail Service program, there'll be less danger of some Christmas cards and packages not being delivered before Christmas."

GOP Club Hears Talk by McHugh

A regular meeting of the Rosendale Republican club held Tuesday at the Grange Hall, Rosendale, with President Ferdinand Fiedler presiding.

A discussion was held on the gains made in the recent election and plans were made to start a drive to secure new members for the club.

Justice of the Peace-elect Raymond LeFever thanked the club and the voters of the town of Rosendale for their support in the last election. Town Superintendent of Highways John Markle also extended his thanks to the voters of the town for returning him to office and for the large majority that they had given him.

Miss Cordelia Feltman introduced the speaker of the evening Jesse McHugh. Mr. McHugh is a member of the Republican County Central Committee, majority leader of the board of supervisors and supervisor of the Town of Shawangunk. He spoke on the importance of a Republican club and gave many suggestions on how to enlarge the club by gaining new members and making the club active during the entire year.

Later a question and answer discussion was held by Mr. McHugh as to the method being used in the Town of Shawangunk for bringing new factories and sources of employment for the people. Several members took part in the discussion and were of the opinion that these same methods could be used to bring industries to the Town of Rosendale, which would add value to the assessment roll of the town and give employment to the people in this locality.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served in the dining hall.

Jurors to Meet On Monday Night

An important meeting of the Association of Grand Jurors of Ulster County is scheduled next Monday night, Dec. 4, at the Court House, Wall Street.

President Thomas J. Murphy said arrangements also have been made for a social hour to mark the Christmas season. The business meeting will start at 8 p. m.

One of the discussions will be on the action to secure more adequate space at the Court House to carry on the duties of the courts.

The Association sometime ago proposed to the Board of Supervisors more favorable conditions for the Grand Jury room, including a fire escape.

President Murphy, in reporting this action today, said that at a recent meeting of the Ulster County Bar Association a proposed resolution was recommended by that group to the supervisors for more adequate space at the Court House.

Murphy hailed the Bar Association action and said "we of the Grand Jury Association are very happy that the Bar group has taken steps along the same plan as ours and we hope that some action will be taken by the supervisors in the near future to remedy the situation."

Search, Seizure

jority of the judges, said Abraham Isseks, the Orange County district attorney, had referred in his summary to testimony that had been excluded from the record on Issek's objection.

The judges said the testimony, which concerned allegations by the defendants that they had beeen beaten by Newburgh police, was "....clearly prejudicial to the defendants..."

The court split 4-3 in upholding a lower court's decision that Mrs. Glenn Miller has no property rights in a style of music used by her late husband.

Mrs. Miller receives royalties from her husband's original recordings and from a motion picture.

Unfit, Says Judges

The court held that a 5-year-old child should not be returned to its natural mother, whom a majority of the judges described as unfit.

The court majority said that "our only index to the future is the recent past, and the proof... affords no basis for believing that she (the natural mother) is ready to take on the obligations of parenthood.'"

The child's natural mother, who had sought to regain custody of the child from foster parents, had married after the birth of the child. It was testified, however, that she had beeen involved with another married man when she was 16, while separated temporarily from her husband.

None of the persons involved was identified.

Lower Court May Act

The court did not reverse the second-degree murder conviction of Edwin Codarre, now in Clinton Prison at Dannemora, but hinted that a lower court might do so.

Codarre, who pleaded guilty at 13 and was sentenced to 30 years to life in prison in the slaying of a 10-year-old girl in East Fishkill, claimed that he was an epileptic. He said in a petition asking reversal of his conviction that "'a state procedure that permits a 13-year-old epileptic to plead guilty to murder in any degree violates the due process clause of the . . . U.S. Constitution."

The court said that if there were a hearing on the petition, ".....it might be found as fact that this defendant had such a defense and that insufficient consideration was given to it."

Communists Fail

members of the party now have until Dec. 20 to register under the law.

The government has indicated it plans to move against the party first.

The law provides fines up to $10,000 a day for the party for each day of defiance. It provides the same fines—plus prison terms—for officers and individual members who defy the law.

Passed in 1950

Under the Security Act—fought by party leaders in the courts since its passage in 1950—the party was to have registered as an arm of the Soviet government. It was to list its officers, finances and other details.

The struggle between the government and the party came to a head last Oct. 9, when the Supreme Court refused to reconsider its decision upholding provisions of the 1950 law.

The party has stated many times that it planned to defy the law. The party has denied it is an agent of the Soviet Union and contended it should not be required to register as such.

A Communist party spokesman said Thursday the number of officers had been reduced to three, but he declined to disclose how many officers there had been previously.

However, Chicago's American quoted Claude Lightfoot, a former party official, as listing the three officers as: Gus Hall, general sec- Columbus, Ga., stopped Buddy retary; Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, chairman; and Benjamin Davis, national secretary. All are from New York.

Lightfoot said that among the posts abolished were those of national vice chairman and Illinois chairman, both of which he once held.

College Building Defeat Laid to Apathetic Views

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) —The college - building constitutional amendment was defeated in the Nov. 7 election "because of apathy on the part of too many of those who support this approach and principle," the amendment's sponsor says.

Private colleges and universities, if they are to survive, must take the lead to "win support for necessary expansion programs financed with both private help and governmental assistance under our State Constitution," Sen. Walter J. Mahoney, Republican majority leader, said Thursday night.

The proposed amendment would have let the state pledge $500 million of its credit behind bonds to be issued by the State Dormitory Authority, which constructs dormitories and other buildings and leases them to public and private colleges.

A constitutional formula must be devised by which "the private colleges are provided with their fair share of the vast sums which must be expended for higher education," Mahoney said in a speech at D'Youville College, a Roman Catholic institution.

Protestant and other groups said the proposed amendment would permit the use of state money or credit to aid sectarian institutions, which many of the private colleges are. The amendment thereby violate the constitutional bar against use of public funds for institutions where religious doctrines are taught, its opponents said.

Foes Defying . . .

bers of the old Trujillo Dominican party) be dissolved and that the military budget could not be reduced below the 1962 estimate of 24 million pesos.

"The government could not be Communist," it added.

At the headquarters of the Civic Union, some members censured the United States and claimed it had backed Balaguer against the wishes of the people. Fiallo, alluding to this, declared it was "an historic error."

In Washington, the State Department expressed hope "that all men of good will in the Dominican Republic will exercise moderation and responsibility in seeking the political means by which a truly democratic future for the country can be assured."

It said that since the death of Dictator Rafael Trujillo the United States has "supported in every appropriate way a rapid transition toward democratic government. We especially welcomed and lent sympathetic encouragement to the successful resistance to the efforts by the brothers of the late dictator to reassert toalarian domination."

Ships Still There

Efforts by Trujillo family members to regain control of the government two weeks ago brought U.S. warships to the Caribbean waters off Santo Domingo. Since then they have patrolled just outside the three-mile limit of Dominican waters.

Arturo Morales Carrion, deputy assistant secretary of state for Latin-American affairs, arrived soon after the Trujillo threats were thwarted and has met with both government and opposition leaders.

Morales Carrion was reported to have visited the presidential palace Thursday, and as a result rumors circulated that the United States was backing Balaguer's bid to remain in power.

Red China . . .

Rift Widens

Some diplomats considered the Soviet veto evidence of a widening rift between the Soviets and U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser, once the Arab darling of the Soviet Union. Kuwait's application had the backing of all Arab states except Iraq.

The assembly's main political committee adopted by acclamation an Irish resolution calling on the nuclear powers to work out an agreement to stop the spread of atomic or hydrogen bombs to nations that don't have them. The committee action assured adoption of the resolution by the General Assembly.

Earlier Thursday the committee, by a 57-12 vote, approved a resolution calling on all nations not having nuclear weapons to join in a pledge not to manufacture them, accept them from other nations or allow them to be stockpiled on their territory. The United States and most of its allies in the North Atlantic Treaty organization voted against the resolution because they believe stockpiling of U.S. nuclear weapons in Europe is necessary for defense against Soviet attack.

She and her husband were taken to Liberty Maimonides Hospital for treatment.

Space Orbiter

Chimp No Ham, Just Cool Guy

KINDLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Bermuda (AP)—Enos, the twice-around-the-globe chimp, is to lens-hungry mug like some of his simian brothers.

Holding his first public audience since returning from outer space, the chimponaut refused Thursday to do even a cartwheel for newsmen at his press conference.

Enos was brought to Kindley AFB aboard the destroyer Stormes, which plucked him from the Atlantic after his historic journey Wednesday.

"He's really quite a cool guy and not the performing type at all," said Capt. Jerry Finneg, Air Force veterinarian.

Enos showed no outward ill effects from his orbital flight. Full results of the medical checkup won't be known, however, until after he returns today to Cape Canaveral.

He is back in training on his space-monkey's diet—250 banana pellets a day. He was given a bonus of two oranges and two apples as a reward for his achievement—but that's all.

Nabbed in N. Y. Robbery Attempt; BailRevokedHere

A Sullivan County man held on third degree burglarly charges in Ulster County was arraigned in New York City for conspiring armed robbery of a business concern there. Bail was revoked and he was returned to Ulster County Jail.

Alexander Procho, 37, of Woodridge was released on $200 bail some time ago in connection with charges that he entered a summer home in Greenfield Park October 1959, Kingston state police said. He was suprised by the owner, fled and was later apprehended by the local BCI.

He was picked up Thursday in Sullivan County by BCI Senior Investigators Edward Shannon and Michael Lisman and remanded to Ulster County Jail.

Procho was arraigned in Felony Court, New York City Tuesday charged with conspiracy to commit armed robbery and for illegal possession of a firearm.

He and a co-defendant, Daniel Cohen, 30, of the Bronx, according to New York City police, had two .38 caliber revolvers in their possession.

The plot was discovered by New York City police when they questioned the pair at 57th Street and Ninth Avenue. Police said investigation revealed the pair intended to holdup a business at 134 West 58th Street and had stored the guns, two face masks, gloves and ammunition in a subway public locker.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—A firmer tone developed in stock market trading early this afternoon, leaving prices mostly higher.

This show of strength bolstered the list after an early tendency to sell off, which in turn followed a generally higher opening. See-saw movements by individual issues—first up a fraction, then down a bit—reflected the over-all market picture.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up 0.30 at 264.80 with industrials up 1.20, rails down 0.30 and utilities down 0.10.

Trading moved along at a moderately active pace, although more slowly than the rest of the week.

Most motors, mail order and retail firms, aircrafts and tobaccos were higher. Steels were easy, electronics and chemicals mixed and oils quiet. Again it was a case of individual issues outperforming their groups, and of contrary movements by issues within overall groups.

Ford was lower after setting another new 1961 high early in the day. Chrysler, down for most of the week, recovered more than a point.

Magma spurted around 7 and Newmont Mining nearly 2 on news of a Newmont offer to Magma stockholders which may lead to its acquiring 80 per cent of that firm.

Khrushchev's Quiet Period No. 1 Mystery

JFK's Show of Determination Is Advanced as Reasonable Cause

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev, despite all the heat over Berlin, have kept their own personal relationship as restrained as a minuet.

Nevertheless, the No. 1 mystery is why Khrushchev has quieted down.

Pleasant on Surface

The meeting between the two men in Vienna last June 3-4 was, on the surface, a pleasant session in which they sought to know each other. Underneath it was about as tough as a meeting can be.

It was there, face to face with Kennedy, that Khrushchev began the Berlin crisis by demanding the city be henceforth "free." He predicted the eventual triumph of communism through wars of "liberation."

For months afterward Khrushchev worked overtime to force Kennedy back on his heels with speeches, talks, bomb-warnings, building the Berlin wall and, finally, resuming nuclear tests.

Kennedy, reporting on his meeting when he returned home, said the United States would stand firm. He added that Khrushchev should not be blamed for all the world's troubles, outlined a program to resist communism everywhere, and began a military buildup.

Since then Kennedy has talked repeatedly of his determination not to let Khrushchev get away with Berlin.

No Derogatory Words

But never, in all this long-range and often long-winded dialogue, has either man said an unfriendly or derogatory word about the other. This has left the door open for future reasonable dealings.

Khrushchev even sent his newspaperman son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, over here to interview Kennedy at White House request, giving the President a chance to state his position in full in the Russian government newspaper, Izvestia.

Khrushchev had the same relationship with President Eisenhower until the American U2 spy plane, brought down over Russia, embarrassed him. Then he belittled Eisenhower and broke up the 1960 summit meeting.

In the current situation, this is the big puzzler:

Still Big Puzzler

Why Khrushchev, from about the time the 22nd Communist party congress met in Moscow last October, suddenly quieted down on Berlin and even postponed indefinitely the deadline for a settlement which he wanted by year's end.

There have been suggestions he did it because he was having so much trouble at home.

That makes no sense. He was master of the congress, got endorsement for humiliating old die-hard Bolsheviks like Molotov, and so thoroughly discredited the image of Stalin that the old dictator's body was removed from its tomb.

A more reasonable assumption might be that he had so much work to do at the congress that he needed a vacation from Berlin.

Nor could his troubles with Red China and tiny Albania, which seem to think he's not aggressive enough, look like a factor in cooling off his ardor on Berlin. He's not about to have war with Red China. Albania hardly counts.

It would be more reasonable to think Kennedy's show of determination persuaded Khrushchev not to push the Berlin business to an explosion.

All Sheer Guessing

Any suggestion about Khrushchev's motive for quieting down on Berlin is sheer guessing.

Here is another: That when he put up the wall shutting off West Berlin from East Berlin—and the West failed to do anything about it—he had won a major point anyway and could relax.

Meaning: He wanted to make the West acknowledge that communism completely controls East Germany and East Berlin—and the West isn't going to do anything about it. By bowing to the reality of the wall, the West admitted his point.

From the very beginning of this dispute the Russians have told the West in effect that the two Germanies were not going to be reunited. Recently Kennedy admitted this was so, as long as the Russians wanted to keep them separate.

Geneva Plant Is

Lake in this fertile, Central New York area, lost the Shuron Optical Corp., employing 300, earlier this year.

Other Talks Set

The Geneva Forge Division of Ekco Products Co., where about 225 work, is scheduled to close. Mayor Harold M. Simpson said, however, that a four-man civic committee was told by Ekco officials in Chicago the plant would remain open if an agreement with machinists could be reached.

Geneva was just beginning to recover from the closing five years ago of Sampson Air Force Base, a giant training station with a military "family" of 36,000.

On the brighter side, Geneva reaps the benefit of $3 million a year spent by 1,200 students and faculty members at Hobart and William Smith Colleges. There also are large employers in the vicinity.

A Chamber of Commerce campaign to attract new industry is under way.

Preparing Lessons

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Material for Sunday School lessons on Christianity and communism is being prepared for nationwide distribution to Methodist churches. The church's curriculum committee said today the material will be available in April for adult classes and in September for youth classes.

Consider Growth Factor In Figuring Stock Income

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I am a widow in my 50's and have $2,000 in Cities Service, $3,000 in American Telephone, $1,000 in U. S. bonds, $10,000 in savings earning 4 per cent, and $17,000 with the insurance company, which is paid out to me in installments. My daughter is starting college, and I'm going to have to sell or draw on something to get additional funds. Which of these do you think should go first?" J.F.

A) Personally I would draw first on the $10,000 savings account. You have a good-sized investment here and I think that you can safely reduce this account to perhaps the $5,000 mark before turning to your stocks.

Telephone, in my opinion, is an exceptionally strong issue, and Cities Service has a good rating. At current prices they together yield an average of 3.6 per cent—reasonably close to the savings account return—to say nothing of their prospects for gradual appreciation.

My plan would, of course, lower your current income by a few dollars a year. This may seem like strange advice at first, but I believe that your two stocks will perform very well over the next few years, giving you market gains more than enough to offset the slight loss of income right now.

Later, if you need to come up with additional funds, I would begin liquidating my stocks, starting first with Cities Service. But if you are not forced to do this—as I hope will be the case—I'd stick with both issues.

Q) "Is Northern Illinois Gas a good stock to own?" H.R.

A) Very much so. Northern Illinois Gas (MSE) serves a fast expanding suburban area near Chicago. Earnings gains have been very good and dividends have been raised five times in the last eight years. I rate the issue as one of the best holdings in the gas utility group.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Clothing Drive For Children To Open at OCS

Campaigning to collect used "clothing a child or adult would be proud to wear," the Student Council of Onteora Central Schools will launch Save the Children Federation's 20th Annual Bundle Days Used Clothing on Dec. 4-8, in behalf of the needy children of the American southern mountains area and elsewhere.

The clothing project is conducted by Save the Children Federation, the 30-year-old international organization in Norwalk, Conn., which serves the interests of children the world around, in cooperation with leading U. S. educators and more than six million students across the United States.

"This is an important community operation," said Ronald M. Koster, Onteora faculty advisor. "Children and their parents in the southern mountains and in depressed and disaster areas elsewhere are in serious need of this donated clothing, which comes from communities all over the country. Both summer and winter shoes and garments are desired—coats, shoes, dresses, suits, blue jeans, dungarees, underwear, gloves. We strongly urge our citizens to respond generously to the call.

"An important new emphasis is being placed this year on the quality of the clothing donated. In years past, it appears that Save the Children Federation has found itself with a vast amount of unwearable clothing —clothing that is beyond cleaning or repairing, disposable only as rags, which it has cost the Federation much money to transport, sort, store and dispose of.

"'Parents and friends are urged to contribute wearable clothing, clothing that is outgrown but not worn out—to give generously of "clothing a child or adult could be proud to wear." The clothing should be taken or sent to the Onteora Central Schools.

Work at Tri-Mount

Set Foundation For Scout Camp's New Dining Hall

Construction on the new dining hall at the Camp Tri-Mount Scout Reservation at East Jewett has progressed to the stage where most of the foundation for the hall is completed.

Under the direction of I. and O. A. Slutsky of the Hunter Rigging Corporation, the new hall, located on the former Moseman property, will contain a main dining hall 30 by 90 foot, a kitchen annex 40 foot square, and a lounge containing a fireplace. The building is located on a knoll overlooking the entire East Jewett valley in Greene County.

Draws Plans

Plans for the dining hall have been drawn by Sidney Vanderbent of Vanderbent Associates of Kingston.

Current plans call for completion of the project for use during the 1962 summer camp season, according to Camp Chairman Henry P. Eighmey of Kingston. Work on the building will continue as long as whether permits, with the next step being that of placing the floor timbers.

The need for a dining hall at the Camp Tri-Mount Scout Reservation, operated by Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, has been apparent for the past 10 years. The barn, currently utilized for a dining hall, has a capacity of 110 boys, while the other facilities of the reservation will accommodate many more campers. Improvements to the East Jewett camp have been continuous for years with the goal of a new dining hall continually proposed. With the recent acquisation of the former Moseman property and the drilling of a new well for increased water supply, the dream of a new dining hall became a reality, the camp chairman said.

Fund Established

Two years ago a dining hall fund was established in a Catskill bank. This fund has been growing slowly through contributions of citizens interested in a new dining hall.

"Additional funds are needed for this project," said Chairman Eighmey, "but we plan to continue progress in the hope that future donations will make it possible to complete the 220-boy dining hall and thus increase the service of the Rip Van Winkle Council to the boys of this area."

Scout Pack 19 Observes Cubs' Theme on Magic

A double-barrelled show of magic, by the Cub Scouts and Fred L. Van Deusen, local magician, and the graduation of Scout Nicholas Lemister, highlighted the monthly meeting of Cub Pack 19, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1386 of Kingston.

Following the theme of the month, Cub Scout Magicians, the Cubs presented a magic trick at the meeting. Van Deusen mystified the scouts with various disappearing acts and rope tricks.

Cubmaster Frank Rittie conducted a ceremony for the graduation of Nicholas Lemister from Den 3, and also presented Cub Scout Bart Dutto with his Bear Badge and Cub Scout John Solian with Wolf Badge.

Awards for the month, presented by the cubmaster were:

Den 1: Mrs. Betty Eighmey den mother: Gold arrows to Gary Tomczyk, Gregory Rosebrook, and John Solian; silver arrow to John Rosebrook; one year service star and Bear Badge to Bart Dutto; Wolf Badge to John Solian; one year service star and one year perfect attendance pin to Steve Fratoni.

Den 3: Mrs. Victor Osborn den mother: Silver arrow to David Post; graduation certificate to Nicholas Lemister.

Den 5: Mrs. Juanita Showers den mother: Silver arrows to Michael Brown, Edward Brown, and Victor Osborn.

Pack 12 Reenacts Iwo Jima Scene At Cub Meeting

Den 5 was responsible for opening and closing the November meeting of Cub Scout Pack 12 held Monday at Old Dutch Church. The opening included a reenactment of the flag-raising at Iwo Jima in which the whole den participated.

All participating Cubs received credit toward their Lion award for this activity.

A Thanksgiving action story read by Cubmaster George Christian followed the opening. Supporting effects were provided on the stage by Cubs from various dens.

The following awards were made:

John Crespell and William Johnson became Bobcats, while Glen Stingel received his Wolf Badge. Gold and silver arrows under Wolf went to Steven Sharbot, Douglas Devling and John Smith.

The following Cubs were promoted to Bear: Robert Crouse, Joseph Fiore and William Welch, while Bear Golden arrows presented to David Rider, Robert Crouse, Joseph Fiore, Gary Sallof and William Welch. David Rider also received a silver arrow. Michael Small and Howard Killman received their Lion awards and were promoted at the same time into the Webelos Den.

The services of Barbara Christian and Grace Kittle, den mothers of Den 5, were recognized by the Pack. Mrs. Christian received a two-year service pin and Mrs. Kittle was presented with a two-year perfect attendance pin.

Following the awards, a display of den projects was presented and the various dens participated in the theme for the November meeting, a "Magic Show." Refreshments served by Den 5 marked the closing of the meeting.

Five Are Inducted In Scout Pack 10

The new recruits are David Crago, William Quirk, Roy and Randolph Felipe, Randolph Marz and Gary Beaumont.

Den 1 conducted the opening ceremony and Paul Stymfal opened with a talk on magic.

Neil Rauch and Kevin Krajak were advanced to Wolf rank, the former with a silver arrow and the latter with four silver arrows.

Donald Beaumont was awarded a silver arrow under Bear Badge and was advanced to Lion rank.

Court Annuls 2 SLA Penalties

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court's Fourth Department has annulled State Liquor Authority penalties against two Buffalo hotels.

The court ruled here Thursday that attorneys for the hotels Statler Hilton and Stuyvesant were denied due process by not being allowed to fully cross-examine the 17-year-old girl to whom the authority said the hotels served liquor.

The penalties were annulled in separate decisions by 3-1 votes.

Both hotels received 10-day liquor license suspensions from the SLA last spring. The suspensions were held up by the court pending the result of the appeals.

Play Money Girl Finds Turns Out To Be Real Cash

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Little Darlene Spears thought it was only "play money," but what she found on her way to school was more than $300 in real cash.

Darlene, an eight-year-old third-grader, discovered the money in a large, unmarked envelope lying in the middle of an intersection she was crossing Thursday.

Thinking the bills were fake, she gave some of them to classmates. But the money she handed out was later recovered after she showed her teacher the contents of the envelope.

Police said they'll hold the money for six months, and if it's not claimed in that period, Darlene can have it.

Retired Teacher Leaves Estate Of $6 Million

WASHINGTON, Kan. (AP) — Few persons in this northeast Kansas village realized the retired school teacher in their midst was worth $6 million.

Miss Margaret Baker, who died Nov. 21 at age 79, taught school 34 years before retiring about 25 years ago.

"Most people thought she had a little money from some wise investments, but only a couple of us knew just how wealthy she was," F. R. Lobaugh, attorney for the estate's executor, said Thursday.

Miss Baker owned International Business Machine stock worth $5½ million, 12 farms around Washington, and other land in Thomas County, Kan., and Hayes County, Neb.

Lobaugh said Miss Baker inherited a little money from her father, Thomas Baker, a carpenter who patented a device used in scales.

Protests Begin As Rochester Bus Strike Continues

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—This city's bus strike goes into its second month today, and it's beginning to bring overt protests from businessmen who are feeling the pinch.

About 50 businessmen marched four blocks down Main Street to City Hall Thursday, carrying signs reading "Let's Talk, Not Walk" and "Gentlemen, Please, Just 22 Shopping Days Left Before Christmas."

Negotiators for the Rochester Transit Corp. and Local 282 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes were scheduled to meet today with State Mediator Milton Goldberg.

Two previous rounds of talks with Goldberg and four rounds with a federal mediator have proved fruitless. The company arbitrated.

Six hundred company drivers and mechanics struck on Nov. 1, leaving Rochester without public transportation.

No sooner was the door closed than the car leaped forward violently, and afterward went racing wildly along the street, narrowly missing collision with innumerable things. The passenger, naturally enough, was terrified. She thrust her head through the open window of the door, and shouted at the taxi driver.

Passenger—Please, be careful, sir! I'm nervous. This is the first time I ever rode in a taxi.

The driver yelled in reply, without turning his head:

Driver — That's all right ma'am. It's the first I ever drove one!

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 1 — Throughout the course of the business recovery thus far, I have heard complaints from many areas that retail trade has not lived up to expectations. This is not to say that the dollar volume of retail sales has fallen off, as my studies show a slight upward trend in the seasonally adjusted sales curve. However, considering the rapid rise in incomes, merchants are disappointed that retail trade has not registered a larger increase.

Importance of Advertising

My studies indicate that periods of prosperity are generally powered by increases in business expenditures for new plant and equipment. In like manner, this is true also of advertising. Well-thought out and forceful advertising campaigns can channel consumer interest to specific products, as well as increase the desire and impatience to buy generally.

Advertising can accomplish most of the selling job before the consumer even goes to the store. Agencies hammer away at creating the desire for the products or services they advertise, utilizing the appeal of basic need, social prestige, physical attraction, etc. Here, then, is the basic power of general business.

Trends in Advertising

Advertising represents a communication of ideas — from the seller to the buyer. Therefore, it is natural that advertising has followed the evolution of mass communication — from newspapers, to radio, to television. Even the increased dependence of our population upon automobiles has had an effect upon advertising. Ads printed on cards and posted inside streetcars and buses were once an important form of promotion. Today, considerably fewer people use public transportation; hence, with fewer readers inside the streetcars and buses, the ads are now being placed or painted on the outside of the vehicles, where they are on open display to pedestrians and riders in private cars. Moreover, outdoor billboards are receiving increased emphasis to attract the attention of automobile drivers and riders.

Changes in consumer shopping habits also should create certain changes in advertising. The development of chain stores, supermarkets, and shopping centers radically affects consumer spending and shopping patterns. The trend toward self-service in retailing makes it highly important to have consumers pre-sold at home, since the smaller sales forces in such stores cannot sell effectively.

New Emphasis Needed

In total, business advertising expenditures continue to trend upward. My studies reveal, however, that for more than a year there has been a slowing down in certain phases of advertising. Except for television, most media in recent months have recorded declines from a year ago.

In prosperous periods, rising sales and profits permit businessmen to allocate larger sums to their advertising budgets. When business drops off, they tend to reduce advertising outlays as a part of their economy programs. This is a great mistake. There should be more advertising when business is depressed and when competition is keenest. This is necessary to stimulate buying interest and demand at a time when business most needs a helping hand. On the other hand, during periods of brisk business and buying impatience, there could be a slacking off in advertising pressure in order to build up funds for the next lag in buying interest. In this way, advertising can be a great stabilizer of business and economic conditions, and it can go far toward helping to eliminate periods of reckless booms and racking depressions.

Opportunities in Advertising

Let me say one more thing. I believe advertising offers good opportunities to young people. Rapidly growing suburban and "community" newspapers may be good employment sources for young folk interested in advertising, and having patience and genuine interest. These publications require advertising which ties in with local interests to the benefit of the community's businesses and its consumers.

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — Ernest MacDonald, Philmont, and Ed Mesick, Spencertown, were among Columbia County residents visiting the reservoir country Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kelly and Mrs. Kelly's sister-in-law, Kathryn Loos, all of Inwood, L. I., spent Saturday at their summer place here. Mrs. Loos' eldest daughter, Mrs. William McKinley, and husband are currently on a three weeks' tour of Florida.

Local observers claimed the east bound traffic on Route 28 through the village last Sunday evening was fully as heavy as during the summer months. The procession of cars between five and eight o'clock was almost continuous and traffic coming up the reservoir road had quite a wait at times.

Ed Mack, Clifton, N. J., and Stephen Bodnor of Irvington, N. J., were Sunday callers at the village center museum.

Dr. A. O. Person, Lexington, his son Addison of St. Petersburg, Fla., and grandson, Alfred O. Person, Syracuse, are the fourth generation to join Mountain Lodge 529, F&AM at Windham, Greene County.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Sheinerg, New York City couple, were in Shokan Sunday. They found upon arriving at their Silver Hollow summer place that a partridge had flown against and broken one of the large windows. A similar incident took place there two years ago when a pheasant smashed a picture window.

Dr. Douglas Torre and wife of Woodstock were in Shokan Sunday. They were accompanied by Dr. Torre's mother, Mrs. Peter Torre, and H. C. Mottram, New Orleans, an uncle of the doctor.

Joseph Garone, Upper Montclair, N. J., collector of old firearms, was here early Saturday morning. He was taking home a good-size deer which he had bagged near Prattsville.

Lloyd Hale and son of Long Island spent the weekend at the family camp on the old Stratton Road below the Paltz College recreation center in the Winchell's Falls area. He has been trying to decipher some of the inscriptions on headstones in the old burying-ground near his place and not far from the ruins of the Frederick Bush home where three Bush boys were carried off by Tories and Indians during the Revolutionary War. Hale made out one name, VanGaasbeck Winchell, who may have been a son of the Lemuel Winchell who had a store, gristmill and foundry there 200 years ago.

Fred Morgander, Newark, N. J., man was a Shokan caller Sunday. Jersey people come here in greater number each year. A woman from the Newark area, here earlier in November, reported that following her visit last summer a Jersey friend sent her a news item from The Freeman about it. She hadn't known The Freeman circulated so far, and seemed quite pleased over the incident.

One time Shokan residents in town last weekend included Richard Griffith who for many years has lived near Paterson, N. J., where two brothers, William and Charles, also make their home. James, eldest of the four boys who lived in the present James Fairbairn house some 40 years ago, has died since leaving Shokan.

Harry Sylvanus, Beacon resident and one of the most consistent Ashokan Reservoir fishermen, year after year, was here Thursday. He says he never saw so much dry land and so little water in the west basin as was the case last week.

Mrs. Lester Leone of the village center spent Saturday in Creek Locks at the home of her brother, George Bobelle, who had just returned from Michigan where he spent several months with relatives in the Detroit area.

Homer Markle who died Nov. 26 in Kingston, was one of Olive's best known citizens. A house painter, Mr. Markle had been a member of the town board of assessors for the past several years. Born in New York City, son of Homer and Julia Bellows Markle, he later lived at Glen Cove, L. I., and attended high school there. The family moved here and took up residence in the old Markle homestead along the West Butternutkill about 40 years ago.

Denies Prostitute Is College Cook

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A Syracuse University spokesman denies that a convicted prostitute is a cook in a campus fraternity house.

Earle Clifford Jr., university dean of men, said Thursday he had not found any information to substantiate a claim by Antoinette Wilson, 25, the prostitute, that she was "cook at a fraternity house on the Hill."

Miss Wilson made the statement last week when she testified as a prosecution witness in a narcotics trial here.

Report on Water

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) —For a change, most western New Yorkers can't cry that they have too little or too much water this fall, a water specialist said today.

In most places, wells are fairly full and city water supplies are adequate, Prof. Harrry Kerr of the State Agriculture College reported. He said an exception was the region northwest of Geneva, where the weather has been dry for months.

Maine passed its Prohibition Law in 1858, the first step toward the 18th Amendment of 1919.

Governor Calls Off Trip Upstate

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller will not make a three-day visit to the Utica-Rome area next week as planned.

The governor's offfice said Thursday a new date for the visit, which was to have been next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, has not been set.

The postponement resulted from Rockefeller's absence from the country for the last 10 days to search for his son, Michael, missing in Dutch New Guinea.

19 Future Boatmen Qualify To Operate Craft by Selves

The majority of boats are to roost for the winter, so senior members of the Kingston Power Boat Association are directing most of their interest to teach-in the New York State Young Boatmen's Safety Course at the club on Abeel Street.

Last week, 19 future boatmen successfully passed the examination prescribed by the Conservation Department, Division of Motorboats, under the guidance of Cleon Jump, Charles Kohl and Joseph Huber, certified instructors for the Conservation Department in this area.

The instructors proudly noted that a large percentage of this class was from the Girl Scout Troop 131 of St. James Church under the guidance of Mrs. Reynolds Van Keuren, troop leader, who saw that they got to classes on time.

The course "Make Sure Make Shore" teaches the young boatman what to do from the time he leaves the wharf to the tieing up on the return of a cruise. The course covers fire hazards, channel markers, life saving, first aid, etc.

All boys and girls in the age bracket of 10 to 15 years must take and pass this course in order to operate a power boat on his own without having an adult along in the craft he may be operating. This is New York State law and must be complied with as the Conservation Department has patrol boats operating on all waterways throughout the state during the boating season.

Discuss All Phases of Regional Development

The Catskill Mountain Development Council, a four-county organization formed some eight months ago to promote recreation in the Catskill Mountain area, met Wednesday at the Kingston-Stuyvesant Hotel to discuss plans. From left are Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson; Ronald B. Peterson, deputy commissioner of New York State Department of Commerce; Greene County Clerk Neal Brandow; Victor Glider, superintendent camps and trails, Conservation Department; State Senator E. Ogden Bush; W. D. Mulholland, assistant state director of lands and forests; Tom Quick, president of The Catskill Mountain Development Council. Council membership represents Ulster, Delaware, Greene and Sullivan counties.

A long range program for expansion of the recreational, industrial and commercial development of the Catskill Mountain area was advocated by Deputy Commissioner Ronald B. Peterson, State Department of Commerce, at a meeting of the Catskill Mountain Development Council on Wednesday at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

This he stated would create income for this section and thus result in a healthier economic climate for this region of the state.

Recently Formed

The Catskill Mountain Development Council was formed some eight months ago through the joint efforts of State Senator E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson. The purpose of the Council was then designated as a means for promotion of the recreational facilities in the Catskill Mountain area.

Commissioner Peterson suggested the council expand its aims beyond the field of recreation and at his suggestion the council agreed that a Regional Planning Group should be established in the near future to encompass the entire field of regional economic development and that the original council, the Catskill Mountain Development Council would continue to function in its original program for expansion of recreational facilities of the area.

Tom Quick, president of the council, presided and introduced the council's special guests, Peterson, W. D. Mulholland, assistant director for Land and Forests, Conservation Department; Victor Glider, superintendent of Camps and Trails, Conservation Department.

Senator Bush stated that steps have been taken by the council to further recreational facilities in the Catskill area. He said that the state officials had been invited to this meeting for the purpose of determining "where to go from here."

Assemblyman Wilson commented on the lack of public recreational facilities throughout the Catskill region both summer and winter including marinas, golf courses and camp sites.

Concurs With Opinion

Director Mulholland said he concurred with the long range planning opinion suggested by Peterson, and that his department would lend support to proper and feasible suggestions in the area. Glider informed the gathering that several suggestions have already been submitted to his department by the council and that studies were being made. He invited the council to continue to submit proposals and assured the meeting that they would be given due and proper consideration.

Also attending were: Reginald E. Every, Mt. Tremper; Clarence A. Sanford, Margaretville; S. James Matthews, Kingston; John Bullock, Loch Sheldrake; Arthur Quick, Westkill; C. D. Lane, Windham; Jesse McHugh, Wallkill; Albert Kurdt, Kingston; Neal Brandow, West Coxsackie and Wallace M. Wynkeep, Downsville.

Appeals to State To Preserve Mood Of Hurley Hamlet

A plea to the New York State Public Works Department to save the historic atmosphere of Hurley was made this week by Stephen S. Waligurski, town historian.

In a letter to J. Burch McMorran, state superintendent of public works, dated Nov. 28, Waligurski asked that the historic environment of Hurley village be preserved in spite of the current road construction in that area.

Waligurski stressed the fact that Hurley village has been designated at a national historic site by the Department of the Interior and National Registry. Its Dutch architecture is unique not only in the state but in the nation Waligurski said.

He urged that the state "reappraise the impression . . . construction would produce on the . . . village." He suggested construction of an overpass "the appearance of which will conform to the colonial environment," with landscaping to produce the proper "aesthetic effect."

Lastly Waligurski asked that signs be appropriate. "We do not want a psychiartric nightmare on our village doorstep, such as appear in Kingston at Broadway-Albany Avenue interchange."

Free Enterprise Is Almost Gone, Thomas Laments

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Socialist leader Norman Thomas says there isn't much free enterprise left in the United States because military spending has greatly influenced the nation's economy.

"Nine to 10 per cent of the total national product goes into the arms race," Thomas told a University of California Audience Wednesday. He said a third of the country's scientists and engineers work for the military and some five million workers are dependent upon it.

"The money can't be spent in open competitive bidding. Contracts have to be given. And the Pentagon will never think it has enough," said the 77-year-old Thomas.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Victoria Regina," Lawrence Housman's play that became Helen Hayes' greatest acting triumph, has been adapted into a 90-minute television drama. Shown Thursday night on NBC, it was a beautifully produced, meticulously performed series of vignettes about the great British queen from her accession as a young girl to widowed old age.

Perhaps the play suffered from the necessity of chopping it into bits to follow the rigid TV commercial form. Or perhaps—and this is most likely—the vital elements missing were Miss Hayes and Vincent Price, who originally played Prince Albert.

Miss Harris, certainly a most skillful actress, never really became Queen Victoria. She was all actress as a naive young girl, a jealous wife and a sorrowing widow, with skillful make-up aging from 18 to 78 over 90 minutes. She never was convincing as the great imperious queen, not even in the now famous quarrel with her husband.

Nevertheless, it was a rewarding and eye-filling broadcast. James Donald looked handsome and performed competantly as Albert. But the TV version of contemporary classic proved again that it is almost impossible to remake satisfactorily a play which a great performer has made his own property. Comparison is inevitable, and inevitably the original stars get the best of it.

Panel Discusses Mental Health at Lions' Meeting

The panel included the supervising psychiatric social worker, Mrs. Virginia Robison, Franklin Hazard, assistant superintendent of Kingston schools; Dr. Elbert MacFadden, local pediatrician; County Judge Raymond J. Mino, Dr. Herbert Lange, psychologist at the local clinic, and Dr. Edward Shea.

Cites Aid to Schools

Hazard was called to answer the question, How can a fully operating mental health clinic help the schools? Hazard replied by saying one million children in the U. S. have emotional problems. One of eight has had, will have, or is currently under psychiatric care.

There is a special need for those in grades 6, 7, and 8. Many of the children have normal intelligence and are difficult to diagnose because of their introversion. School personnel is not trained to make the diagnosis.

Answering the question of how a mental health clinic helps the pediatrician, Dr. MacFadden told of the inadequacies of the child guidance clinic that had existed and the superiority of the current center. He spoke of the team of the psychiatrist, the psychologist, and the social worker and how much they can do for the patient.

Judge Mino was questioned as to how the center helped those who appear before him, both in county court and children's court. Judge Mino told how they use the center to find out why children transgress. They refer children to the clinic for proper testing.

If the court feels, Judge Mino concluded, that the conduct of a child indicates clinical help is needed, the center is asked to furnish that help.

Mrs. Robison, asked to outline the operations of the clinic, related that the state supervises the center and maintains the quality of the help through it's licensing bureau. It has the power to grant state aid, 50 cents on the dollar, to the center. However, the County of Ulster has control of the budget.

Regarding treatment, she listed the following procedures:

1. Any person residing or working in Ulster County may apply for treatment if that person feels they need it. However, 60 per cent of the patients are referred to the clinic.

2. Patient contacts the clinic directly. This is to get him started off helping himself.

3. Patients are put on the waiting list as a result of the lack of an adequate number on the staff.

4. About 25 per cent of all patients seen are children and the center team sees all those related to the child.

Speaks of Teamwork

Dr. Herbert Lange answered the question of "What is the Psychiatric Team?" Each member of the team must be interested in the community. He related the duties of each member of the team.

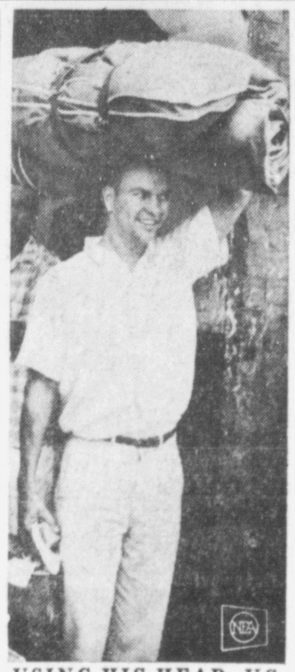

Dr. Edward Shea spoke of progress made in Ulster County Mental Health services. He explained the mentally ill need help the most since most cannot help themselves. He told of acquiring an eminent psychiatrist, Dr. Maurice Greenhill, whom the county was fortunate to have at one time.

Dr. Shea stated that as the budget for the Ulster County clinic rose from $32,000 to over $50,000, the clinic was hindered by controls.

Teamster Urges Drastic Change of JobsClaimsGroup

NEW YORK (AP) —A Teamsters Union official has called for a "sweeping and drastic reorganization" of the State Workmen's Compensation Board to give board membership to "labor, national minorities and the public in adequate numbers."

John J. DeLury, president of Local 831, Uniformed Sanitation Men's Association of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, made the statement at a hearing of the Joint Legislative Committee on Industrial and Labor Conditions Thursday.

DeLury said delays in processing claims force workers onto welfare and into slums. He called for bigger benefits for injured persons and larger dependency benefits.

Board Chairman Sol E. Senior spent nearly two hours on the witness stand defending the board's policies.

Senior said administrative changes had brought about quicker, more equitable and economic payment of "all legitimate claims."

Reexamination Is Hults Idea for Drivers' Vision

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — The state motor vehicles commissioner says he will ask the 1962 Legislature for authority to reexamine drivers, particularly in regard to eyesight.

Commissioner William S. Hults Jr. would not give details of his proposal but said Thursday night he would recommend that the bill be submitted to the state's governing body when it convenes next month.

Drivers now are required to be examined for vision and driving ability only upon initial application for licenses.

Several previous attempts in the Legislature to initiate a reexamination policy, with emphasis on eyesight, have failed.

Hults said the federal government would play a bigger role in motor vehicle administration if states did not do more to promote highway safety.

In addition to reexamination, Hults recommended that New York State (1) count bail forfeitures as convictions for purposes of revocation or suspension of licenses, and (2) apply New Yorkers' out-of-state traffic convictions against their New York records.

Bingo Players Pay $108 Million in Four Years

Game Is Big Business and Must Be Treated as Such Is Opinion

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The $108 million spent to play bingo in New York State during the four years the game has been legalized demonstrates bingo is "big business" and must be treated as such, the chairman of the State Lottery Control Commission said Thursday.

Richards W. Hannah said in releasing the commission's semi-annual report that the "burden" of enforcing bingo laws remained with the commisssion's "limited staff." He noted, however, what he called "a little more activity on the part of local municipalities."

$76 Million Won

The commission reported that 31-million players had won total prizes of $76 million, that sponsoring organizations had made $25.2 million in profits and that the balance had gone to pay expenses.

These figures, he said, "clearly demonstrate that bingo is big business and must be treated and regulated as such."

Hannah made no reference to a current investigation of bingo by a Moreland Act Commission appointed by Gov. Rockefeller.

The commission was named after disclosures that criminal elements had profited from some bingo games and that there had been other irregularities.

Legalized by Voters

Bingo was legalized by New York State voters under a local-option amendment to the state Constitution. Voters in each community must decide whether to allow the game within their respective borders.

Religious, charitable, veterans, fraternal and other specified nonprofit organizations may sponsor games.

The lottery control commission also reported that:

Bingo now is played in 61 of the state's 62 counties, with Hamilton County the only exception.

A total of 1,296 organizations have been licensed to play.

Church Raises $32,726

Of the total number of organizations 374 are in New York City, 140 are in Erie County, 76 in Nassau and 56 in Suffolk County.

Total profits reported ranged to $32,726, which was reported by the church of The Most Precious Blood in Long Island City.

A DUPLICATE WEDDING GIFT

Q: If a bride receives a wedding gift which is a duplicate of one she has already received and there is no indication where the gift was brought, is it proper to telephone the person and ask her if she would mind exchanging it for something else?

A: She must either exchange it herself or find some use for it as she cannot ask anyone, except a member of her family or a most intimate friend, to take back a gift and exchange it for her.

Bride's Parents Live Abroad

Q: Last year while I was abroad studying I met a girl and fell in love with her. She is coming to this country soon and we are to be married. Her parents will not be able to come here for the wedding. We intend to be married quietly in church with members of my family and a few close friends attending. After the ceremony there will be a small reception at my parents' house. I have many friends and relatives to whom I would like to send announcements. In whose names should they be sent?

A: As your parents are giving the wedding, the invitations may properly go out in their names, but announcements should be sent in the names of your fiancee's parents even though they are living abroad.

Introducing Her Young Stepmother

Q: I need your help on the proper way to introduce my new stepmother. She is much younger than my father and too young, I think, to be called Mother. Anyway, I don't really want to call anyone else Mother. She said I should call her Elizabeth, which is her name. But when I want to introduce my friends to her I do not know what to say as she resents my calling her stepmother and I can't introduce her as Elizabeth. Can you offer a solution?

A: Since your stepmother resents being called by this name, the only alternative would be to introduce her as "My father's wife."

Barbara Ann Auringer-William McCabe Jr. Exchange Vows at Presentation Church

Miss Barbara Ann Auringer and William A. McCabe Jr., exchanged marriage vows before a nuptial Mass on November 11 at Church of the Presentation in Port Ewen. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Auringer Sr., Port Ewen. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. McCabe Sr., Port Ewen.

White pompons decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length taffeta gown the neckline of which was scalloped and outlined with Chantilly lace. The bodice was fitted along princess lines, and the bouffant skirt featured panels of lace. A queen's crown held a fingertip silk illusion veil. The bride carried white pompons with roses and cascades of ivy.

Mrs. Madeline R. Stine of Kingston was matron of honor. She wore a blue street length taffeta gown and carried white pompons with red tea roses.

Miss Linda L. Lambert of Esopus and Miss Edwina C. Schultz of Kingston were bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to that worn by the honor attendant. They carried white pompons with yellow tea roses.

Traditional Story Of Christmas At Old Dutch, Dec. 5

Carrying on a tradition of some 14 years, the Old Dutch Church will once again bring the true story of Saint Nicholas—his white horse, small aide, Black Peter—to the community on Tuesday, Dec. 5 at 6:30 p. m. In the churchyard at the corner of Main and Wall Streets, a typical Dutch family scene will be depicted. Characters in Dutch costumes will be making preparations for the Saint's visit, and the mother will tell the story of the real "Santa Claus."

Although it is customary to regard Santa Claus as a myth, historically, he was none other than St. Nicholas, Bishop of Myra, who died in 343 A.D. Our "Santa Claus" is but an American distortion of the old old Dutch name "Sant Niklass," which means Saint Nicholas. Many lovely tales are told of this saintly Bishop, and from them have evolved the customs of hanging up the Christmas stocking, the giving of gifts at this season, and other joyous practices. His red Bishop's robe and his white beard are naturally copied by those who imitate him at Christmas time.

For hundreds of years Saint Nicholas has been the patron Saint of children and when the early Dutch settlers first came to New Amsterdam, the image of Saint Nicholas was on the deck of their ship. The Festival of Saint Nicholas' Eve was observed in the Hudson Valley up until the end of the 19th century on the traditional December 5, but the custom was eventually combined with the holy day, December 25.

Fourteen years ago the Old Dutch Church revived this tradition as a community service, and on Tuesday evening at approximately 6:45, Saint Nicholas will arrive at the little Dutch house in the churchyard, and distribute candy to the throngs of waiting children.

The public is cordially invited.

Miss Ruth Ann Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Warren of Rifton, and Frank Andrew Almquist, son of Mrs. Ann Almquist of Chippewa Fall, Wis., exchanged nuptial vows in a double ring ceremony at St. Peter's Church in Rosendale Saturday, Nov. 25 at 4 p. m. the Rev. John Curry officiated.

The church was decorated with white mums and family pews were marked with white satin ribbon. Musical selections were Ave Maria, Panis Angelicus and Mother Beloved.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk peau soie in princess style fashioned with a molded bodice trimmed with Alencon lace, long tapered sleeves, and a scoop neckline. The bouffant skirt, with a cutaway back, was accented with butterfly bustle which swept back into a chapel train. Her fingertip English illusion veil was secured to a Princess crown of cut crystal. She carried a cascade bouquet of white mums centered with a white orchid corsage.

Miss Anita M. Rimmi of Rifton was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina gown of satin elegance in romance blue that featured a cut away back and bell shaped skirt, scoop neckline and three-quarter sleeves. Her headpiece was a princess crown of romance blue and flirtation veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of American beauty roses and white mums with pink satin streamer.

Other attendants were Miss Elaine P. Almquist, sister of the bridegroom from Chippewa Falls, Wis.; and Miss Petra Albers of Rifton. They wore gowns of identical styling to that of the honor attendant's except in powder blue. The headpieces were fitted capulets of satin in matching color. They carried colonial bouquets of crimson roses and pink mums with pink satin streamers.

Niece of the bride, Miss Wendy Warren was the flower girl. She wore floor length gown of white nylon mist over taffeta with a royal blue taffeta cummerbund. She wore a miniature crown of white flowers and carried a fireside basket of assorted flowers matching the wedding party's bouquets.

Best man was Walter G. Warren, brother of the bride. Ushers were Max Wunderlich and William E. Nicholson.

A reception for approximately 125 guests was held at Reggie's Inn, New Paltz.

Brucellosis End Is Possible by 1975

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says brucellosis, a costly disease of live stock and man, can be eradicated from the United States by 1975.

Dr. C. K. Mingle of the department's research service said the 1975 goal is realistic if present progress against the disease continues.

He said that brucellosis now costs the livestock industry about $25 million a year compared with $100 million in 1954 when an intensified drive against the disease got underway.

An Early Present

KENYON, Minn. (AP) — One monthly bill has taken on the look of Christmas cheer for folks in this southern Minnesota town.

It's the one for electricity, which the Municipal Utilities Commission stamped "paid" for November. An official explained the early Christmas present comes as a result of lower expenses during the current year. The commission is passing along more than $10,000 of the savings.

South Trapped by Part Score

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Sometimes a part score acts as a trap. North had a nice comfortable 13-point opening bid and with nothing on score he would simply have passed his partner's one no-trump response. With 30 on score he reasoned that he was within one trick of game and decided to gamble it.

East was also in a gambling mood. His opponents had reached game and East wanted a heart lead. He had an easy way to get it. He doubled the two no-trump bid and hoped for the best.

The best is exactly what happened. West led the eight of hearts. Dummy's nine lost to East's ten and East returned the three of spades. South played the seven and dummy's ace captured West's eight.

A club was taken by East's king and the jack of spades lead produced three spade tricks for the defense. Then West led a second heart and eventually East made a second heart trick and the ace of clubs while West made his queen of clubs. Down three for a loss of 800 points.

If South had not let the part score trap him, he would have passed one no-trump. East would surely have passed also and if West opened a spade, South might actually have made the hand. In any event, he would not have lost anything like 800 points.

N.Y. Averts Bus Strike, Contract Terms Extended

NEW YORK (AP) —A strike against the city's seven private bus companies has been averted for at least a month.

An agreement to extend work contracts and continue negotiations was announced ½ hours before midnight's strike deadline Thursday, set by the Transport Workers Union.

The union had threatened to call 8,000 drivers and mechanics off the job.

Announcement of the extension of contracts to midnight Dec. 31 was made by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, who had requested the delay during his mediation efforts, and by Matthew Guinan, president of the union's Local 100.

'Bird in Flight' Must Leave Gallery Site

DETROIT (AP) — An abstract sculpture called "Bird in Flight" has been told to find another place to roost.

The sculpture now perches on the easement between the street and the sidewalk in front of an art gallery. Gallery owners William House and Ernest Aretakis were told it violates an ordinance.

House said he and Aretakis installed the sculpture to "add beauty to the city."

He said 1,000 people in the neighborhood had signed petitions urging the Common Council not to disturb the sculpture.

But the council said it must be moved.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
A PMovie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene:

Bing Crosby may be donning priest's robes again, if his present plans go through. He expects his next movie to be "The Devil's Advocate," taken from the best-selling novel by Morris West.

The details have to be worked out with Warner Brothers, but Bing appears eager to play the role of the priest who investigates a candidate for sainthood. It would be his most dramatic role to date.

Italian Setting

It would also be his second film in a row overseas. He just returned from "The Road to Hong Kong" in London. "The Devil's Advocate" would be filmed in a small Italian town.

Bing has played a priest thrice before—as Father O'Malley in "Going My Way" (1944) and "Bells of St. Mary's" (1945) and in "Say One for Me" (1959).

The town is talking about the photo layout of Shirley MacLaine in a men's magazine (Esquire). It's supposed to be a take-off on girlie calendars, and Shirley did just that—take off. In one shot she is clothed only in a diaper, in another, a filmy bridal veil. One photo shows her partly hidden by a tree trunk but otherwise stark naked.

Many local figures have expressed the opinion that the layout shows more skin than satire. "Why would Shirley do it?" asked one famous actress.

Shirley doesn't have to answer the questioners. She's in Europe until late December.

Gregory Peck finally finished his segment in "How the West Was Won." Said he: "And I thought it was going to be a three-week job." It turned into four months.

Back in February

He'll take it easy until February, when he starts "To Kill a Mockingbird." "It will be a stay-at-home, rather than a runaway production," he explained. "They are building a small southern town at Universal."

Millionaires Randolph Scott and Joel McCrea are having fun with their first co-starring film "Guns in the Afternoon." They're even talking about making a picture together every year.

The two veterans suggested this billing: "Mariette Hartley and Ronald Starr in 'Guns in the Afternoon' — introducing Randolph Scott and Joel McCrea."

Killed by Car

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Lucy Troiano, 65, of Syracuse, was killed Thursday night when hit by an automobile as she walked to a church near her home.

Sports Talk

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

If it be true that there are always two sides to a story, let us ponder the plight of the deerslayers who claim they are being victimized by a little steel tag that accompanies the state's party permit system.

Several hunters have complained that the steel tag on the deer permit is a mechanical monstrosity that can be solved only by qualified engineers.

It's a simple ball-type seal that is self-locking," says the veteran game official. "There is nothing complicated about it, but the arm band must be pierced. Once the seal is locked it cannot be unlocked."

During the roadblock recently in Quarryville, some 33 hunters were checked for violations. "Most were for the arm band infractions,' said Overbaugh. "If the hunters would only use a little common sense, everybody would be happy and stay within the law."

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Ernie Davis, the gifted Syracuse University All-America halfback who became the first Negro ever to win the Heisman Award, hopes to wrap up a sensational collegiate career in a blaze of glory on Dec. 16 when the Orange participates in the third annual Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia. With 203 yards gained aginst Boston College, Davis topped a fourth major Jim Brown career record at Syracuse. The Elmira Express wound up with 3,414 yards gained via all manners of attack. Brown's mark was 3,225 yards. The other major Brown career records smashed by Davis were: rushing, 2,386 yards; touchdowns, 35; and scoring, 220 points. Ernie also topped Brown records for average gain rushing, 6.6 per carry; and average gain total offense, 6.8 yards per play . . . Davis, incidentally is Syracuse's first repeat All-America since Joe Alexander was named in 1918 and 1919. Syracuse coach Ben Schwartzwalder's conduct following the Syracuse-Notre Dame game of Nov. 18 earned Ben nomination for a special sportsmanship award by Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago. Daley wired Schwarzwalder: "Your conduct at Notre Dame wins the trophy for you hands down." Schwartzwalder was unable to accept the trophy in person due to preparations for the upcoming Liberty Bowl game...With all the returns in on the hotly disputed field goal that enabled Notre Dame to beat Syracuse, don't you think it's time for the Fighting Irish to graciously concede the game?

• Of Men and Mice:

Harlem Globetrotters and Meadow Lark Lemon at the State Armory Saturday night . . . Reservations for the Jack Hughes testimonial in Middletown have passed the 250 mark. It's scheduled on Saturday, Dec. 9, at the Middletown armory...Hughes was one of the original Big Five (all-purpose) coaches and ADs of the DUSO conference. The others, of course, being the late Al Chase, Port Jervis; C. Everett Stevens, Newburgh; Sam J. Kalloch, Poughkeepsie; and our own G. Warren Kias at Kingston High. Kias, Hughes and Stevens have long since yielded to the age of specialization...Portly Sam Kalloch is the lone holdout—he still coaches all the major sports by himself. Incidentally, when are the good burghers of Poughkeepsie going to get off their hindmost and tender a testimonial to Sam Kalloch? Certainly, this all-time high school coaching great in this part of the country deserves such a tribute...What's this rumor being ghosted around town that our recent reference to the Kingston-Original Celtic "worlds championship" series was incomplete? Something about a "sixth" game and a $5,000 payoff that never made the record books? Will the author of this bit of fantasy please come forward with the evidence . . . The buzz at the DUSO sportswriters-sportscasters session was that Coach John Whitehead of Middletown is not long for the DUSO league. Heading for more lucrative climes. After three straight years as Coach of the Year what else is left?

Etchells Builds, Sails World's Fastest Stars

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

STAMFORD, Conn.—(NEA)—If a Star is the sailboat that's built like a violin, then E. W. Etchells is the Stradavarius of the business.

Talk to the hottest Star skippers anywhere in the world and they tell about boats from this Connecticut craftsman that they've seen or sailed.

A real racing machine, the Star is considered a thoroughbred of the sport. Sailors spend days tuning the rigging, polishing the sleek bottom and practicing to get the sensitive touch necessary to drive the boat for top speed.

Many fleets haul every boat out of the water after every race to keep hulls from gathering scum or adding any weight through absorption.

Like many successful sailors, Skip Etchells grew up away from the water. He learned naval architecture at the University of Michigan. He built his first Star while working in shipyards on the west coast. After the war he trailed the boat, Shillalah, to Connecticut. He started winning races and began building Stars for other sailors who hoped a new boat could help them win.

Each of these 22-foot sloops must be built to exacting measurements so that all are almost alike. It is the precise refinements which Etchells builds in which seem to account for their edge of speed and popularity. The finest woods and fittings are used for strength and lightness so that the boats can ghost along in light airs, yet slug into heavier going without coming apart when the wind pipes up.

Of the 25 boats Etchells builds a year, one went to a broker in Norway in 1956. Last year Skip found out its real owner when the American boat was sailed by two Russians to an Olympic championship off Naples, the first ever won by the U.S.S.R.

Never a Medal

Etchells has never won an Olympic gold medal, but he has a world championship to his credit and a trophy case of other top awards. For a number of years his wife, Mary, was his winning crew. Now he has a son, 11, and daughter, 9, who may soon be sailing with him.

Headquarters of Etchell's Old Greenwich Boat Company is in a building on Stamford's waterfront. Careful insulation shuts out the cold of New England winters for the red cedar planks of each hull are bedded in waterproof glues and sealed with the latest epoxy paints that require perfect temperature control.

Everdur silicon bronze fastenings further secure every plank and frame.

Special trailers are built by Etchells to cradle properly a Star's sensitive hull. The fully rigged sailboat, sails and trailer would come to about $4,500. Right now several are being shipped to top skippers in Italy.

Next year's world champion Star may be getting its final polishing in E. W. Etchells' small workshop right now.

Hawks to Face Albany State at High School Gym

The basketball team of the State University College, New Paltz, opens its 1961-62 season against Albany Sate Saturday, 8 p. m., at the New Paltz Central school gym.

Douglas Sheppard, starting his first season as varsity coach at the school, has just completed coaching the most successful cross- country team in the college's history. He doesn't figure to do nearly as well in basketball.

The Hawks received a big blow when senior Artie Gribbins a regular the past two seasons, dropped out of school. He was being counted on for most of the scoring.

No Seniors on Squad

There are no seniors on the 14-man roster that will take the court against the Albany club. The squad includes four freshmen, two sophomores and eight juniors. Eight of the players saw action last season.

Bob Dillman Queens Village junior and high scorer in 1960-61, is among the returnees. Bill King, a six-foot junior from White Plains and a starter the past two seasons, is fighting for a starting berth, as is Eddy Szymanski, a junior from West Babylon.

Junior Jim Martyn from Ronkonkoma is another returning starter and he's expected to see plenty of service. Dave Hawkins, junior from Middletown and Mike Hazelton, sophomore from Copiague, have been moved up from the jayvee squad.

Three transfer students expected to aid are 6-4 Mike Kellett, the biggest player on the roster; John White, a six-foot jumping jack from Hudson and Artie Stockin, a 5-8 hustler from Kerhonkson. Fred Koeler, a sophomore from Huntington Station, completes the squad of upper classmen.

Freshmen on the roster are Alex Hazelton, Phil Benicasa, Hank Osterhoudt and Gary Bowen.

Three Brothers Will Risk Lead Against Joneses

Home town teams will be knocking heads against each other Saturday night in the Hudson Valley bowling league.

Three Brothers Egg Farm (21-11) leading three other local teams by three games, invades Ferraro's Bowlerama to take on Jones Dairy in a position-night encounter. At the same time, Charles Ramsey Corp. hosts Bowling Time, Inc. Both have 19-14 marks to tie Jones Dairy.

Miron Lumber (17-16) five games off the pace travels to Middletown Merchants.

Ferraro Takes Lead

Jack Ferraro of Jones Dairy sent his average soaring to 204.23 last Sunday to replace Sam Fisher of Ellenville as the leader. Fisher now has 202.14 in 33 games and is trailed by John Ferraro, 201.13, and Vince Carpino, 201.11.

League records remained unchanged last weekend. Sam Fisher's 278-765 and Jones Dairy's 1136-3231 still hold the fort.

Top Tilts Highlight Cage Debut

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major college basketball, rocked by its second widespread scandal in a decade, opens a new season tonight with a job on its hands.

After the scandals of 1950-51, it took the better part of five years before the shocked public forgot its jibes about bribes and began accepting the sport, particularly in the big, publicized arenas of the East.

What kind of reception is in store for basketball this time, after sweeping disclosures that dragged in the names of 37 players from 22 colleges and universities, is anyone's guess.

Back again are such exceptional players as Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, Terry Dischinger of Purdue, Chet Walker of Bradley, Len Chappell and Billy Packer of Wake Forest, Art Hayman of Duke, Billy McGill of Utah, Dave Debusschere of Detroit, Johnny Rudometkin of Southern California, Vinnie Ernst and Jimmy Hadnot of Providence.

Also Don Nelson of Iowa, Gary Roggenburk of Dayton, Carroll Broussard of Texas A&M, Del Ray Mounts and Harold Hudgens of Texas Tech, and Paul Hogue, Tony Yates and Tom Thacker of Cinderella Cincinnati, the Bearcat bunch that upset mighty Ohio State in overtime in the NCAA championship final at Kansas City last March.

Ohio State, picked to again top the nation's teams in the pre-season poll of The Associated Press panel, returns with John Havlicek and Mel Nowell to accompany player of the year Lucas.

Many Big Games

The major schedule, which moves immediately into high gear Saturday, opens with a score or more big games tonight—headed by Southern California at Missouri, Florida at Duke, Mt. St. Marys at Providence, and West Texas at Seattle.

In some Saturday features, Indiana State is at Cincinnati, Florida State at Ohio State, New Mexico at Kansas State, Southern California at Oklahoma, Pitt at Purdue, Bradley at Bowling Green, Wyoming at Wichita, Iowa at Evansville, Virginia at North Carolina, DePaul at Minnesota, William and Mary at West Virginia, Georgia Tech at Rice, Tennessee at North Carolina State, Utah at Arizona State U., Davidson at Wake Forest and three "big arena" doubleheaders:

Manhattan vs. Dartmouth and NYU vs. Virginia Tech at Madison Square Garden; St. Joseph's (Pa) vs. Bucknell and Scranton vs. Villanova at Philadelphia's Palestra; and St. Bonaventure vs. Kent and Canisius vs. Ohio U. at Buffalo, N.Y.

Montreal, Leafs Play to 1-1 Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs finished their two-game, man-to-man battle for first place in the National Hockey League just the way they started it—tied.

The Canadiens and Leafs, getting superb goal tending jobs from Johnny Bower and Jacques Plante, skated to a 1-1 tie in Montreal Thursday night, their second tie in as many nights. They drew 2-2 in Toronto Wednesday.

It left them sharing first place, each with 29 points, three ahead of third-place New York, idle the last two nights.

Detroit put the brakes to its skid by inserting Hank Bassen in goal and taking a 3-1 victory over hapless Boston in the only other NHL activity Thursday night.

Police Keglers Will Roll Two Exhibitions for AHRC

The Kingston Patrolmen's Association bowling all-stars will roll two exhibition matches in behalf of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children, Inc.

The first will be against the Kingston Lawyers on Saturday, Dec. 16, at 8 p. m. at Sangi's Bowlero on Cedar Street. A second match pits the Patrolmen against Ruger's Mobil Service mixed team.

Proceeds of both matches go to the AHRC's Ulster county division. The public is invited.

Army, Navy Winner May Get Bid to Rose Bowl

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1961 college football season finishes its regular campaign on Saturday with its annual military maneuver in gigantic Philadelphia Stadium when Army meets Navy before President Kennedy and 102,000 fans.

Indications are that one of the two service schools may get to play UCLA in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day in one of two bowl spots to be decided as the curtain falls on another hectic season. If it isn't a service academy, it will probably be either Minnesota or Michigan State of the Big Ten.

The other is the Bluebonnet Bowl spot left open for Rice (6-3) if it wins over Baylor (5-4). The latter already is ticketed for New York's Gotham Bowl against Utah State, win, lose or draw.

Crimson Favored

Alabama's Crimson Tide (9-1), playing Auburn, could nail down the No. 1 spot in next week's final Associated Press poll, and with it the mythical national title, plus a share of the Southeastern Conference title with Louisiana State.

The Tide has already indicated it will go to the Sugar Bowl to face Arkansas, making the announcement official after its game against Auburn. The Auburn Tigers (6-3), incidentally, are hoping for a Rice defeat that could send them into the Bluebonnet Bowl against Kansas.

Mississippi, ranked fifth, and sixth-ranked Colorado are the only other of the elite to see action. The Rebels (8-1) play Mississippi State (5-4) and are expected to announce acceptance of a Cotton Bowl bid to play Texas on New Year's Day.

Colorado, 8-1, with the Big Eight Title and a trip to the Orange Bowl all wrapped up, plays Air Force (3-6). Two other bowl clubs also get their last regular season tests. Georgia Tech, 6-3, and set to face Penn State in the Gator Bowl, meets Georgia (3-6), and Miami (Fla.) 6-3, and ticketed for a Dec. 16 date against Syracuse in Philadelphia's Liberty Bowl, plays Florida (4-4-1).

Irish Face Duke

Other closing day games have Notre Dame facing Duke, North Carolina against Virginia, Holy Cross meeting Boston College, SMU playing Texas Christian, Oklahoma looking for its fifth straight victory after five opening losses against Oklahoma State, Oregon State at Houston and Tennessee facing Vanderbilt.

There's also the little Army-Navy game between Pennsylvania Military College and Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy. What makes this one so noteworthy is that it is being played indoors, before a sellout crowd of 12,200 in Atlantic City's mammoth Convention Hall.

Annual Pigeon Show Is Slated Sunday, Dec. 3

Third annual pigeon show is scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 3, 10:30 a. m., at the Port Ewen auditorium. The show will last until 5 o'clock.

Sponsored by the Kingston Ulster Co. Racing Pigeon Club Inc., there will be judging of both racing homers and fancy birds.

Ribbons will be awarded for first, second and third place finishers and trophies will be given in both racers and fancys.

Pine Bush Lacking Veteran Performers

Lacking what Coach Jim McIntyre calls real size and experience, Pine Bush will debut in the Ulster County Athletic League this season hoping to improve last year's 6-10 mark, the first losing season McIntyre has experienced in 12 years at the Orange County school.

The roster includes senior John Filip; juniors Bob Wilson, Gary Johansen, John Lunny, John Padden, Dan Biedermann, Hank Sudol and Harold Pierpont and sophomores Sam Richardson, Bob Leonhardt, John Pluchino and Dean Weed.

Only Biedermann and Luhney are lettermen. The others are either jayvee performers from last season or are newcomers to the squad.

Pine Bush will open its season next Tuesday at Valley Central. The first league contest isn't until Dec. 15 so McIntyre has a couple of weeks to work with his charges.

The schedule:

Date	Opponent	Where

AL Rookie Award to Schwall

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Don Schwall, who came up to the Boston Red Sox from Seattle in late May to pitch his way into an assignment in the All-Star game, was voted the American League Rookie of the Year for the 1961 season today.

The 6-foot-6 right-hander edged Dick Howser, Kansas City shortstop, by one vote in the closest competition since the award was officially instituted by the Baseball Writers' Association in 1949. Billy Williams, Chicago Cubs' outfielder, gained the rookie award in the National League, which was announced Thursday.

Schwall received seven and Howser six of the 20 votes cast as six players, the most in any year, were given consideration.

Lee Thomas, hard-hitting outfielder of the Los Angeles Angels, drew two votes as did outfielder Floyd Robinson of Chicago, and second baseman Chuck Schilling of the Red Sox. Jake Wood, Detroit second baseman, had one vote.

Schwall, who was better known at Oklahoma University for his prowess in basketball, won 15 games for the Red Sox although he did not make his first major league appearance until May 25. He lost only seven and had a 3.27 earned run average.

Pierce and Larsen Delt To Giants

By JOE REICHLER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox' determined drive to rid themselves of aged performers continued today.

Engineering his third major trade in four days, Eddie Short, the youthful general manager, dealt two veteran pitchers, left-hander Billy Pierce and right-hander Don Larsen to the San Francisco Giants for three young players and a fourth to be named later.

The three Sox newcomers, all rookies, are first baseman Bob Farley, 23; and right-handed pitchers Eddie Fisher, 24, and Dom Zanni, 29.

"The accent is on youth," said Chicago manager Al Lopez. "We prefer to gamble on young promising players rather than continue with players who no longer can be counted on to take their regular turn on the mound.

"At best, Pierce would have been our fifth or sixth pitcher and we would have had to spot him against certain clubs. Also, we have four left-handers—Juan Pizzaro, Frank Baumann, Joe Horlen and Gary Peters and Pierce became expendable."

Pierce, 34, a standout with the White Sox since 1949, had a 10-9 record last year with a 3.80 earned run average. Larsen, author of the only no-hitter in World Series history, had a fine 8-1 with the White Sox after they acquired him last June from Kansas City.

"Pierce is the key fellow in the deal," said Alvin Dark, manager of the Giants, "but we are counting on Larsen to help us a great deal. We plan to use him as our long relief man with Stu Miller, our great relief specialist, as the short man."

The new Chicago trio enjoyed successful 1961 seasons with the Giants' Tacoma farm club in the Pacific Coast League. Farley batted .307 in 114 games, hit 20 home runs and drove in 71 runs.

Fisher had a 9-5 record. He walked only 26 and struck out 84 in 128 innings.

Zanni was brought up by the Giants late last season after compiling an 8-4 record and turning in a 2.56 earned run average in triple A. He won his only decision with the Giants.

Last Monday, the White Sox traded Minnie Minoso, 37, to the St. Louis Cardinals for Joe Cunningham, 29, first baseman and outfielder. The next day, the Sox sent Roy Sievers, 35, their slugging first baseman, to Philadelphia for Charlie Smith, 24, a third baseman and John Buzhardt, 26, a pitcher.

Many Schoolboy Cage Teams Set to Open Season Tonight

SHS, Onteora, New Paltz Have Home Contests

While Kingston High cagers put in another week of practicing before their debut next week against Liberty, other clubs in the area are ready to open the 1961-62 season tonight.

Tonight's slate:

Cornwall at Wallkill.
Ellenville at New Paltz.
Lourdes at Liberty.
Highland at Saugerties.
Dover at Roosevelt.
Chester at Marlboro.
Catskill at Arlington.
Millbrook at Onteora.
Rondout Valley at Livingston Manor.

Tomorrow's schedule:

Hunter-Tannersville at Onteora.

Saugerties, Wallkill and New Paltz have already played their first games. The Sawyers lost a 52-60 overtime decision to Hudson on Tuesday. Wallkill dumped Washingtonville and New Paltz beat Hunter-Tannersville in its debut.

Early indications are that fans can expect close races in the DUSO, UCAL and DCSL and tonight's games will show which of the clubs in the three circuits can be counted on as pennant contenders.

Cage teams slated to debut next week are Pine Bush, Beacon, Newburgh, Wappingers Falls, Kingston. Poughkeepsie will not begin its season until Dec. 14.

Royals Defeat Celts, 133-130

The Boston Celtics, leading the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association by four games, might be out of sight if it weren't for the teams in the West.

Cincinnati, led by Jack Twyman and Oscar Robertson, mounted a big last-quarter comeback and clipped the Celts 133-130 in Providence, R.I., Thursday night.

It was only the third loss in 17 games for the three-time league champions, but all have been to Western Division teams.

The Celtics had a 20-point lead early in the third period, then went cold. The lead dwindled to 10 going into the fourth period, and the combination of Twyman and Robertson, who scored 63 points between them, whittled away.

It was the only league game scheduled.

Got His Name

GREEN BAY, Wis. (NEA) — John McNally and a friend required aliases. They were walking down Hennepin Avenue in Minneapolis early one fall in the early 1920s. McNally glanced up as they approached a movie theater. The sign on the marquee read: "Blood and Sand, starring Rudolph Valentino." "That's it," McNally said. "We've got our names. I'll be Blood and you'll be Sand." Nobody recalls what happened to Sand, but Johnny Blood, the fabulous vagabond back of the Green Bay Packers from 1928 through '36, became perhaps the most legendary character in the history of professional football.

Sport Club Booters on Road Against Troy Squad Sunday

Kingston Sport Club and Albany Athletic Club tied for the Central New York Soccer Association, will both hit the road in Sunday's games.

The locals travel to Troy to meet the third place Troy Sport Club (7-2-5), while Albany is at the Poughkeepsie Knights of Columbus.

Kingston and Albany are tied with identical records of 10 wins and one loss, but Kingston has the better goal percentage.

Troy captured the title last year and figures to be rough on its home grounds. Albany will have much easier going at Poughkeepsie against the lowly Knights squad.

In other contests Sunday, Schenectady Football Club is at Endicott; Poughkeepsie Blue and White travels to Albany Sport Club; Little Falls is at Schenectady Sons of Italy and Poughkeepsie Italians go to Utica.

Glenerie Club Bridge Results

Mrs. Helen Ferger and Mrs. Naomi Van Gaasbeek of Kingston posted an excellent 65 per cent game to lead the North-South side field of the Glenerie Bridge Club's monthly Master Point bridge tournament. Winners on the East-West side were the Kingston combine of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yalium with a fine 64 per cent.

Runnersup on the North-South side were: Mrs. Margaret Kantzer and Emil Jensen, Kingston, 58 per cent; Dr. Paul Perlman, Woodstock, and Harry Thayer, Kingston, 57½ per cent; Roy Wulff and Carl Kunz, Kingston, 57 per cent.

Other winners on the East-West side included George Jacobson and Herbert Gertner, Kingston, 59 per cent; George Baron and Dr. John Roberts, Kingston, 58½ per cent; and Dr. Harold Newman and Dr. Martin Kantor, Kingston, 55 per cent.

Rondout Valley '5' Commences Season at Livingston Manor

Rondout Valley cagers figure to make trouble in the Ulster County league race this season, if the starting five stays intact. Coach Chick Meehan figures to have Jim Brush, Lynn Johnson, William Johnsen, Richard Lewis, Ernest Quick and Bob Barnum fighting for first team berths as the Ganders open thir season tonight at Livingston Manor.

The opener figures to be a tough one. The Sullivan County squad has a budding 38-game winning streak going and it won a pair of close tussels from the Ganders last season.

Completing the varsity roster are three jayvee performers from last season—Doug Lyons, Allen Mackowsky and Richard Aaron. Two seniors—Richard Spada and Gary Johnson — are returning after a year of inactivity.

Meehan, who is noted for turning out solid, aggresive clubs, feels his big problem is to find a boy who can put the ball through the hoop. He figures that Brush, Johnson and Barnum will be the offensive stalwarts.

Biggest loss from last year's club, which had an 11-8 overall mark and lost the championship in a playoff with Wallkill is Les Meyers, an all-league selection at guard.

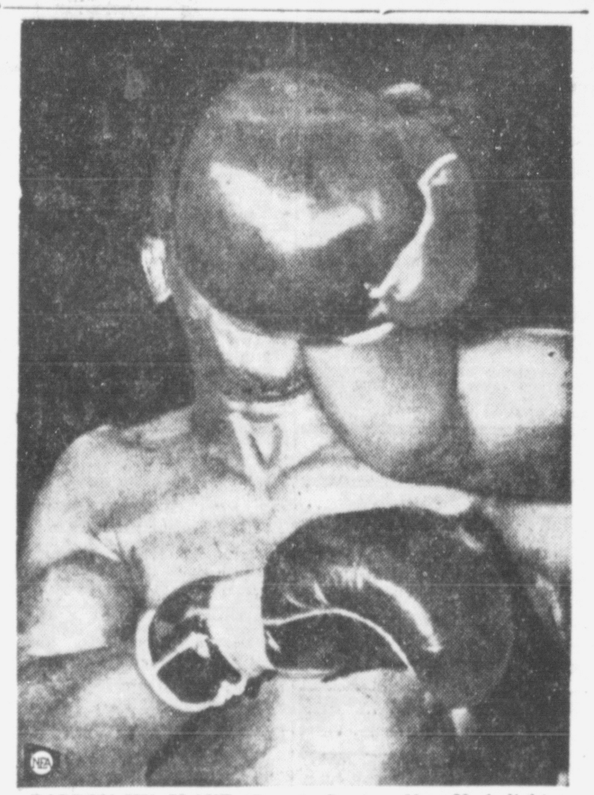

Meehan figures that Wallkill, Marlboro, New Paltz and Pine Bush will be the top teams in the circuit and tabs Rondout, Onteora and Highland somewhat below those clubs.

John Million will again handle the jayvees and he looks to the current frosh crop to fill vacancies. Returning are Pete Green, Anthony D'Allessio, Cliff Schoonmaker and John DeVoll. Newcomers are Don Williams, Robert Cairo, Len Black, Walt Friedlander, John Dunn and Gordon Bell.

Track Betting Hits Billion Mark 2nd Time

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

For the second straight year racing fans in New York bet more than $1 billion.

The 1961 season in the Empire State, which opened on March 20, ended with a bang Thursday as 59,548 went on a $6,381,123 betting binge at Aqueduct and Roosevelt Raceway. This put the combined total for the thoroughbreds and harness racers at $1,060,998,326 compared to $1,037,105,371 a year ago.

The combined attendance figures also showed an increase with 13,226,758 this year compared to 12,969,404 in 1960.

The wagering statistics overshadowed the actual racing, which saw Manassa Mauler win the $30,700 Queens County Handicap at Aqueduct and Stormy Dream the $25,000 Nassau Pace at Roosevelt.

A crowd of 31,004 bet $3,674,848 at Aqueduct in the afternoon and 28,544 wagered $2,706,275 at night at Roosevelt.

Over-all the breakdown for the year for the flats was $544,208,235 bet by 5,729,901 and for the trotters $516,790,071 by 7,496,857.

New York fans who can't wait until next March 20 now will have to travel to Narragansett Park in Rhode Island, where closing day is Dec. 9, or to Pimlico in Baltimore.

Packers Respect Giants But Aim for Win Sunday

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers concede high respect for the New York Giants, but little else. The Western Division leaders think their Eastern rivals are no tougher than many other National Football League clubs.

"New York can't be any rougher than most of the others we meet throughout the season," said Coach Vince Lombardi. "Sure, the Giants are very strong. But so are the Lions, the Rams, the Colts and others. They're all rough."

Lombardi managed a few relaxed chuckles Thursday after a workout attended by several standouts who missed early week practice sessions because of injuries and an outbreak of flu. Only veteran defensive tackle Dave Hanner and Green Bay's trio of Army privates were missing.

The leaders of the West and East place 9-2 records on the line Sunday in a showdown at Milwaukee County Stadium, the Packers' home-away-from-home 125 miles south of Green Bay. The Packers hold a 2½ game lead in their division, while the Giants are in a battle in the East, holding only a game margin on Philadelphia.

Noting that New York must move to a meeting with the Eagles at Philadelphia a week from Sunday, Lombardi said:

"They've got to win this one and it should be interesting. Because of their position and schedule, the Giants have a little bit more going for them. But our fellows don't know the meaning of the word quit and we'll be ready for them."

Cleveland Pipers Retain Slim Lead

The Cleveland Pipers used a third-quarter scoring surge and a skimpy schedule to strengthen their fingernail hold on first place in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball League.

The Piper scoring burst propelled them past Kansas City 109-[illegible] night and gave them a half-game lead over Pittsburgh. The Pipers entered the game—only action in the league Thursday night — leading Pittsburgh by .018 percentage points but even in games behind.

Cleveland struck for 33 points in the third period, 12 of them by Rossie Johnson, in forging an 81-70 lead.

Ellenville Lists Rosters, Schedule

Ellenville Central School cagers are slated to start their season tonight at New Paltz. Coach Ralf Kates has captain Alan Tennenbaum, Steve Glusker, Richard Shore, Frank Muller, Bruce Bowler returning from last year's squad.

Newcomers are Arnold Crawley, Ken Sinick, Gary Pomeroy and Bob Warren. They're up from the jayvee ranks.

December Bows On Warm Trend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A warming trend ushered in the month of December today, with temperatures moderating to seasonably cool to mild levels.

Freezing weather was reported in only a relatively small part of the country, including New England, the extreme porth central Plains and sections of the middle and south Atlantic Coast states.

A broad belt of southerly winds fanned warm gulf air from Texas and the Lower Mississippi Valley northward to the southern Great Lakes region and Upper Mississippi Valley.

Mild Pacific air flowing eastward across the Rocky Mountains resulted in the familiar Chinook effect as warm winds moving down the eastern slopes brought sharply rising temperatures to Montana and some areas in Wyoming and Colorado.

There were only a few wet spots but skies were cloudy in many sections.

Judge Figures 'No Payoff' Is Stiff Sentence

DETROIT (AP)—A man called a Detroit bar and gave Norbert Palin the horses he wanted to bet. Palin wrote it down.

All three horses won and the payoff was worth more than $400.

But the caller still lost, Palin, a policeman, was in the bar to arrest the owner, Damon Fender, 36.

Fender was convicted of engaging in an illegal occupation and released with a suspended sentence. Recorder's Court Judge John Ricca said he figured it would be a fitting punishment for Fender to have to explain to the caller why he won't collect.

Bear Hunt Formed But Bruin Absent

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)— A big bear hunt within sight of this city's skyline has turned up nothing more than five rabbits, a few field mice and a turkey hen and gobbler and their brood of 14.

After reliable reports indicated the sighting of a black bear near Deepwater Terminal within the city limits, a bear hunt was quickly formed Thursday that included hunters and dogs from as far as 100 miles away.

All day the men talked excitedly of guns, good and bad hounds and what it was like to hunt bear in Alaska. And all day the hounds sniffed and waded, paddled and pawed around the terminal area.

But at sundown the talk turned to warm rooms, dry feet and hot baths. The fact of the matter was that the bear just wasn't there.

Richmond's big bear hunt came to an end. And nobody said much about a second one.

Aftermath of Interview

Soviet Paper Claims JFK Suffering From Political Delusions

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet newspaper Literature and Life said today President Kennedy was suffering from "political delusions" when he told the editor of Izvestia that the Soviet Union wants to communize the world.

Literature and Life said this was one of "a number of quite unfounded and simply incorrect propositions" which the President made in his interview with Alexei Adznubei.

It was the first official Soviet comment on the interview.

Although Literature and Life expressed criticism, it nevertheless said "it was a useful dialogue—it was a necessary one."

The criticism of Kennedy began like this:

"However, one must note the political delusions of Mr. President who decided to come up with a number of quite unfounded and simply incorrect propositions to Soviet readers who can very well tell the difference between white and black, who can compare facts and draw correct conclusions from them.

"What, for instance, is the value of Mr. President's assertion that the Soviet Union is striving to 'communize the world'?"

"Yes," Literature and Life continued, "the bright idea of communism is marching victoriously over the entire world. Yes, the exampie of the Soviet Union inspires and will inspire countries and nations.

"But that is a result of justice, of strength and the irresistible attractions of ideas of communism for peoples who are under the yoke of colonialism and not to the 'efforts' of the U.S.S.R. to 'communize the world.'"

The paper also criticized Kennedy for suggesting that the Soviet people do not have "freedom of choice" as regards political views.

Declares Soviet Missile Program Advances Faster

RUSTON, La. (AP)—A former German army guided missile expert says the "Russians will be able to intercept and shoot down our satellites within a few years, but we will not be able to shoot down theirs."

Dr. Walter Dornberger, former major general and commissioner for the German Reich for all guided missiles, addressed the aerospace education symposium at Louisiana Tech Thursday night. He said he based his predictions on the Soviet rate of development as opposed to the American rate.

Dornberger, vice president and chief scientist for Bell Aerospace System Co., said the Soviet satellite program is advancing more rapidly than that of the United States.
